Prepared by The Office of Statistics and Survey

TED W. WILLIAMS, Director

MRS. LAFATA LUSK, Office Secretary

MRS. AVENELLE KING, Office Secretary

The following information was supplied by the clerks of the eighty (80) Baptist Associations in North Carolina. We greatly appreciate the faithful service they have rendered in compiling the statistical data. These reports are based on the associational year, and the financial figures are not the same as those based on the calendar year reported by our Convention business office.

Items marked (*) give latest data available.

Items marked () give total expenditures.

Churches not reporting: Indicated by (1), (2), or (3)

(1) First year not reporting—previous year's report will be carried, except for baptisms, additions by letter, number of missions operated by church, and Vacation Bible School enrollment.

(2) Second consecutive year not reporting—latest total membership only will be carried.

(3) Third consecutive (and subsequent) year not reporting—no figures carried, but will be counted as a church. (A church will be counted until verification is received from the association that a subject church has been disaffiliated from said association.)

Auditor's Statement

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE
GENERAL BOARD OF THE
BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION OF NORTH CAROLINA
RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheet of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina as of December 31, 1971 and the related statements of income and changes in fund balances for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. The statements, which are a part of this report show the condition of the General, Education and Social Service Institutions Funds at December 31, 1971, and the results of the income and expenses for the year then ended. The statements of the North Carolina Baptist Assembly, the Fruitland Baptist Conference Center and the Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute cover the operations for the period of twelve months ended December 31, 1971, and, in addition, give a reconciliation of cash. The funds shown as sent direct are taken from reports received by the Convention and were not otherwise verified by us.

All recorded cash receipts were found to be promptly deposited in the bank and disbursements were supported by cancelled checks, invoices or other evidence, with expenses properly classified. Our examination did not disclose any evidence of irregularities and we believe the funds have been carefully and honestly handled and accounted for.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and statements of income and expenses and fund balances present fairly the financial position of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina at December 31, 1971, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to such organizations, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,
A. T. ALLEN & COMPANY

ROBERT PERRY CROUCH

It is an unworthy task for an ordinary person to undertake to adequately bear testimony to the greatness of a man such as Dr. Robert Perry Crouch. But, on the other hand, perhaps our own greater limitations serve but to deepen our appreciation for the remarkable achievements of mind and spirit of this esteemed man.

One of the resolutions offered at the time of his death July 18, 1972, spoke of the "Four Square" dimension of his life. Call these as you will, facets or segments or achievements, they speak of a life beautifully proportioned in all of its aspects.

Robert Crouch bore evidence of a deep faith in God. He gave honor to God through his personal life and beliefs. He expressed obedience through the acceptance of his profession as a calling of God to the ministry of healing. He portrayed the spirit of Christ through the incredibly pleasant relationships he established with those with whom he associated day by day. His service through the Church was effective and joyful.

As a physician and surgeon, Dr. Crouch was held in highest regard by both peer and patient alike. In preparation for his career, he spared no effort or time or hardship to bring himself to the highest degree of proficiency. Once this was attained, he gave equal diligence to use all of his skills and knowledge both for the healing of his patients and the continuing development of the medical profession. An enumeration of his extracurricular services would be most extended.

In the same spirit, but in an entirely different area, Robert Crouch demonstrated an unusual degree of responsibility as a good citizen of his community and country. From 1965-1971 he served as an elected official of the City Government of Asheville. He was returned to office on one occasion when all other members were removed by the election of the opposite party. As a member of the City Council, he added a degree of dignity and stature to the office that will be a challenge to all who hold this office in the future. Earlier in 1955 to 1957 he served as Officer in charge of Anatomy and Physiology Section of the School of Aviation Medicine, Gunter Air Force Base, Alabama.

In an equal manner, Dr. Crouch excelled in his role of husband and father. Having descended from a family where love and devotion were outstanding characteristics, he brought into his own family a spirit of kindness, joy of association, and concern for each other that was a joy to behold. Providing for, guiding, inspiring, disciplining, and challenging five energetic, intelligent, healthy children was a responsibility for which he seemed to have an equal share of grace and ability. He was exceptionally blessed with a lovely wife, Betty Ann Dover Crouch.

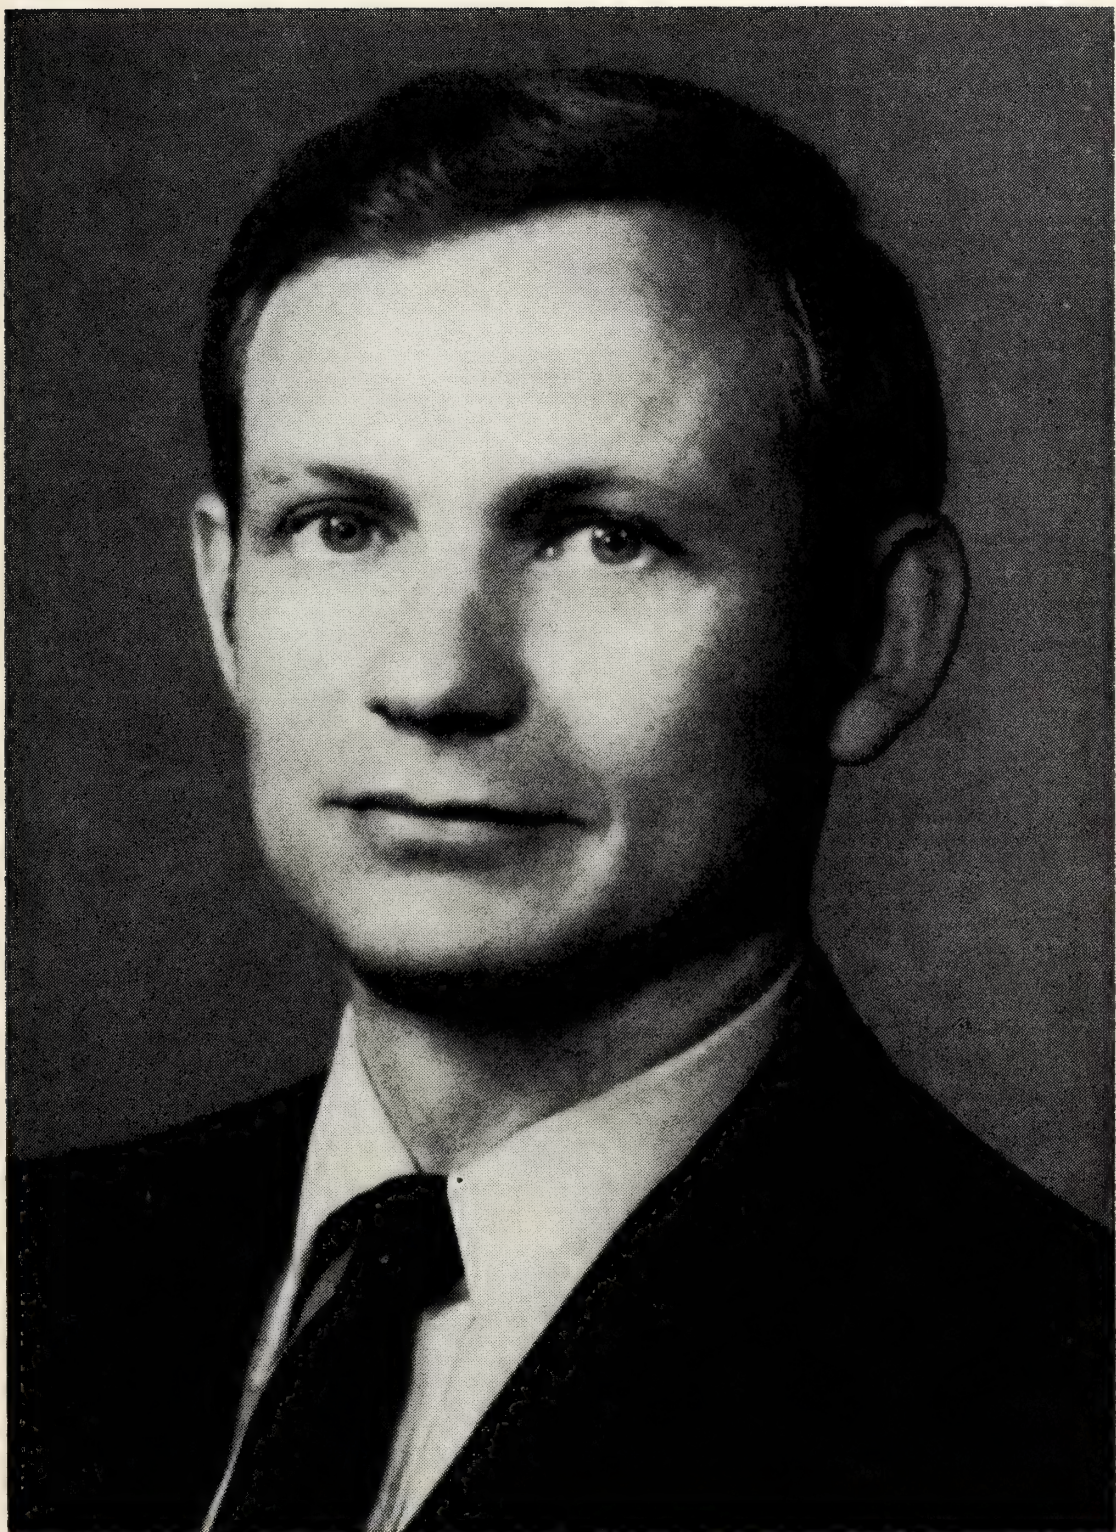

Dr. Robert Crouch was born in Fort Worth, Texas, February 13, 1930, while his father, Dr. W. Perry Crouch, was attending Southwestern Seminary. He attended public schools in Raleigh and Fayetteville and graduated from high school in Asheville.

In 1951 Dr. Crouch graduated from Wake Forest College and received the M.D. degree from Bowman Gray School of Medicine in 1954. He interned at Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem from 1954 until 1955 and continued at the Hospital as Assistant Resident in Surgery. From 1959 until 1961 he was Chief Resident in Cardiovascular and General Surgery. He also served on the teaching staff of Bowman Gray School of Medicine as Assistant Professor of Surgery and Clinical Surgery. During the time of his service as a physician, Dr. Crouch was affiliated with no less than nineteen professional societies and boards.

It is doubtful that the loss of any one individual will be felt more keenly in hometown or state for many years to come. The life of Dr. Crouch might well be summed up in this expression of a friend and fellow physician:

"The ordinary mortal may live twice as long and yet help our fellowman only half as much."

RALPH ALDERMAN HERRING

RALPH ALDERMAN HERRING

Friends said of him: "His was a faithful and distinguished ministry in a wide range of fields. He was a gifted man of broad vision, deep commitment and wide usefulness — One of the largest in spiritual stature."

He was a preacher, pastor, denominational servant, author, traveler, and leader in Adult Theological Education.

Dr. Herring was born in Pender County, North Carolina, August 18, 1901, while his missionary parents, Rev. and Mrs. David Wells Herring, were on furlough. He lived in China until age twelve.

He was educated in Buie's Creek Academy (now Campbell College); Wake Forest College, B.A. 1921; and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., Th.M. 1925; Ph.D. 1929.

In 1925 Dr. Herring married Miss Willeen Tull, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Tull. Their children are: Ralph A. Herring, Jr., artist, Mooresville, N. C.; Dr. David Herring, physicist, La Jolla, California; Dr. Jackson Herring, physicist, Boulder, Colorado; and Mrs. Margaret McSurely, housewife, Arlington, Va. They were the proud grandparents of ten grandsons.

At the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary Dr. Herring was known as a brilliant student. He never ceased to study. He remained a life-long scholarly student of the Bible and related books. His most treasured possession was his Greek New Testament, which he read daily and carried with him wherever he traveled. Few Baptist ministers excelled him in Greek scholarship.

There is no doubt a definite link between his study of Greek and his predominantly expository sermons for which he was known. His chief aim as preacher was to "Preach the Word." And from whatever portion of the Bible his text was chosen he "made lucid the priceless."

Dr. Herring held three pastorates: Crestwood, Ky., 1924-1929; First Baptist Church, Ashland, Ky., 1929-1936; First Baptist Church, Winston-Salem, N. C., 1936-1961. As pastor he sought to give his people spiritual food and help them grow into well - rounded Christian maturity and into the likeness of Christ. At the same time his appeal was ever to those without Christ.

A deep and prayerful interest in former pastorates and their present pastors continued with him always. Dr. Randall Lolley, pastor of First Baptist Church, Winston-Salem, said of him: "Every young minister in his lifetime needs one strong predecessor — a man who towers tall, thinks deeply, loves God and man profoundly — a friend who is there when needed, a counselor who understands and appreciates, a true fellow - laborer who has passed the torch and trusted his successor with a huge chunk of his life work. For me, Ralph A. Herring was that man."

During his Winston-Salem pastorate he became recognized as "One of North Carolina's most influential leaders, with fine leadership qualities that extended to the Southern Baptist Convention and beyond."

His denominational assignments included: two terms as President of the N. C. Baptist Convention; one term as Second Vice-President of the Southern Baptist Convention; six years as a member of the Foreign Mission Board, and various terms as trustee of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest College, Campbell College, and Southeastern Seminary.

Dr. Herring became widely known throughout the Southern Baptist Convention through his publications. Besides numerous texts and articles, he was author of four books: Studies in Philippians, God Being My Helper, The Cycle of Prayer, and The Profile of Christian Experience.

His keen and vital interest in the Mission cause was second nature with him. In 1949 and 1959, under the auspices of the Foreign Mission Board, he went on speaking trips to South America and Mexico. In 1956 he participated in the Hong-Kong — Macao Crusade and in 1963 in the New Life Movement in Japan and Taiwan. In 1959 he visited the Bible Lands.

From 1961-1968 Dr. Herring was director of Seminary Extension for the six Southern Baptist Seminaries with offices in the Southern Baptist Convention Building, Nashville, Tenn. To this work he gave himself with diligence and devotion. His successor, Dr. Raymond Rigdon, wrote of him: "Under his able leadership the geographical bounds of Seminary Extension were extended into all sections of the United States and several foreign countries."

After retiring to Charlotte he and Mrs. Herring joined the First Baptist Church, but he was constantly busy filling outside engagements and serving interim pastorates.

One Southern Baptist leader summed up his life this way: "For more than forty years he has been one of our 'choicest' of all preachers of the Word that we have known. His warm heart of compassion, his deep personal commitment, his 'sure word of prophecy', his clear grasp of the meaning of the Word, his simple proclamation so that all might understand, and 'his modesty of a great spirit' all combined to make him one of the truly great representatives of our Blessed Lord."

The last sermon Dr. Herring preached in Columbus, Ohio, three days before entering the hospital, was called "Walking with God." He had lived the sermon he preached. In a few brief weeks, on July 2, 1972, he finished his earth-walk and was at home with the Lord.

HUBERT E. OLIVE, SR.

By any standard with which a man can be measured — from physical size to spiritual commitment — Hubert Olive was a “big” man. His massive six-foot frame stood on a size fourteen shoe and his deep, resonant voice could easily compete with a fog-horn. As Mrs. Olive once said, “There are two things Hubert can’t do—tip-toe nor whisper.” But, the real measure of Hubert Olive was not from without but within—his great intellect, his great heart, his character, integrity, and Christian commitment.

Judge Olive was born in Randleman to Andrew Jackson and Emma Beckwith Olive in 1895. He was educated in the public schools of Thomasville. He was a graduate of Mars Hill and Wake Forest Colleges. He served in the armed forces in France during World War I and following the war continued his studies at the University of Toulouse in France.

In 1920 he moved to Lexington where he practiced Law from 1920 to 1937 and from 1947-1955. In 1921 he married Miss Anne Southerland of Henderson. Three children have blessed their home: Virginia (Mrs. Louis Hartzog), Charlotte Anne (deceased), and Hubert, Jr. Their home of love was housed within a stone’s throw of the present First Baptist Church, in and through which he served for so many years.

Judge Olive was one of the most able and honored members of the Lexington Bar and one of the city’s most distinguished citizens. He was a member of the North Carolina House of Representatives from Davidson County in 1933. In 1934-35 he served as Department Commander for the State of North Carolina American Legion. He was Chairman of the State Board of Elections from 1947-49. From 1937-47 he served as Judge of the Superior Court. In 1955 he returned to the bench and served with distinction until his retirement. He was a Democratic candidate for Governor in 1952, suffering a narrow defeat by the late William Umstead.

His was a life-long commitment to First Baptist Church, Lexington. As deacon, teacher, committeeman in various capacities, he was not only able but always willing to serve the cause of Christ. He was teacher of a men’s Bible class for forty years. Since 1955 the class has borne the name “Olive” in recognition of his devoted service. He served several different times as Chairman of the deacons of First Baptist Church.

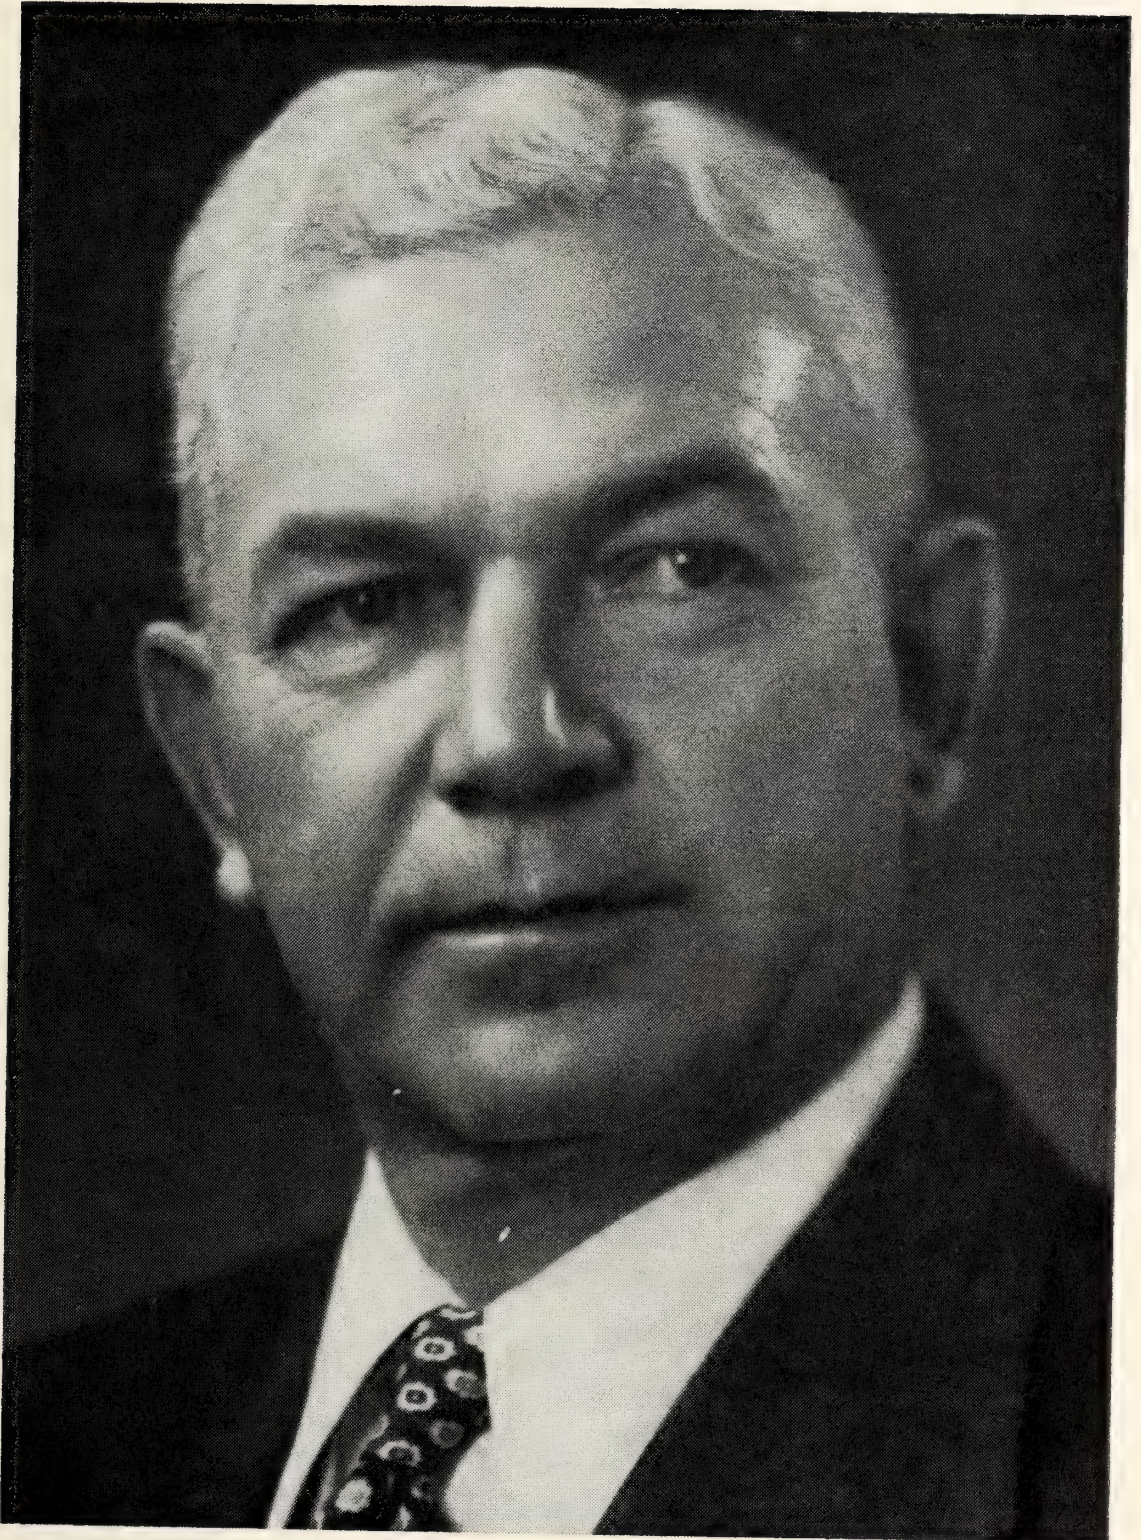

Perhaps the greatest contribution to denominational life was his service to his beloved Alma Mater, Wake Forest. For many years he served as trustee and was chairman of that body for six terms. He was also President of the General Alumni Association and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees several years.

Through the years his interest in and his zeal for this institution was marked by the same enthusiasm, determination and dedication that he had shown, years before, in defending her honor on the gridiron.

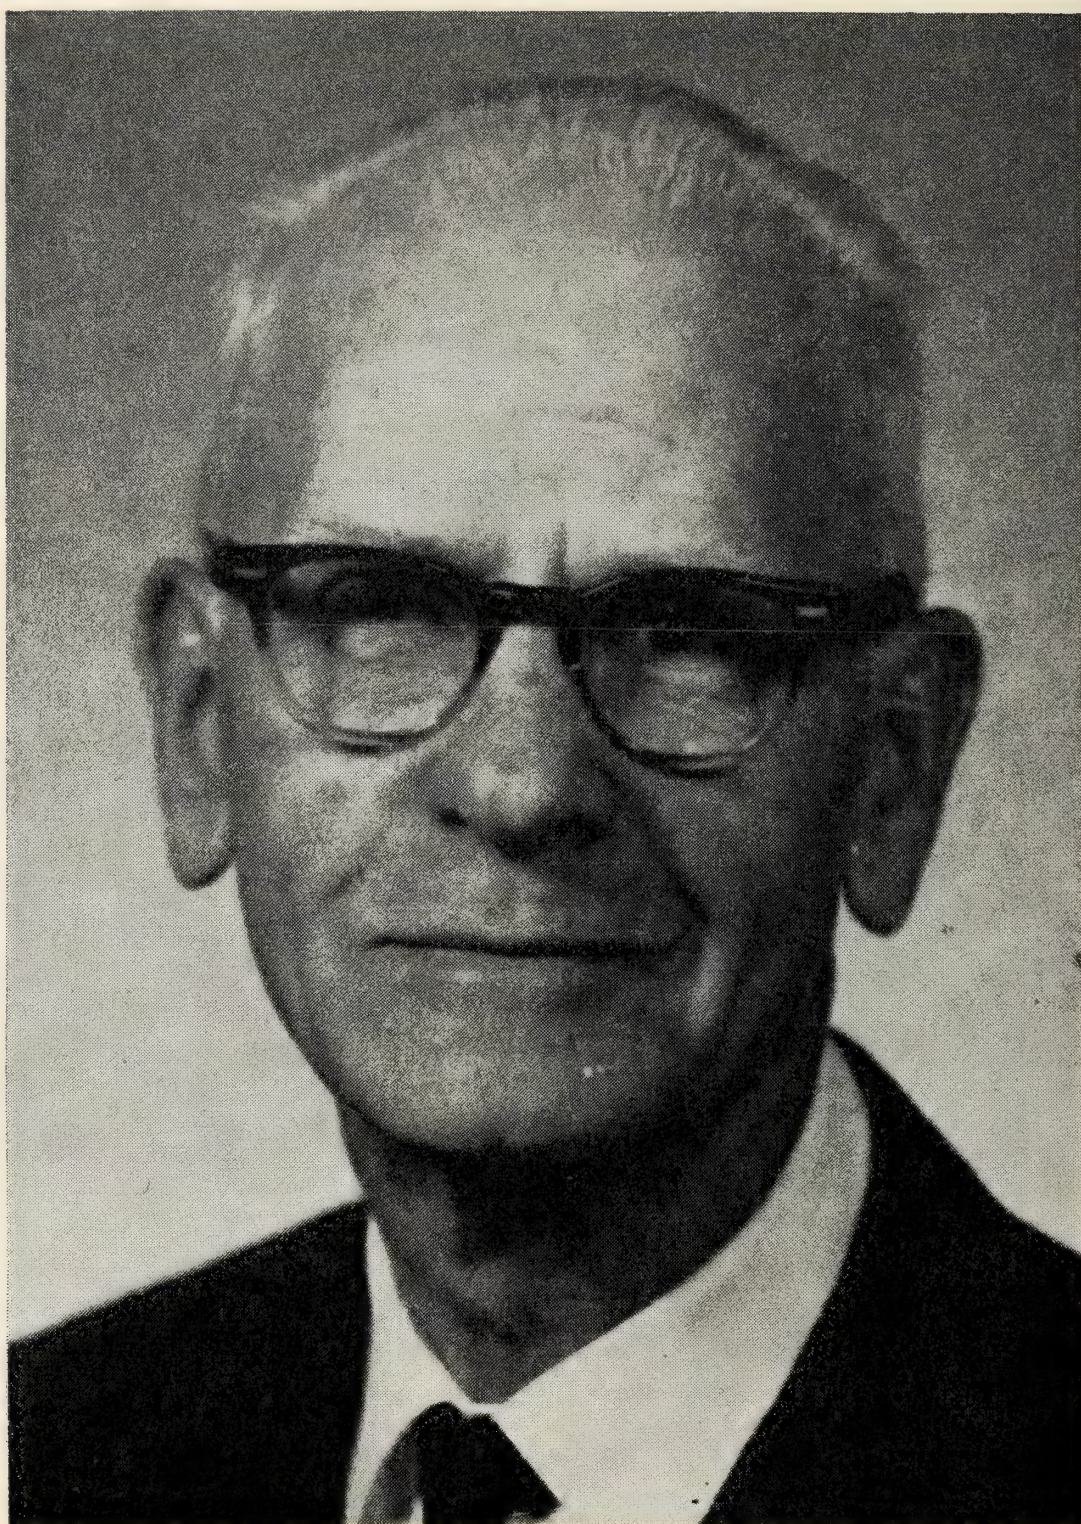

Hubert Olive died suddenly in Pinehurst, North Carolina, while attending a meeting of North Carolina Jurists on March 5, 1972.

“ . . . there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous Judge shall give me at that day . . . ” (II Timothy 4:8)

DANIEL HENSON SHORT

DANIEL HENSON SHORT

The beginning of his life was in Anson County, with the end of his earthly pilgrimage coming in High Point, N. C. With Paul he could say, "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith, I have finished my course" (II Tim. 4:7). However, his works follow him, because his life and influence for our Lord, His Church and His Gospel continue, and will continue until "time shall be no more."

The influence of this humble, dedicated man of God continues in and through his family. There are five children: Frederick William Short, of High Point; Mrs. George (Helen) Morgan, of Santa Cruz, California; Mrs. Charles (Jean) Allen, of Cali, Colombia, South America; Mrs. Grady (Barbara) Nowell, of San Pedro Sula, Honduras, Central America; Timothy Henson Short, of San Jose, California.

These children were brought up in a Christian home, and the church. Each one knows the Lord. The oldest son, William (Bill), is an ordained deacon, and is active in one of the missions of Green Street Baptist Church. The oldest daughter, Helen, has served as deaconess in her Baptist church in California. Two daughters, Jean and Barbara, are foreign missionaries, Southern Baptist Convention. Timothy, the youngest, lives and serves in California. The mother of these children, Mrs. Addie Williams Short, was active in all the church life, with her husband, and served for over a decade as W.M.U. President. Dan Short served as deacon, from the beginning, being a charter member of the church. His life was one of faithfulness to the Lord and His Church, and he served in practically every position in the church, having the confidence of the people. Throughout this city Dan H. Short was known as a churchman, whose life was true to the Lord in all areas, and thus his influence was great in his church and community.

There is the influence of his example in the community, for all who knew Dan Short say he was a man of his word, a man to whom men listened — one of those quiet men who talked very little but did so much in his community.

There is the influence of his business. With A. Glenn Draughan, his brother-in-law, Piedmont Electric Repair Company, Inc. of High Point was begun in a small room, and has grown until today it is one of the most successful businesses in the city, and covers the large part of a city block, and into this business Dan Short and Glenn Draughan brought their eldest sons, who now are a vital part of the company.

Dan Short was married to Addie Williams, the mother of his five children, who went home to be with the Lord some years before him. He later married Mrs. Lottie Morgan Smith, who survives him, and is the mother of one son, Jeddie Smith.

Dan H. Short gave his heart to Jesus Christ, and grew in his Christian life through the years. A man of God, quiet, dedicated, disciplined, doing the will of God. He was always faithful, and this quiet man never talked about his many good deeds to help and encourage others. As a deacon in Lexington Avenue Baptist Church, he was a charter member when it was organized February 10, 1929 as North Park Baptist Church in High Point. From Mrs. Short came the motion in church conference that saw the church purchase property on East Lexington Avenue, and how happy they were when the church moved to its new location July 4, 1948.

Dan Short was made a deacon, and served faithfully. When age slowed him down, he was the first deacon to be elected "deacon emeritus." He was always in his place in Sunday School, Training Union, Brotherhood, the choir and as deacon. Always his concern was the glory of God and the good of his church.

Dan Short is the worthy representative of that great host of Baptist men whose glory it is to serve the Lord in their local church, without fanfare, without selfishness, but whose life and influence makes possible the mighty growth and influence of the people called Baptist, and especially the Baptists of the North Carolina State Convention. He is the living example of one who does "justly, loves mercy and walks humbly with his God."

"It is required in stewards that a man be faithful" (I Cor. 4:2). Daniel H. Short was a faithful Christian steward in his home, in his church, in his community, in his business. He gave generously of himself and his means to the glory of God.

W.W.R.

W. HERBERT WEATHERSPOON

"Good and faithful servant" . . . such marks the distinguished life of W. Herbert Weatherspoon, a name deeply enshrined in the religious, business, civic and cultural life of North Carolina. His eighty-eight years were filled with sound and generous contributions of many kinds. Noted for his gentle spirit, sound judgments, clear thinking, wholesome humor, eloquence of speech, and deep religious convictions, he enriched the lives of all who knew him.

The high esteem in which Mr. Weatherspoon was held is attested by the tributes expressed upon his passing on August 8 at his vacation home in Morehead City: "He was a personable, gracious man, a faithful churchman, a dedicated civic worker, beloved by a host of friends," wrote the Durham Morning Herald. The Raleigh News and Observer wrote, "Herbert Weatherspoon filled a long life with sound and generous efforts. . . . He was a good man whose eighty-eight years of life enriched the lives of many around him." The Raleigh Times observed, "Herbert Weatherspoon had a great many titles after his name. They could be summed up in the one title: Good Citizen." Mr. Edwin Gill, Treasurer, State of North Carolina, observed, "His voice is the voice of reason, of sober second thought; the voice of considered judgment, a good man to listen to in times of crisis."

Born in Durham County in 1884, he was educated in the Cary public schools and worked his way through Wake Forest College, which in 1953, conferred on him the honorary Doctor of Laws degree. Licensed to practice law in 1906 he began a distinguished career in the legal profession that was to last 59 years. He practiced law in Laurinburg from 1907 to 1928 and served in the General Assembly of North Carolina for two regular sessions and one special session between 1911 and 1913. He was also co-publisher of the Laurinburg Exchange newspaper.

In 1928 he moved to Raleigh and practiced law for three years in partnership with Josiah W. Bailey. In 1931 he was named General Counsel of the Carolina Power and Light Company, serving as its Vice-President and chief legal officer continuously until his retirement in 1965. He was a gifted and skilled advocate and was unexcelled in his profession. After his retirement the Carolina Power and Light Company named its Lumberton facility the W. H. Weatherspoon Power Plant in his honor.

Known for his keen intellect, his eloquence in speaking, his strength of character and high standards of personal and professional conduct, his wise leadership was sought throughout the business community. He served on the boards of directors of Carolina Power and Light Company, and of First Federal Savings and Loan Association. He was a past president of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce and the Raleigh Lions Club. Mr. Weatherspoon was also one of the influential leaders in re-locating the YMCA to its enlarged facilities on Hillsborough Street. He served for many years as president and treasurer of the North Carolina Citizens Association, an organization devoted to the betterment of the business, government and public affairs of the State. He was that organization's longest continuous office holder.

For forty-five years he served on the Board of Trustees of Meredith College, filling several terms as its president. He was named the board's only life member and was honored by the college with its distinguished service award. He was a charter member of the Meredith Board of Associates and was instrumental in helping to launch the college's Five Million Dollar Advancement program. He and the family of his brother, the late James R. Weatherspoon, contributed $400,000 to the new physical education center of the college, named the Weatherspoon Building in their honor.

Mr. Weatherspoon's public life was sustained by a deep devotion and untiring service to and through the First Baptist Church of Raleigh. He served as a Sunday School teacher of a young men's Bible Class and later as teacher of an adult men's class. He was a faithful member of the choir for over twenty years. He served as Chairman of the Board of Deacons for several terms and also as Chairman of the church's Board of Trustees, which position he held at the time of his death. He was a Life Deacon of the church. He served as chairman of the Sesqui-centennial Celebration Committee of the church in 1962. Called upon for many other places of service, Mr. Weatherspoon always responded with devotion and joy in service to his Lord and church. He was an enthusiastic supporter of the church's present expansion program. Having no children of his own he took a special interest in the needs and appointments of the Beginner Department where the first Mrs. Weatherspoon, the former Maude Lee of Laurinburg who died in 1960, served as pianist for over twenty-five years.

Friend and counselor to his pastor, highly respected by the entire congregation, his forceful and sound leadership has left a lasting and inspiring example upon the whole membership. He was one of three brothers each of whom made a singular contribution of Christian character and witness to the faith: James R. Weatherspoon, co-founder of Durham Life Insurance Company and Dr. Jesse Burton Weatherspoon, former Professor at Southern and Southeastern Seminaries, all of whom finished their earthly pilgrimage as members of First Baptist Church. Mr. Weatherspoon is survived by his wife, Margaret Calvert Duncan Weatherspoon of the home.

Businessman, humanitarian, philanthropist, civic leader, dedicated Christian layman—W. Herbert Weatherspoon was a convincing witness to his faith and his God in all the relationships and responsibilities of life. His going from us is—

"Like a mighty cedar Gone down upon the hill,
Leaving a lonesome place
Against the sky."

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE REPORT

As we pause to pay tribute to our fellow workers who have passed on into the more real presence of their Lord, we remember the comforting words of scripture: "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them". Many of these friends who have worked with us in the Lord's vineyard have during the past year entered into their heavenly rest and have heard their Lord's gracious words: "Well, done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord".

Today we would honor not only those who served in high positions as pastors, teachers, missionaries, denominational workers, and spiritual leaders, but we would also pay special tribute to many others who labored in humble places, often without recognition, but whose faithfulness made possible the progress we have made in the work of our Lord. These "good stewards of the manifold grace of God" deserve our love and appreciation.

While we miss all of these friends who are absent in the body but at home with the Lord, we would not call them back, but rather we would rededicate ourselves to the unfinished task that the Lord has assigned to us until he calls us to join our beloved friends and co-workers around the Lord's throne where we shall all join together in service and praise forever. Let us labor on faithfully until we can say with the beloved apostle: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge shall give me at that day; and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing".

We recommend that our Convention list the names of all deceased ministers and leaders of our State Baptist Convention for the 1972 Convention year, and that this list be recorded in the Convention annual.

We also recommend that the annual be dedicated to Dr. Ralph Herring, Dr. Robert Crouch, Judge Hubert E. Olive, and Mr. W. H. Weatherspoon.

We also recommend that the list of the deceased ministers and leaders, and the report of the Memorials Committee be placed in the convention annual immediately following the pictures of those to whom the annual is dedicated.

CONSTITUTION

PREAMBLE

For the declaration of its fundamental purposes and the permanent guidance and control of its activities, the body does adopt the following as its Constitution, to wit:

ARTICLE I. Name

The name of this body is the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

ARTICLE II. Purposes

The object of this Convention shall be to promote missions, evangelism, education, social services, the distribution of the Bible and sound religious literature, and to co-operate with the work of the Southern Baptist Convention.

ARTICLE III. Authority

While independent and sovereign in its own sphere, the Convention does not claim and will never attempt to exercise any authority over any other Baptist body, whether church, auxiliary organization, association, or Convention.

ARTICLE IV. Composition

The Convention shall be composed of

(1) Two messengers from each co-operating church, and one additional messenger from each church for every hundred members or major fraction thereof, beyond the first one hundred members; provided, that no church shall be entitled to more than ten messengers. No one shall be a messenger who is not a member of a church co-operating with the Convention, and messengers must be duly elected by their churches; a co-operating church shall be one that supports any object of the Convention and which is in friendly cooperation with this Convention and sympathetic with its purpose and work; and (2) The officers of the Convention, the members of the General Board, the editor of the Biblical Recorder, and the President of the Woman's Missionary Union.

ARTICLE V. Meetings

The Convention shall convene annually on Monday after the second Sunday in November at 7:00 p.m. In case of emergency or unusual circumstances the General Board is empowered to change the time or place of meeting, cancel the sessions of the Convention, or call a special meeting by a vote of two-thirds of the members present when the vote is taken.

ARTICLE VI. Officers

The officers of the Convention shall be a President, a First Vice-President, a Second Vice-President, a Recording Secretary, an Assistant Recording Secretary, a General Secretary-Treasurer, three Trustees, and a Parliamentarian. The terms of the President, the Vice-Presidents, Recording Secretary, Assistant Recording Secretary, Trustees and the Parliamentarian shall commence at the conclusion of the annual session at which they are elected and continue until the close of the next annual session of the Convention. The President and Vice-Presidents may not be elected for more than two consecutive terms. The election of all officers subject to annual election shall be on the afternoon of the first full day of the annual Convention, but the elections may be completed, if necessary, on the morning of the second full day. A vacancy in any of the above-mentioned offices, except that of President, occurring between sessions of the Convention may be filled by the General Board; such vacancies in the presidency shall be filled by the Vice-Presidents succeeding to the office in order of their rank.

a. In case of a vacancy in the office of General Secretary-Treasurer, the General Board shall nominate a man to the Convention to fill this office.

b. Opportunity shall be given to receive additional nominations from the floor of the Convention.

c. The man receiving the majority of votes cast shall be declared elected.

Upon election, the General Secretary-Treasurer shall hold office for an indefinite period, with voluntary retirement at age 65. He may continue on a year-by-year basis after review by the Executive Committee, with automatic retirement at age 68; retirement to take effect upon December 31 of the year in which he retires.

C., and of the North American Baptist Women's Alliance, addressed the Convention on the subject "The Liberation of Women: A Christian View." ments about freedom and slavery in John 8:34-38, and with Paul's statements in Galatians 5:1, 13-14. The pathway to freedom, according to Paul, requires acknowledgment of the complete Lordship of Jesus Christ in our lives, which means specifically a commitment to a life of Christian love guided by the Holy Spirit, and a renunciation of all other pathways toward this freedom.

23. President Thomas M. Freeman, Dunn, delivered his President's Address, entitled "The Challenge of the 1970's for the Baptists of North Carolina," based on Joshua 17:14-18, in which Joshua challenged the tribe of Joseph to act like the great people they claimed to be. He applied this to North Carolina Baptists, a people richly blessed of God who now must ask whether we are truly seizing the opportunities before us in our time. We must turn ourselves from the things that divide us and from the pride that would vitiate our efforts. We must solve the problem of doctrinal unity, specifically in regard to believer's baptism by immersion. He proposed that instead of a Constitutional amendment we should pass a strong resolution directing the powerful moral influence of the Convention to the churches, thus putting the Convention on record in a positive and unmistakable way and then turning our energies to the realm of evangelism and missions in "Key '73" and in the "Together We Advance" program which now could mean so much in our basic task. We must also show ourselves to be a great people in the way we face the opportunities of our institutions, including the fine recommendations of the Committee of 15. We need to renew our fellowship as a great people, redoubling our efforts to do the task Christ has given us to do. If you are a great people, stand up and show it. I believe you are, and you will.

24. The benediction for the Monday evening meeting was pronounced by Waldo Early, Sr., Clinton.

TUESDAY MORNING

28. Joseph O. Stroud, Raleigh, introduced the period of worship and led the Convention in singing "We're Marching to Zion."

29. J. P. Allen, Director of Audience Response for the Southern Baptist Convention Radio and Television Commission in Fort Worth, Texas, led the Convention in the first of a series of four devotional meditations. The topic for the first message was "The Strong Words of the Gospel." He began by stressing the importance of words in the understanding of the Word. Using a mimeographed sheet as an aid to the listener, he dealt with the Greek terms agônizomai, to put forth an earnest effort; epistêthi, be ready; spondazomai, give diligence; gymnazô, exercise yourself; and hupôpiazô, the knockout blow. All of these call for inner discipline—not prison bars but structural steel.

Whereas, the U. S. Congress will consider sweeping tax reforms in 1973 as contained in identical bills, H.R. 15230 and S 3657, and

Whereas, Section 312 of this bill will eliminate deductions on gifts to charities, including churches, and Section 306 will eliminate tax exemptions on housing for ministers, and

Whereas, extensive Congressional hearings have been tentatively scheduled on these bills early next year,

(1) that this convention go on record as opposing Sections 312 and 306 of the "Tax Policy Review Act of 1972;"

(2) that we request the President and the General Secretary-Treasurer of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina to cooperate with others so that the concern of North Carolina Baptists may be expressed when these hearings are held;

(3) that this Convention communicate its action on this matter to the framers of these bills, i.e., Congressman Wilbur Mills and Senator Mike Mansfield, and also to each individual Senator and Congressman from North Carolina.

(4) that we urge individuals and churches to communicate their concern about these sections to their Congressman and Senators in Washington; and

64. Donald G. Myers, Reidsville, offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, which, after being seconded, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

Whereas, we are witnessing the opening of more retail stores on Sunday and noting that more and more of our people are being asked to work in stores and factories on Sunday; and

Whereas, we are seeing a gradual eroding of the concept of Sunday as primarily a day of rest and worship; and

Whereas, we feel that America is badly drifting in the direction of a commercialized Lord's Day; and

Whereas, we fear the failure to "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy" (Exodus 20:8) will result in the loss of this precious gift of needed rest and change of pace and will result in personal and community ills and the withholding of God's blessings upon us:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the North Carolina Baptist State Convention at this annual session reaffirm its commitment to Sunday as being a day different and designed for the recreation of spirit, mind, and body; and

ple of Article VIII of the Articles of Faith commonly held by Southern Baptists, which reads:

The first day of the week is the Lord's Day. It is a Christian institution for regular observance. It commemorates the resurrection of Christ from the dead and should be employed in exercises of worship and spiritual devotion, both public and private, and by refraining from worldly amusements, and resting from secular employments, work of necessity and mercy only being excepted.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we urge all Baptists and fellow Christians to curtail all business and buying on Sunday as much as they can, and that we commend those merchants and places of business and industry who do not open on Sunday; and

BE IT EVEN FURTHER RESOLVED that we ask the Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs to study this large and complicated problem and if they think wise to call for a State-wide referendum on the conduct of business on man's needed day of rest.

The motion was seconded. President Freeman announced that it had already been determined that action on this motion would take place at the time of Miscellaneous Business at 10:55 on Wednesday morning.

68. Thomas M. Denton, Rocky Mount, offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, which, after being seconded, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

Whereas, Juvenile Delinquency is recognized as a major problem in our society that often leads to increased anti-social behavior and a life of crime, and

Whereas, the State of North Carolina operates eight residential schools for juvenile delinquents through the North Carolina Department of Youth Development (formerly, the North Carolina Board of Juvenile Correction), and

Whereas, it is the purpose of this Department to offer a healthy program of social rehabilitation through educational, psychological, sociological, and religious means to all young people committed to these Youth Development Schools, and

Whereas, the Department of Youth Development has stated in its 1970 Biennial Report that the program of Juvenile Correction "will be substantially strengthened and refined when each of its eight schools is provided with a full-time chaplain," and

Whereas, up until this time the General Assembly of North Carolina has failed to provide funds for the employment of such chaplains,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED

(1) that the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina meeting in session in Winston-Salem, North Carolina on November 13-15, 1972 go on record as urging the North Carolina General Assembly to appropriate budgetary funds to provide a full-time chaplain in each of these eight residential schools for juvenile delinquents;

(2) that the General Secretary-Treasurer of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina send a copy of this Resolution to all members of the General Assembly of North Carolina; and

69. Coy C. Privette, Kannapolis, offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, which, after being seconded, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

Whereas, the needless destruction of human life in any manner is a moral problem of great magnitude;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Baptist State Convention, meeting in Winston-Salem on this November 14, 1972 go on record as endorsing the LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS PERTAINING TO HIGHWAY SAFETY adopted and being promulgated by the Christian Action League of North Carolina—namely:

(2) The repeal of the Senate Bill 110 in regard to issuing limited driving permits to persons who have been convicted of the first offense of driving under the influence of alcohol.

(3) Modify the present implied consent law to allow pre-arrest breath tests, protecting innocent citizens from overzealous law enforcement officials.

(4) Increase the minimum penalties for those convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol and especially for repeaters.

(5) Make it a misdemeanor for driving when the breathalyzer reads between .05 and .10.

92. Cecil E. Sherman, Asheville, preached the Convention Sermon. He spoke concerning the practice of fragging, which means soldiers attacking their own officers instead of the enemy. He said we have been engaged in infighting for at least fifteen years, first concerning dancing, then federal aid, and now a particular interpretation of the mode of baptism. He said that we are in great need of identifying the real enemy, and this enemy is first of all the residue of the old man causing many among us to engage in power struggles under the banner of various doctrinal positions. The enemy is, in the second place, the world and all that's in it. It's harder to be good when you're rich than it is when you're poor, and we as a denomination have only recently become prosperous. Our bigness and our richness are enemies, and many people who work in our institutions and in our churches have been secularized to a remarkable degree. The enemy, in the third place, is the time limitation which is the human condition. Most of us will no longer be involved in this Convention forty years from now, and there is no way that we can determine now what form the Convention will then take. We shouldn't waste our time trying, because we have our own tasks to do today, doing what Christ commanded us to do in this moment.

98. J. P. Allen, Fort Worth, Texas, presented the second of his four devotional meditations. The topic for this message was "Tender Virtues from Tough Men." He dealt with the indispensability of right words, rightness often expressed in subtleties. The well-known triad of faith, hope, and love can thus be delineated by three significant words. The first is praüs, meekness, which is best understood when one uses it to refer to a beast that has not been broken but has been brought under control. The second is metamorphosis, transformation, which is used in Romans 12:2 and then expounded in the remaining verses of the chapter where the emphasis is on the practicabilities of daily life. The third is katartizô, to restore, to mend, to equip, to perfect, or to join perfectly.

118. Carlos Young, Shelby, offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, which after being seconded, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

Whereas, one of the main goals in Kindergartens and Early Childhood Education is to develop a good self-image in each child and we North Carolinians agree and recognize that the human potential of our young is our greatest resource, and

Whereas, the child's brain grows at a tremendous rate during the pre-school age, and never again will his mind, his character, and his spirit advance as rapidly as in this formative pre-school period, and never again will there be an equal opportunity to lay the foundations of mental health, and

Whereas, the goal of the State Department of Public Instruction is to have every five-year old enrolled in public kindergartens which are an integral part of the tax supported school systems in all communities in North Carolina by 1977,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, in session at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, November 13-15, 1972,

(1) that Governor James Holshouser, Lieutenant Governor James Hunt and Dr. Craig Phillips, the Superintendent of Public Instruction be encouraged by this Convention to put the establishment of public kindergartens for all five year old children in North Carolina as a top priority item in their budget, and

(2) that this Convention encourage our Baptist people to contact members of The General Assembly from their respective districts to use their influence to see that Kindergartens are made a top priority item in the budget that they approve, and

(3) that messengers to this Convention will covenant together to use their different abilities both individually and collectively to hasten the day when all five year old children are enrolled in public supported kindergartens.

119. Woodrow W. Robbins, High Point, offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, which, after being seconded, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

Whereas, our society is a pluralistic society, in which people of many religious backgrounds live together in harmony, because of the principle of the separation of church and state; and

Whereas, the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," sets forth this principle of the separation of church and state; and

Whereas, the Fourteenth Amendment applies the religious clauses of the First Amendment to the fifty states, and this 14th Amendment reads:

No state shall make or enforce any law which will abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction equal protection of laws; and

Whereas, this principle of the separation of church and state has been under strong attack in this generation by groups who seek tax money for their religious and private schools; and

Whereas, the President of the United States has openly declared on numerous occasions that he will seek tax money (gathered from all citizens of all religious persuasions) for church schools, in direct violation of the First Amendment of the Constitution; and

Whereas, the public schools of this state, and of the nation, desperately need more money, and this money can only come from the tax payers; and

Whereas, the tax burden upon our citizens is far too great;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina meeting in their 142nd session,

(1) that we strongly reject any attempt to take the tax money, gathered from all citizens of all religious convictions, and give it to private and/or religious schools; and

(2) that we urge our President to resist all attempts to go around the Constitution, and give up any attempt to use tax money for private and/or religious schools; and

(3) that we urge the Congress of the United States to resist any and all pressure groups who bring demands for tax money for private and/or religious schools, and to strongly uphold the principle of the separation of church and state, and vote tax money for the public schools of our nation, and only the public schools.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President and to the members of Congress from North Carolina.

120. John Pierczynski, Charlotte, offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, which, after being seconded, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions even though it was not in proper form as a resolution, and came from a church instead of an individual messenger:

College Park Baptist Church in a special business session does request that the following resolution be presented to the Baptist State Convention to be held at Winston-Salem, North Carolina in November of 1972:

College Park Baptist Church does resolve that it be placed on public record that the believers in Jesus Christ at College Park Baptist Church are against certain textbooks that are being used and taught in the public school systems of the State of North Carolina, because of their content and attitude toward the Holy Scriptures. That these books are leading astray students who come from Christian homes and specifically Baptist homes who attend the public schools of the State of North Carolina, by false information, by insinuation, by supporting false national heroes, by false teaching the Word of God, by teaching that the white protestant middle class has been and is teaching a wrong set of morals and virtues to their children and has been since the founding of this country. That sex is open and free and that to be modest is a sin and to retain an individual's virtue is also a sin. That certain moneys used to buy books for the education of our children is being used to support the overthrow of our government, because the money is going directly to an organization avowed to this end.

That work is not a virtue except as taught by the white protestant middle class. That pimping, drug addiction, thievery and other associated crimes is a virtue rather than working and going to church. We are against this type of teaching by insinuation, association and other forms devised by persons of unsound judgment, limited mental capacity, and with an avowed purpose to overthrow our form of government.

College Park Baptist Church believes that the North Carolina Baptist State Convention should go on record against this type of teaching, and that a committee be formed to review books sold to the various school districts and to the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction. That this committee should have the power to bring to the proper authorities its feeling about certain books (hard-back, paperback, loose leaf, etc.) and that the power of public opinion should be used to remove these books from the classroom, and bookshelves of the public schools of North Carolina. At this time we refer to the following books which are in use in the public schools as examples:

Perspectives in United States History—American Values, by Norman F. Weaver, which leads astray by false teaching Bible doctrine and to turn against the teachings of the parents and the church. It also sets up a new set of world and national heroes such as Eldridge Cleaver, Karl Marx, Eugene Debs. 11th Grade, American History—North Mecklenburg High School, Charlotte, N. C.

The Autobiography of Malcolm X—Assisted by Alex Haley, where street pimping, gambling, drug use and assorted crimes can lead you to be a dynamic leader. The proceeds of the book go to the Black Muslims. 10th Grade English Literature—North Mecklenburg High School, Charlotte, N. C.

Brave New World—by Aldous Huxley, where to be called a mother is an obscenity, and that you worship a director of human hatcheries by "My Father, Oh Ford." 10th Grade English Literature—North Mecklenburg High School, Charlotte, N. C.

135. President Freeman suggested that the Constitution should be amended to allow the official appointment of the Committee on Enrollment and the Committee on Committees prior to the convening of the annual session.

136. The benediction for the Tuesday afternoon meeting was pronounced by J. Ralph Scales, Winston-Salem.

TUESDAY EVENING

137. The Wake Forest University Choir, under the direction of Thane McDonald, sang "Amazing Grace" (arr. Coates), "Deep River" (arr. Luboff), "Now Thank We All Our God" (Willan).

138. The convention was called to order by President Freeman.

139. Joseph O. Stroud, Raleigh, led the Convention in singing "Come, Thou Fount of Every Blessing."

140. J. P. Allen, Fort Worth, Texas, presented the third in his series of four devotional meditations, entitled "Up to Christ and Beyond All Limits." The New Testament rather assumes the security of the saints and concentrates attention upon the maturity of the saints. This is observable in three significant words. The first is paidagôgos, the custodian who took the youth to his teachers; the law was our paidagôgos to bring us to Christ. The second is aggareuô, forced, compelled, the term which sets the stage for the second mile. The third is kosmeô, adorning, the bringing out of beautiful elements of the gospel.

141. President Freeman read a telegram from the Baptist Convention of South Carolina. He received unanimous consent for a response to be made by the Recording Secretary.

142. Bruce E. Whitaker, Murfreesboro, Chairman of the Committee on Trustee Orientation, presented the report of the committee as found on pages 197-98 of this Annual. He made a motion that the report be adopted. It was seconded and carried.

143. James H. Blackmore, Wake Forest, Chairman of the Historical Committee, spoke concerning the report of the committee as found on pages 195-97 of this Annual, and moved the adoption of the six recommendations contained therein. The motion was seconded and carried.

144. J. Boyce Brooks, Warsaw, Chairman of the Committee on Memorials, presented the report of the committee as found in the front of this Annual and moved that the recommendations contained therein be adopted. This included recommendations concerning the dedication of the 1972 Annual to Dr. Ralph Herring, Dr. Robert Crouch, Judge Hubert E. Olive, and Mr. W. H. Weather-spoon and a change of the place in the Annual where the report will be put. [For subsequent action on this point see Item 245.] The motion was seconded and carried. J. Boyce Brooks called the Convention to a moment of thanksgiving for the blessings of God in this life and beyond this life. The Convention stood while he led the memorial prayer.

145. President Freeman called attention to the fact that the remainder of the evening program was devoted to an "Emphasis on Youth."

146. Allen Bailey, Charlotte, Vice-Chairman of the Council on Christian Higher Education, presented the report of the council as found on pages 172-88 of this Annual.

147. T. Robert Mullinax, Raleigh, Executive Secretary of the Council on Christian Higher Education, expressed appreciation for the moral and financial support which the Convention gives to its institutions of higher learning. Our colleges, like our churches, are imperfect, but together they can give to the world a valuable balance: prophecy from the churches; inquiry and knowledge from the colleges. Either without the other is inadequate, but the cooperative venture of the two is the strongest kind of support for our total mission in the world. The quality of the personal contributions of administrators and teachers is a crucial factor in the development of persons through the educative process. We cannot predict the future for church-related colleges, but beyond any doubt there is still a significant interplay between the churches and the colleges, each affirming and giving support to the other because it sees itself as a vital part of the life of the other.

148. A "Special Report" entitled "The Emerging Church: Youth Looks Ahead," was presented by Richard McBride, Chaplain of Wake Forest University and a group of young people and youth leaders. He introduced Rick Traylor, Davis Brown, James Y. Greene and various other youth workers.

149. The Appalachian State University Baptist Student Union Choir, directed by Larry Pate presented "Love Can Work a Miracle"—an emphasis upon Christian love and Christian fellowship, expressed through song and testimony. They got responses from the messengers, completing the sentence "The church I want to be a part of will be. . . ." These responses were written on name tags with adhesive backs, and these were then stuck all over the surface of a model church which the students had put together on the platform. While these were being applied, Patty Burchette gave a personal testimony concerning her experience of the Holy Spirit and her new joy of seeing God's work done in her church. This was followed by another testimony by Blanche Jones, a student at Meredith, who stressed the fact that the churches have much in them that needs to be changed as well as much that can be preserved. The main thing is to be willing to get involved in the real problems of the world, where people are really hurting. A third testimony, given by Jeff Norris, a student at Duke, questioned whether the percentage of our money invested in buildings is really Christian, and emphasized the necessity of getting involved, even if it means we make ourselves more vulnerable. Davis Bowen and Rick Traylor then led the messengers in a responsive "Call to Commitment." James Y. Greene led the Convention in a prayer of dedication. The Convention joined the choir in singing the benediction entitled "They'll Know We Are Christians by Our Love."

150. Louis Cobbs, Secretary of Missionary Personnel, Foreign Mission Board, Richmond, Virginia, expressed appreciation to North Carolina Baptists for our support, and expressed the joy of the Foreign Mission Board in the new experience of appointments of missionaries in the annual session of a state convention.

151. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Burns, being appointed for service among Arab people in Israel, gave personal testimonies concerning their pilgrimage in church, college, seminary, and the pastorate leading toward this decision.

152. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Buttermere, being appointed for work in Costa Rica, gave personal testimonies concerning their background in college, seminary, and the pastorate, and the specific experience at Ridgecrest which led them to volunteer for foreign mission work. The key question presented to him was the opposite of the usual approach; it was: "Unless God blocks your path, will you go as a missionary?"

153. Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Parten, being appointed for service in the Amazon Valley of Brazil, told of an earlier commitment to foreign missions which was renewed in a service at Foreign Missions Week at Ridgecrest. This led them, eight weeks later, to Southeastern Seminary. God removed barriers, one after another, to bring them to this point.

154. Miss Cheryl Ray, being appointed for work in Zambia, spoke of a series of miracles which led her to missionary appointment. This included her loving family, conversion, her training in the seminary, and her work as director of Christian Social Ministries in a large church in Texas.

155. Rogers Smith, Administrative Assistant to the Executive Secretary, Foreign Mission Board, Richmond, Virginia, said that since the day of Matthew T. Yates, North Carolina has given 269 missionaries to the Foreign Mission Board, 136 of whom are still in service, and that one-tenth of all the support for the Foreign Mission Board comes from North Carolina Baptists. He then gave the mission appointees a "Charge to Service," including specific reference to the task of each person in his or her own particular field of service.

156. President Freeman led the prayer of dedication and commitment for the mission appointees, and this was also the benediction for the Tuesday evening meeting.

WEDNESDAY MORNING

157. The organ prelude was presented by James Reich, Monroe.

158. The Convention was called to order by President Freeman. He called attention to fraternal messages from Baptist conventions now meeting in Mississippi and Louisiana and asked the Recording Secretary to send a reply.

159. Joseph O. Stroud, Raleigh, led the Convention in singing "Glorious Is Thy Name."

160. The Singing Churchmen, under the direction of Charles S. Gatwood, Raleigh, sang "How Firm a Foundation" (American Folk Hymn, arranged by Burroughs).

161. J. P. Allen, Fort Worth, Texas, presented the last of his four devotional meditations, entitled "Closed Account—Open Account." Words find their most potent overtones when they give us clues to inner motives. Jesus was gentle with most sins, but never with fraud or hypocrisy. The first word is apechô, paid in full—the hypocrites already have all the reward they're going to get. The second word is arrabôn, down payment in the coin of the realm, which God gives us now as a first installment on our future inheritance. The third word is katharos, genuine, clean, pure, which makes it possible for one to see God.

162. The Singing Churchmen, under the direction of Charles S. Gatwood, sang "Jesus Paid It All" (Grape-Burroughs).

163. John H. Knight, Asheville, led the Convention in prayer.

164. The time having come for action on the recommendations of the General Board, John M. Lewis, President of the General Board, directed the attention to the recommendations, beginning on page 108 of this Annual.

165. Leon P. Spencer, Raleigh, Director of the Division of Business Management, spoke concerning various significant points in the "Report of the Business Manager" as found on pages 118-128 of the Report of the General Board of the Baptist State Convention of Carolina. [The final version of the report appears at the back of the Annual.]

166. First Vice-President Allen Bailey, Charlotte, Chairman of the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws of the Executive Committee of the General Board, made a motion that the Constitution be amended by adding, after the word "emergency" in Article V, the words "or unusual circumstances." The motion was seconded and carried by a two-thirds standing vote.

Mobley, Ahoskie, a member of the Executive Committee of the General Board, made a motion that Recommendation Number 2, giving approval to Wingate College to borrow up to $600,000 at the best possible rate for the purpose of building a student center, be adopted. [See page 214 of the Annual for the full text of the resolution.] The motion was seconded and carried.

171. J. Dewey Hobbs, Marion, a member of the Executive Committee of the General Board, made a motion that Recommendation Number 3, authorizing the General Secretary-Treasurer to borrow up to $75,000 at the best available interest rate not to exceed a ten-year period, for the purpose of renovating all the church-group apartments at North Carolina Baptist Assembly, be adopted. [See page 215 of this Annual for the full text of the resolution.] The motion was seconded and carried.

[See page 215 of this Annual for the full text of the resolution.] The motion was seconded and carried.

174. Billy H. Cline, Asheville, a member of the Executive Committee of the General Board, made a motion that Recommendation Number 5, providing for a joint session with the General Baptist State Convention of North Carolina to be held November 4-6, 1974 in Raleigh, with each Convention holding separate sessions for business, and specifying that the present Interracial Committee should constitute the Program Committee for the joint session, be adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

175. J. Ralph Scales, Winston-Salem, Chairman of the Committee on Convention Program, made a motion that we extend the time for

The motion was seconded and carried.

177. Robert L. Clegg, Sylva, a member of the Executive Committee of the General Board, made a motion that Recommendation Number 7, involving changes in dates and places for the Annual sessions in 1973, 1974, and 1975, and establishment for the first time of place and date for 1976, be adopted. The full text of the recommendation is found on pages 109-10 of this Annual, and the date in paragraph d is changed to November 15, 16, and 17, 1976. General Secretary-Treasurer Crouch discussed the recommendation. President Freeman reported that we now have 3,100 messengers enrolled and 210 visitors, and announced that the Committee on Local Arrangements had determined that it was not possible to make the move to the other building. The motion was seconded and carried.

[See pages 111-15 of this Annual for the more detailed statement of this budget.] The motion was seconded and carried.

179. President Freeman called attention to fraternal greetings from Baptist state conventions meeting in Alabama, California, Kentucky, and Maryland and requested that the Recording Secretary respond to these in behalf of North Carolina Baptists.

181. John W. Lucas, Cliffside, in behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, made a motion that the resolution on Sections 312 and 306 of "Tax Policy Review Act of 1972," submitted by Ray W. Benfield, Carthage, be adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

182. Betsy Newton, Chapel Hill, in behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, made a motion that the resolution concerning full-time chaplains in North Carolina Youth Development Schools, submitted by Thomas M. Denton, Rocky Mount, be adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

183. J. Stancil Baucom, Rocky Point, in behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, presented and moved the adoption of the following as a substitute for the resolution originally submitted by Donald G. Myers, Reidsville:

Whereas, we are witnessing the opening of more retail stores on Sunday and noting that more and more of our people are being asked to work in stores and factories on Sunday; and

Whereas, we are seeing a gradual eroding of the concept of Sunday as primarily a day of rest and worship; and

Whereas, we feel that America is badly drifting in the direction of a commercialized Lord's Day; and

Whereas, we fear the failure to "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy" (Exodus 20:8) will result in the loss of this precious gift of needed rest and change of pace and will result in personal and community ills and the withholding of God's blessings upon us:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the North Carolina Baptist State Convention at this annual session reaffirm its commitment to re-creation of spirit, mind, and body; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this Convention remind our people of Article VIII of THE BAPTIST FAITH AND MESSAGE as adopted by the Southern Baptist Convention in 1963.

The first day of the week is the Lord's Day. It is a Christian institution for regular observance. It commemorates the resurrection of Christ from the dead and should be employed in exercises of worship and spiritual devotion, both public and private, and by refraining from worldly amusements, and resting from secular employments, work of necessity and mercy only being excepted.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we urge all Baptists and fellow Christians to curtail all business and buying on Sunday as much as they can, and that we commend those merchants and places of business and industry who do not open on Sunday.

184. A motion was made from the floor, seconded and carried by a two-thirds standing vote, that the rules be suspended and the original resolution not be read. The motion of J. Stancil Baucom was seconded and carried.

schools submitted by W. W. Finlator, Raleigh, be adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

187. James B. Sides, Wadesboro, in behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, presented and moved the adoption of the following resolution concerning aid to parochial schools at the elementary and secondary levels, as a substitute for the resolution originally submitted by Woodrow W. Robbins, High Point:

Whereas, our society is a pluralistic society in which people of many religious backgrounds live together in harmony because of the principle of the separation of church and state; and

Whereas, the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States reads that, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," and sets forth this principle of the separation of church and state; and

Whereas, the Fourteenth Amendment applies the religious clauses of the First Amendment to the fifty states, and this 14th Amendment reads:

"No state shall make or enforce any law which will abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction equal protection of laws"; and

Whereas, this principle of the separation of church and state has been under strong attack in this generation by groups who seek tax money for their religious and private schools; and

Whereas, the President of the United States has openly declared that he will seek tax money for church schools, which Baptists hold to be in direct violation of the First Amendment of the Constitution; and

Whereas, the public schools of this state, and of the nation, desperately need more money, and this money can only come from the tax payers, who are already overburdened;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina meeting in their 142nd session,

(1) that we strongly reject any attempt to take the tax money, gathered from citizens of all religious convictions, and give it to private and/or religious schools; and

(2) furthermore, that we urge our President to resist all attempts to go around the Constitution, and give up any attempt to use tax money for private and/or religious schools;

(3) that we urge the Congress of the United States to resist any and all pressure groups who bring demands for tax money for private and/or religious schools, and to strongly uphold the principle of the separation of church and state, and vote tax money for the public schools of our nation, and only the public schools;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Secretary-Treasurer be requested to send copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, and to the members of Congress from North Carolina.

188. A motion was made from the floor, seconded and carried by a two-thirds standing vote, that the rules be suspended and the original resolution not be read. The motion of James B. Sides was seconded and carried.

189. E. Gordon Conklin, Greenville, in behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, presented and moved the adoption of the following as a substitute for the resolution originally submitted by Coy C. Privette, Kannapolis:

Whereas, traffic deaths on the streets and highways of North Carolina are approaching an all time high during 1972; and,

Whereas, the drinking driver is involved in more than half of the highway traffic deaths; and,

Whereas, the needless destruction of human life in any manner is a moral problem of great magnitude;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Baptist State Convention, meeting in Winston-Salem on this November 15, 1972, go on record as endorsing the LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS PERTAINING TO HIGHWAY SAFETY adopted and being promulgated by the Christian Action League of North Carolina, with the insertion of the word "voluntary" in Item Number three (3), namely:

(1) an implied consent law making the breathalyzer test mandatory for drinking drivers or the automatic suspension of the driver's license for a set period of time;

(2) the repeal of the Senate Bill 110 in regard to issuing limited driving permits to persons who have been convicted of the first offense of driving under the influence of alcohol;

(3) modify the present implied consent law to allow voluntary pre-arrest breath tests;

(4) increase the minimum penalties for those convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol and especially for repeaters;

(5) make it a misdemeanor for driving when the breathalyzer reads between .05 and .10.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we encourage the messengers to this Convention and the members of the participating churches to contact the newly elected members of the 1973 General Assembly and ask for support of these proposals. The motion of E. Gordon Conklin was seconded and carried.

190. Thomas A. Bland, Wake Forest, indicated that the committee recommends that the Convention take no action on the resolution concerning school textbooks, submitted by John B. Pierczynski.

191. A motion was made from the floor that the rules be suspended and the resolution not be re-read. This was seconded and carried by a two-thirds standing vote. President Freeman, upon the advice of Parliamentarian Bulman, ruled that the vote would not be upon the recommendation of the committee, but upon the resolution as originally offered. The vote was taken on the original resolution and the motion was lost. President Freeman said this does not mean rejection of the idea, but of the form in which it was presented. [See Item 193.]

192. Mrs. R. Knolan Benfield, Morganton, in behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, made a motion that the following resolution be adopted:

Whereas, the 142nd annual session of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina approaches the conclusion of its fruitful meeting, challenged by the theme, "Christ—Our Message, Our Mission"; and

Whereas, we are indebted to the various committees and personalities for arranging and conducting the 142nd session of our Convention; and

Whereas, we express gratitude to the host city and its citizens for making available the physical facilities both for our deliberative assembly and for our personal accommodations;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED

(1) that we commit ourselves to the theme, "Christ—Our Message, Our Mission,"

(2) that we be bound to Him as our personal Savior and Lord, superseding any doctrine, ideas, or methodology that should divide us,

(3) that we commend President Tom Freeman for courageous, forthright leadership and statesmanship, together with our gracious General Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. W. Perry Crouch,

(4) that we commend in particular the youth in high schools and colleges in North Carolina for their response to the leadership of the Holy Spirit and their commitment to Christianity, and the radiant hope they have for the future; and

(5) that we thank Mayor Shirley, the citizens of Winston-Salem who have made the Convention enjoyable and convenient, and members of the press, radio and TV who have reflected our Convention through their media with wide coverage.

The motion was seconded and carried.

193. W. W. Finlator, Raleigh, rose to a point of personal privilege, to state that the rejection of the resolution on school textbooks did reflect his rejection of the resolution and not just of the form in which it was worded.

194. Cecil E. Sherman, Asheville, Chairman of the Committee of 15, introduced members of the committee who would present the various recommendations.

195. John M. Lewis, Raleigh, made a motion that Recommendation Number One [see page 204 of this Annual] be adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

196. First Vice-President Allen Bailey, Charlotte, made a motion that Recommendation Number Two [see pages 205-206 of this Annual] be adopted. It was noted that the word "Board" was changed to "Committee." The motion was seconded and carried.

197. William H. Westphal, Greensboro, made a motion that Recommendation Number Three [see page 207 of this Annual] be adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

198. William H. Westphal, Greensboro, made a motion that Recommendation Number Four [see page 208 of this Annual] adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

199. Lin Fincannon, Elkin, made a motion that Recommendation Number Five [see page 209 of this Annual] be adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

200. Wilburn T. Hendrix, Winston-Salem, made a motion that Recommendation Number Six [see page 210 of this Annual] be adopted. The motion was seconded and carried.

201. J. Boyce Brooks, Warsaw, newly elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the hospital, made a motion that it be understood that these recommendations will not be implemented in any way that will interfere with, infringe upon, or prevent the duly elected trustees of the institution from discharging their duties as imposed upon them by the North Carolina Baptist State Convention. The motion was seconded and carried.

202. Cecil E. Sherman, Asheville, Chairman of the Committee of 15, expressed gratitude to the committee and stated that he assumed the committee has completed its work and is discharged. He then stated that it should be clearly understood that the adoption of the motion made by J. Boyce Brooks [see Item 201] means that the Convention gave to the trustees of the hospital the power to determine which of the Convention's recommendations they would implement and which ones they would not implement. He added that they are men and women of good faith, and he is very hopeful that all six recommendations shall have their most earnest consideration.

203. Jim D. Jones, Shallotte, moved that the total report of the Committee of 15 be adopted with our deep appreciation. It was seconded and carried.

204. President Freeman announced that as of 10:30 there were 3,259 registered messengers and 215 visitors. [The final registration figures were 3,265 messengers and 215 visitors, totaling 3,480 —LJB.]

205. Joseph O. Stroud, Raleigh, led the Convention in singing "Joy to the World! The Lord Is Come."

206. The time for Miscellaneous Business having arrived, President Freeman recognized M. O. Owens, Jr., Gastonia, for an item previously announced. [See Item 67.]

207. M. O. Owens, Jr., Gastonia, addressed the Convention concerning the Constitutional amendment which he has proposed, and then made a motion, as follows [Note: The motion was changed at three points before its final adoption; see Items 222, 238, and 240]:

I move

(1) that we reaffirm and declare our conviction that believer's baptism by immersion in water is the teaching of the New Testament and should be a requirement for members in any church that calls itself Baptist;

(2) that we hereby, in a spirit of Christian love, earnestly plead with the churches erring at this point to recognize that though freedom allows such practice, Christian love and the welfare of our denomination override such freedom and demand that they choose the course and follow the practice followed by the other 99 per cent of North Carolina Baptists in insisting on believer's baptism by immersion in water as a prerequisite to church membership;

(3) that we earnestly request any other churches considering this course to refrain from following the pattern set by these twenty or so churches;

(4) that we authorize the President of this Convention to appoint a committee of eleven of which he shall be a member and chairman, and one which shall be strong and representative of both conservative and liberal viewpoints, to take this resolution and this plea to any and all churches in our fellowship now receiving people into membership without requiring of them baptism by immersion; that they urge these churches in love and for the sake of harmony and our labors together to comply with this request; that this committee make a full report to North Carolina Baptists in the pages of the Biblical Recorder at least sixty days before our annual Convention in 1973; and that this report be without any recommendations.

He also added to the motion that the rules be suspended so that we can consider this. The motion was seconded.

208. President Freeman explained that we have a problem here with our own rules, because in the Annual on page 38, under duties of the Committee on Resolutions it says: "All resolutions presented to the Convention shall be referred to the Committee on Resolutions, except that by a two-thirds majority of the messengers present on the second day of the Convention, the rules may be suspended and a resolution be taken up for immediate consideration." [It should be noted that this was quoted from the By-Laws, Article II,B,1—LJB.] He then pointed out that this is the third day, and that according to the Parliamentarian the only way we could act upon this today would be for the Committee on Resolutions to reassemble, consider the matter, and bring back a report before the end of the morning session.

209. Jim D. Jones, Shallotte, made a motion that the resolution be thus referred to the Committee on Resolutions. The motion was seconded.

210. President Freeman stated the motion and pointed out that we are running ahead of time and the Committee on Resolutions could thus have time to deal with the resolution and bring it back to us, hopefully in its present form.

211. James R. DeLoach, Charlotte, spoke against the motion to refer the matter to the Committee on Resolutions, and urged that it be dealt with by the Convention without further delay.

212. Jim D. Jones, Shallotte, withdrew his motion.

213. President Freeman did not rule on the withdrawal of the motion, but stated that the motion was out of order. He then read from Robert's Rules of Order as follows:

The great purpose of all rules and forms is to subserve the will of the assembly rather than to restrain it, to facilitate and not to obstruct the expression of their deliberate sense.

He then ruled that on this basis we can suspend the rules and decide upon this matter at once if it is the will of this body. After conversation with the Parliamentarian, he asked the Convention to sustain him in this ruling. The vote was taken by standing and the ruling of the President was sustained. He indicated that the Parliamentarian says we cannot suspend the By-Laws, but he believes the will of the body must take precedence. He then declared the Owens resolution to be before the body and asked if there was discussion.

214. Warren T. Carr, Winston-Salem, made a motion to amend section (4) of the resolution by substituting in its place the following: "That a study committee be appointed by the President of this Convention as a means to advising this Convention as to the connection between baptism and church membership, and that said committee should be prepared to advise with any church sending messengers to the North Carolina Baptist State Convention in response to a request by that church." The motion to amend was seconded, and Warren T. Carr entered into brief discussion setting forth the reasons for his motion.

215. Parliamentarian Bulman was recognized and respectfully called the attention of the body to Robert's Rules of Order, pages 291-292, as follows:

Motions that conflict with the . . . by-laws . . . of a society . . . are out of order If a motion of this kind is adopted, it is null and void.

216. President Freeman expressed appreciation and asked if there were further discussion of the motion to amend.

217. Joseph M. Sanders, Shelby, spoke in favor of the Owens resolution and in opposition to the Carr amendment.

218. James R. DeLoach, Charlotte, spoke in opposition to the Carr amendment.

219. John H. Knight, Asheville, moved the previous question. The motion was seconded and carried by a two-thirds standing vote.

220. Parliamentarian Bulman was recognized and respectfully called the attention of the body to Robert's Rules of Order, page 224, as follows:

RULES THAT CANNOT BE SUSPENDED.

Rules contained in the by-laws . . . cannot be suspended—no matter how large the vote in favor of doing so or how inconvenient the rule in question may be. . . .

221. President Freeman made reference to the sentence he had previously cited from Robert's Rules of Order. He stated that the two seemed to balance each other, and even if the action is null and void we'll still feel better about it if we express ourselves. The previous question having already been voted, he re-read section (4) of the Owens resolution and the Carr amendment which offers a substitute for it. He stated that in substance the two differ in this respect: one requests that in love we get in contact in some way with those churches—this could be simply by mail; the other suggests that we do not get in contact with them unless they contact us. He then put the question on the amendment, with the result that it was lost, by a standing vote.

222. Randolph L. Gregory, Wilmington, made a motion that the resolution be amended by adding at the very beginning these words: "(I move) that this Convention reaffirm that the Bible is our sufficient guide in matters of faith and practice, that we reaffirm our belief in the autonomy of the local Baptist Church. . . ." The motion was seconded and he discussed it. President Freeman announced that M. O. Owens, Jr., has stated that this amendment is agreeable to him and to the seconder, and it was agreed upon by common consent.

223. C. C. Hope, Jr., Charlotte, made a motion to amend the Owens resolution by striking the word "erring" from section (2).

224. President Freeman inquired what word he desired to put in the place of "erring."

225. C. C. Hope, Jr., indicated that he felt no other word was needed.

226. President Freeman pointed out that the resolution would "would then be that we ". . . earnestly plead with the churches at this point," and asked which churches we would be pleading with.

227. C. C. Hope, Jr., then read what he said he understood to be another resolution originally drawn with the word "erring" deleted from it. It read as follows:

That we hereby, in a spirit of Christian love, earnestly request any and all churches within our fellowship, who receive people into membership without immersion, to recognize that though liberty may allow their practice, Christian love and the welfare of our total denomination demand that they choose the course approved by the majority of the North Carolina Baptists and follow the policy of baptism by immersion as set forth in the New Testament.

228. President Freeman stated that this amendment is now before the Convention and pointed out that this new wording substantially changes the second part.

229. Dan H. Jolly, Shelby, said that to adopt this amendment would be in contradiction with the amendment we have already accepted concerning the Bible.

230. President Freeman was requested to read section (2) of the Owens resolution again. He did so, and commented that if we could find another word instead of "erring" the matter might be resolved.

231. Calvin Capps, Greensboro, made a motion to amend the amendment by changing the word "erring" to "deviating."

232. President Freeman accepted this as a motion to amend the amendment by substituting the word "deviating" in the place of the Hope Amendment.

233. Joseph Godwin, Mars Hill, spoke in opposition to the amendment to the amendment, and in favor of the original Owens resolution.

234. James Potter, Charlotte, offered the suggestion that we substitute the word "differing" instead of "erring" or "deviating."

235. W. A. Huneycutt, Valdese, moved the previous question.

236. President Freeman stated that the previous question had been moved, and explained that this would mean that we would proceed to vote on the amendment to the amendment. [There was no reference to the motion's having been seconded.]

237. C. C. Hope, Jr., Charlotte, asked if he could withdraw his motion to amend, in favor of James Potter's suggestion of the word "differing."

238. President Freeman announced that M. O. Owens, Jr., would accept the word "differing," and we would not need to vote on either of the substitutes.

239. Calvin Capps, Greensboro, asked if he could withdraw his amendment to the amendment.

240. Elliot Hill, Reidsville, offered an amendment that we substitute "ask" in place of "demand" in section (2) of the resolution. M. O. Owens, Jr. agreed to the changing of his proposal to this effect.

241. John H. Knight, Asheville, moved the previous question. It was seconded.

242. Clay F. Flynn from the Rowan Association was allowed to speak on the basis that he was asking for the floor at the time the previous question was moved. It was understood that as soon as he finished, the vote would be taken on the previous question. He spoke in favor of the Owens resolution. The vote was taken on the moving of the previous question, and it was carried by a two-thirds standing vote. The vote was then taken on the Owens resolution, as amended, and it was carried. [Note: The three changes appear in Items 222, 238, and 240.]

243. M. O. Owens, Jr., Gastonia, withdrew the motion proposing a Constitutional amendment.

244. J. Ralph Scales, Winston-Salem, Chairman of the Committee on Convention Program, introduced John E. Weems, the new president of Meredith College.

245. Woodrow W. Robbins, High Point, reported the death of Dan

Short, father of two of our foreign missionaries, during our Foreign Missions hour last evening. He made a motion that the Annual be also dedicated to Dan Short. It was seconded and carried.

246. Because of concern that the action on the Owens resolution might be considered null and void, John H. Knight, Asheville, described a three-step procedure for making it official, and then proceeded with three motions, as follows: (1) He moved that we rescind the previous action on the Owens resolution. This was seconded and carried. (2) He then moved that By-Law II, B, 1 paragraph 2, be amended for a period of ten minutes to add "or third" following "the second." This was seconded and carried. (3) He then moved that the Owens motion be reaffirmed. This was seconded.

247. Joseph S. Larrimore, Monroe, spoke in opposition to the entire process of a temporary change in the By-Laws.

248. Someone moved the previous question, and it was seconded and carried by a two-thirds standing vote. The vote was then taken on reaffirming the Owens resolution and it was carried by a standing vote. President Freeman stated that this means that the action taken on the Owens resolution is now in conformity with Robert's Rules of Order and is not therefore null and void.

249. Roy Beals, Hickory, Chairman of the Committee on Place and Preacher, made a motion that Frank R. Campbell, Statesville, be the preacher of the Convention sermon in 1973, with C. Douglas Farmer, Wilmington, as alternate. It was seconded and carried. Other members of the Committee on Place and Preacher are: Mrs. Hoyle T. Allred, Gastonia; Floyd Annas, Granite Falls; Clarence E. Godwin, Oxford; Craig Hopkins, Albemarle; James C. Huneycutt, Jr., Statesville; Fred B. Lunsford, Murphy; A. L. McGee, Wilmington; and Thomas L. Rich, Jr., Fairmont.

250. Joseph O. Stroud, Raleigh, led the Convention in singing "Amazing Grace."

251. President Freeman recognized former presidents of the Convention; and the two Royal Ambassadors who have served as pages; David Branch, Lumberton and Ronnie Waddell, Jonesville.

252. General Secretary-Treasurer W. Perry Crouch, Raleigh, introduced Grady B. Wilson.

253. Grady B. Wilson, Charlotte, a member of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, addressed the Convention on Proverbs 22:28, "Remove not the ancient landmark, which thy fathers have set." Overtolerance in moral and spiritual matters has weakened the fiber of our nation. All the laws of nature and of mathematics are narrow-minded. We need to get over being afraid of being called narrow-minded in regard to the way to heaven, and in regard to many doctrines based upon the Biblical record and the convictions of our Baptist ancestors.

254. President Freeman pronounced the benediction and declared that the 142nd annual session was adjourned.

REPORT
GENERAL BOARD
OF THE
BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION OF
NORTH CAROLINA

Including Reports of Institutions and Agencies of the Convention, Reports of Standing Committees, and the Report of the Woman's Missionary Union.

TO THE

ONE-HUNDRED FORTY-SECOND ANNUAL SESSION
WINSTON-SALEM CONVENTION CENTER
WINSTON-SALEM
November 13-15, 1972

I. FOREWORD

The year 1972 will be remembered as a year that looked toward advance. One of the most important steps taken was the beginning of the "Together We Advance Program," planned by the Convention President, Mr. Tom Freeman, and the General Secretary-Treasurer. This program will lead the churches of North Carolina to increase by 10 per cent each year for the next three years their baptisms, Sunday school enrollment, contributions to the Cooperative Program and support of associational missions. We have been encouraged by the response to this program of advancement.

The financial report in October was one of the best we have ever had. Cooperative Program receipts were 9.47 per cent above 1971 and total mission gifts 7.06 per cent above last year.

Another major emphasis this year was on ministry to the young people. The summer camps, assemblies and youth programs touched close to 4,500 young people in a ten-week period. We feel this is a tremendous responsibility and we are grateful for all those who assisted in any way with this ministry.

We are deeply indebted to the Committee of 15 which worked many long hours this year, and you will read their comprehensive report in this book. Their recommendations are included in the report.

As North Carolina Baptists seek to follow the guidance of the Holy Spirit there will naturally be changes. We have experienced some of these with some staff members leaving us for other positions, or for retirement, and some coming to us to fill vacancies. We regret the losses, but rejoice with those who are new with us and will be moving forward in re-structured programs of work.

The Salary Survey Committee has done a mammoth job in surveying North Carolina Baptist employees across the state. Their report will give you a picture of the direction in which a church should go when seeking to employ a person to serve on the church staff. This report should be of real value to any church looking for guidance in this area.

This has indeed been a forward looking year, but it has also been one of the most difficult years I have ever experienced. Thank you for your many kind and thoughtful expressions of sympathy during the months of my son's fatal illness. It has made it possible for me to continue to look forward with the very best in mind for all North Carolina Baptists.

W. PERRY CROUCH, General Secretary-Treasurer

II. GENERAL BOARD REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS

BY JOHN LEWIS, President

The General Board of the Baptist State Convention convened three times during this year. The first meeting was held at Meredith College with a dinner for board members, Convention staff, and Meredith college guests. The second meeting was held at Gardner-Webb College, June 20-21, and the third meeting was held at Camp Mundo Vista, October 10-11. The Executive Committee of the Board has met eight times this year, and will have one more meeting before the year ends.

At the January meeting the Board was organized into committees and the following became members of the Executive Committee:

General Board Officers

Dr. John Lewis, President

Rev. Billy Mobley, Vice President

Rev. Hoke Coon, Jr., Chairman, Council on Christian Life

Rev. Dewey Hobbs, Chairman, Church Programs

Dr. LeRoy Parker, Chairman, Evangelism

Rev. Robert Clegg, Chairman, Missions

Rev. Amis Daniel, Chairman, Social Services

Members-at-large

Mr. Joe Burnett

Rev. Billy Cline

Rev. Norman Harris

Mr. Howard Holly

Mr. Edward Renfrow

During the course of a year there are always staff changes. The following have joined our staff since the Convention met last year:

C. G. Newsom, Student Department, Chapel Hill

Miss Judith Leigh Scarborough, office secretary, Church Training Department

Mrs. Hope Christian, Pool Secretary, Division of Church Programs

Mrs. Mary Williams, office secretary, Administrative Assistant

Mrs. Judy Roberts, Pool Secretary, Church Programs Division

Resignations from the staff include those whose names are listed below:

Miss Linda Warren, Baptist Young Women, WMU

Miss Judy Hendrix, Associate in Church Training Department

Mr. Dwight Fickling, Baptist Chaplain, Greensboro, UNC
Miss Bernice Popham, Mission Friends and G.A.'s, WMU

There are always a few General Board members who move from their location, and have to be replaced. This year was no exception. In January the following were elected: Larry Patton, Anson Association; M. O. Sears, Neuse Association; Paul Craig, Mt. Zion Association; Everett Haney, New Found Association; Ingram P. Hedgepeth, Robeson Association. In June Mr. Norman Brisson was elected to serve the remaining part of the year in the Cabarrus Association.

During the March meeting of the Executive Committee a recommendation was approved that the Convention move toward securing a Director of the Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs by January 1, 1973.

An item of main interest to the entire Convention is a recommendation approved by both the Executive Committee and General Board concerning the future renovation and addition to the Baptist Building. You will remember that in 1970 the Convention authorized a loan of up to $300,000 for the purpose of securing valuable property across the street from the Baptist Building in Raleigh. This property has now been purchased and a Property Development and Building Committee appointed to plan how to best meet the building needs for the next twenty years. This committee: Ed Brandon, chairman; James Cammack, Frank Campbell, Troy Hamrick, John Lawrence, Sam Wilson, and Ed Wyatt, have met and after much study and consideration recommended that the firm of Haskins and Rice be employed to prepare suggested architectural drawings to meet the Baptist Building needs. Recommendations concerning this matter will be presented to the Convention later in the report.

A part of the renovation and building program for the Baptist Building includes paved parking lots on the property approved by the Convention in session in 1971. These lots are now in use, and may be entered from Morgan Street or Dawson Street.

The Joint Committee on Interracial Matters has made recommendations to the Executive Committee and General Board. These will also be presented to you later in the report.

One of the major decisions of the General Board this year was the adoption of the Three-year Program of Advance. Planned by the General Secretary-Treasurer and the President of the Baptist State Convention, this program was presented to the Executive Committee in April, and the General Board in June. The Board gave hearty approval and information was sent to pastors all across North Carolina.

The main objective of the program was to encourage the local churches to increase by 10 per cent each year over the previous year the number of baptisms; Sunday School enrollment; support to the Cooperative Program; and increase in church support of associational missions. The basic theme for this three-year program is "Together We Advance."

The Convention last November named a Salary Survey Committee and this committee has been working since early in the spring. Mr. C. C. Hope is chairman of the group and over 3,000 questionnaires were sent out to pastors, and church staff members in North Carolina. At least two-thirds of these were returned, and have been processed through the computer at Campbell College. This committee will report to the Convention later during this session.

The April 11, 1972 meeting of the Executive Committee approved a recommendation from the Interracial Committee to have a joint Youth Convention with the General Baptist Convention. This same recommendation was approved by the General Board in June. At the September meeting of the Executive Committee, the recommendation for a committee to plan this joint session was approved. The following were named to serve in this capacity:

Staff Youth Advisory Committee; plus the President of the State BSU; one high school student, named by the Youth Advisory Committee; one pastor; and a similar committee from the General Baptist Convention. This joint committee will make plans for the joint Youth Convention to be held in 1974.

Mr. Bill Lamb, Director of the Division of Evangelism was granted permission in the August Executive Committee meeting to transfer his SBC budget allocation to attend the Evangelism Seminar in Geneva, Switzerland, February 26-March 9, 1973. This type experience is looked on with approval by the General Board, in that it enhances the staff member's ability to serve as he broadens his scope of interest and work.

Services Rendered Committee Action

The General Board received reports and recommendations from the Services Rendered Committee at the June and October meetings of the Board. During the year the Board approved recommendations from the Committee that Meredith College be approved for participation in the Upward Bound Program designed to aid disadvantaged students in high school. This program matches the same kind of project approved for Mars Hill College the year before. Also approved were the requests from Campbell College to participate in a National Science Foundation Institute for teachers of science in high school; the request from Mars Hill College to receive public funds for a director to head an Experimental Education program designed to aid students in work-study courses enabling them to earn experience as well as funds for staying in college; and the request from the Baptist Children's Homes to receive AFDC-FC funds for a limited number of children in their care who qualify under the state statute of such aid. In all of the above programs the Committee examined carefully the extent and use of funds in terms of qualifying as "services rendered" according to our constitutional provision in Article XI, Section D. The Committee rejected the proposal from Campbell College to receive funds for an "Institutional Scientific Equipment Program" since the program did not meet specifically enough the requirement of services rendered. The Committee also requested that the Committee be enlarged to seven members. In each request examined the Committee is careful to determine clearly satisfactory answers to twelve questions the Committee has adopted as guidelines for passing on any request submitted to it from our institutions. The Twelve Guideline Questions are as follows:

1. What distinctive services are the public funds purchasing?
2. How will the public funds be used?
3. What financial obligation does the institution provide, if any?
4. Does any financial advantage accrue to the institution?
5. What other advantage (indirect) might the institution receive?
6. Does the program prohibit the "free exercise" of religion within the institution?
7. Does the program promote the distinctive religious or sectarian purposes of the institution?
8. Will suspension of the program hamper the regular operation of the institution?
9. Does the public funded program in way interfere with, diminish, or hamper the internal affairs of the ordinary operation of the institution?
10. Does the public funded program require governmental controls of such a nature as to alter the essential character of the institution as set forth in its charter?
11. Do administrative requirements of the program require undue governmental surveillance of the program that might prove disruptive of the normal operations of the institution, more particularly its religious or sectarian purposes?
12. Does the particular program meet the court tests made so far relative to the First Amendment clauses of the Federal Constitution, if such exists?

Mission Items

Many items of importance to state missions have been approved by the General Board this year. Eighty one requests for pastoral aid have been honored for a total amount of $81,329. Thirty two lot aid requests have been considered and approved, thus granting $34,500 for this purpose. Fifty three associations requested financial aid and $72,702 was granted to meet these needs.

You remember during the fall of 1971, the old Justice Classroom building at Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute burned. During this past year a new building has been under construction, and the dedication of this new building has been set for the spring of 1973. Upon request of the Fruitland faculty and administration, the General Board voted to name the new building the "W. Perry Crouch Classroom Building," built on the site of the old Justice Classroom Building.

Mr. Ernest Upchurch, Director of the Department of City and Metropolitan Missions, requested study leave in order to earn his Doctorate of Ministries degree at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Mr. Upchurch will attend four "mini-semesters" of one month each during 1973-1974. He would be in class January, June, and July, in 1973, and January in 1974. This received the hearty approval of the Executive Committee. Mr. Upchurch has been with the Convention over 15 years, and field staff members are encouraged to keep up with current matters and methods in their related fields of work.

A new policy on Aid to Associations was approved during June by the General Board. This policy set forth that aid to associations be handled in each department, subject to the approval of the Division Director, Missions Committee, Executive Committee or General Board. This helped to define clearly the channels through which requests should travel in order to receive approval.

Church Programs Items

In January, the Executive Committee considered a request concerning negotiations for a pier at North Carolina Baptist Assembly. The McLeans Construction Company of Baltimore had sub-contracted with Brown and Rott, Inc., to construct an ocean outfall for Carolina Power and Light Company. In order to do this work they needed a good pier at Caswell. They requested permission to build a $40,000 pier to use in importing their heavy pipe line equipment. These materials would be too heavy to transport over the inter-coastal waterway bridge and thus the only way to import them was over water. If permission were granted to construct this pier at the site of the old assembly pier, they would give it to the assembly at the conclusion of their construction period, after they had made sure it was in first class condition from their use. This was an excellent opportunity for the Assembly to obtain a new pier at no cost, and the request was approved by the Executive Committee and General Board. Any damage to assembly roads would be restored by the company.

During the March meeting, Mr. Bob Watson was interviewed for the position of associate with the Brotherhood Department. This was to fill the vacancy created when Mr. Luther Osment, formerly with the Brotherhood Department, was transferred to the Department of Town and Country and Seminary Extension Mission Ministries as western area missionary in Region 10. Mr. Osment is doing an excellent work in this position.

At the June meeting of the Executive Committee and General Board two items concerning Church Training were presented. Dr. Nathan Brooks, Director of the Division of Church Programs, joined by Dr. Crouch, had presented a request for re-structuring the Church Training Department. This plan would give an enlarged scope of the task to be accomplished and was heartily approved by the Executive Committee and General Board. It was also recommended at this meeting that the name be changed from Church Training Department to "The Department of Church Ministries and Training."

It was during the June meeting that Mr. Sam O'Neal, Director of the Department of Church Ministries and Training, was elected to succeed Mr. Guy Cain, Director of the Department of Annuity and Insurance. Mr. O'Neal would assume these responsibilities January 1, 1973. At the same meeting, Mr. Maurice Cooper, Associate in the Department of Church Ministries and Training, was elected to succeed Mr. O'Neal as Director of the Department of Church Ministries and Training, beginning January 1, 1973.

The August Executive Committee approved a request from Woman's Missionary Union to use the 1972-1973 overage in their budget to help finance the installation of a fence around Camp Mundo Vista to give additional protection for those occupying the camp. This fence would have a gate controlled from the main office. Woman's Missionary Union further requested the privilege of going before the Convention in 1973, if additional funds were needed to complete the payments for this project.

In August, the Executive Committee also approved a recommendation to sell the lease for the Student Center at Duke University in favor of a different type ministry to Baptist students. When plans for this new type ministry are complete, they will be brought to the General Board for approval.

Last year the Convention approved a consolidated loan of $14,000,000 for the North Carolina Baptist Hospital with the stipulation that when the terms of the loan had been worked out these terms should be brought to the Executive Committee for approval before the loan was finalized. This report was presented to the Executive Committee meeting in August by Mr. John Lynch, Mr. I. B. Julian, and Mr. Tom Campbell, all officials of the Hospital. Since the terms of the loan did not necessitate a change in the Baptist Hospital Charter, the Executive Committee approved the report. This action was reported to the General Board in October and the Hospital was released to finalize the $14,000,000 loan.

In the September meeting a Long Range Planning Committee for the North Carolina Baptist Assembly was approved and the following were appointed to serve on it: Charles Storey, chairman; Ed Renfrow; Dewey Hobbs; Glenn Holt; Paul Kesterson; John Lawrence; and Mrs. Gilmer Cross. This committee is to make a thorough study of the campus needs at Caswell and make recommendations concerning the best plan for meeting these needs. The first phase of this improvement program will be a complete renovation of the church-type apartments. All recommendations from this committee will be considered by the General Board and requests to borrow money by the General Board and Convention.

Occasionally, the Convention, or a department, receives a bequest from some philanthropic individual. This was the case this year when the Church Training Department received a bequest of $440.48 from the estate of M. Estelle Lloyd. It was the decision of this department to use these funds to purchase appropriate table and chairs for educational use in the Children's Building at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly. Miss Judy Hendrix and Miss Doris Morgan, associates in this department, were to consult with Mr. Richard Smith, Director of the Department of Church Building Planning, and make the selections.

At the October Executive Committee meeting, a request from Mars Hill College to borrow up to $200,000 for the purpose of building student housing was approved and recommended to the General Board. A recommendation concerning this will be presented to the Convention along with other recommendations.

During the October Executive Committee meeting, a request was heard to change the name of the Student Department to the Department of "Campus Ministry." This request was in keeping with other states, and describes more accurately the actual work of this department. The Executive Committee and General Board approved this request.

The October Executive Committee and General Board heard requests from the Interracial Committee concerning joint sessions of the Baptist State Convention and the General Baptist State Convention. That recommendation will be heard with other recommendations to the Convention.

The Constitution and By-law recommended changes were reported during the October meetings and these too will be heard later.

Two resolutions were heard by the Executive Committee and General Board involving loans. The first one was a request to grant permission to borrow up to $75,000 for the renovation of the church-type apartments at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly. The second was a request to borrow up to $600,000 for the purpose of renovating and adding on to the Baptist Building in Raleigh. Both these requests were approved by the General Board. These recommendations will come to you also.

During the October meeting, copies of the Committee of 15 report were distributed, but no action was taken on the information since this was a Convention Committee and would require Convention action.

The Budget for 1973 was approved for recommendation to the Convention with a base budget of $8,500,000 and an overall goal of $8,750,000. This report is contained in your book of advance reports, and will be voted on along with the other recommendations of the General Board.

A. ADMINISTRATION1. Cooperative Program Promotion

R. TOM GREENE, Director

The development, production, and distribution of materials for the promotion of Biblical church stewardship through Cooperative Program enlistment is the basic function of this area of administration. The work during the past twelve months may be divided as follows:

I. LEAFLETS

We have developed and distributed leaflets as follows:

289,000 basic Cooperative Program leaflets and posters

501,000 other leaflets, programs, and booklets on the Cooperative Program.

II. SEMINARS

We held Mission Advance Seminars for leaders from each association. During the seminars we:

1. Explained and distributed latest materials for scriptural church stewardship through the Cooperative Program.
2. Received the wise suggestions from these leaders.

III. WORKSHOPS

Mission Advance Workshops were held for the pastor and treasurer of each church in three associations. A speaker was secured on the Cooperative Program on the following Sunday in each church requesting this service. The purpose of each of these workshops was:

1. Give a broad view of materials available to help these church leaders in developing a greater outreach for the church.
2. Answer any questions concerning the Cooperative Program.
3. Give encouragement to these leaders and offer our services to the limit of our time and talents to aid these leaders in their aim of mission advance through the Cooperative Program for the benefit of carrying out the commission of the church they serve.

IV. ARTICLES, ART AND REPORTS

We wrote articles, developed art and furnished pictures on Cooperative Program for the BIBLICAL RECORDER in cooperation with Mr. Marse Grant, editor.

We published in the BIBLICAL RECORDER Cooperative Program giving of each church as well as the division of the Cooperative Program dollar.

We wrote articles on the Cooperative Program for Charity and Children each week in cooperation with Mr. J. D. Dennis, editor.

We wrote an article each month on the Cooperative Program in cooperation with the Superintendents of Missions, Moderators, Cooperative Program Chairmen and the Convention's General Board members for publication in their bulletins.

V. COOPERATION OF THE TEN BAPTIST INSTITUTIONS

The ten Baptist institutions (seven Baptist colleges, Baptist Childrens Homes, Homes for the Aging, and Baptist Hospital) offered their services to one or more of the leaders in the churches of two associations each toward their aim of increasing their outreach by greater sharing through the Cooperative Program. Thus, the colleges and the three benevolent institutions use their talents and time to benefit the churches in 20 associations.

VI. REGIONAL COOPERATIVE PROGRAM CONSULTANTS

The Regional Cooperative Program Consultants offered their services to each association in the state, each pastors conference and each church in his own region.

The ten Regional Cooperative Program Consultants, without pay, met for two days in Raleigh in a workshop on the Cooperative Program and in addition to the letters referred to above, led many individual conferences, group conferences, made hundreds of telephone calls to pastors and/or other church leaders, spoke in pastors conferences, spoke in other associational meetings and did many other things to enhance the work of the Kingdom through the Cooperative World Mission Program.

The ten Regional Cooperative Program Consultants for 1972 were: Rev. Norman B. Harris of Hertford, Rev. Gordon Conklin of Kinston, Mr. Russell Davenport of Fayetteville, Rev. Lewis Beal of Angier, Rev. W. Amis Daniel of Kernersville, Rev. Marion Parker of Troy, Rev. Fred D. Barnes of Lenoir, Rev. James Rowles, Jr., of Hickory, Rev. James Langford of Canton and Rev. Fred B. Lunsford of Murphy.

VII. REGIONAL MISSION ADVANCE RALLIES

Mission Advance Rallies and workshops were held in three of the regions. In each case they were promoted by the Regional Cooperative Program Consultant. The purpose of each of these rallies was:

1. Give a birds-eye view of worldwide involvement of the churches who give through the Cooperative Program in the spreading of the Good News of Christ around the world.

2. Answer any questions from any person present concerning the Cooperative Program.

3. Give materials to meet the needs and to give encouragement to these church and denominational leaders in their aim of leading their respective churches in a greater outreach for Christ by increased giving through the Cooperative Program.

VIII. ASSOCIATIONAL AND CONVENTION OFFICERS

The associational Cooperative Program Chairmen, with the aid of the Superintendent of Missions, Moderators, and the Convention's General Board members and officers contacted each church in most of the associations offering their services to the limit of their time and ability in aiding the leadership in each church to advance their aim of a greater outreach in preaching the gospel of Christ around the world through the Cooperative Program. They did this through telephone parties, letters, associational meetings, and other face to face contacts.

IX. OTHER AREAS OF WORK

We have answered the requests of many churches needing special help in the area of developing a greater outreach on the part of their church by increasing Cooperative Program giving.

Dr. W. Perry Crouch General Secretary-Treasurer of our Convention, the staff of the Convention have given wise counsel and help in all the work of this department. Mrs. Lacy Coates and Mrs. Toby Saul, office secretaries, have given valuable help in our common task.

To those above, plus each pastor, plus many other volunteer helpers, we express our genuine thanks for their cooperation.

2. Pastor-Church Relations

BOB BRUHN, Director

North Carolina Baptists have pioneered in the area of pastor-church informational services since 1964. In the intervening years, many of our sister states have seen the need and have established similar offices.

Increasingly, pastorless churches seek basic biographical information about prospective pastors to enable them to more effectively perform their task as they seek God's will. Our informational service has been utilized by pulpit committees from congregations of all sizes across our entire state. This office has shared information with 650 different churches this past year. Numerous pulpit committee responses give assurance that the informational services are both fully utilized and greatly beneficial.

There has been a noticeable increase in the percentage of pastoral changes in recent years. On the average, there is a move every twenty-two months. Several reasons are given: Many churches are served by student pastors, resulting in a short term (two- to three-year) pastorate. Many of our smaller situations are unable to provide financially for men with growing families. An obvious reflection of contemporary restlessness and universal mobility is likewise a contributing factor.

From the outset, we have maintained a strict confidential treatment of all information shared. This has resulted in greater participation and acceptance of a service that is exclusively informational. A natural by-product has been a counseling opportunity for many men facing difficult situations—age factors, personality conflicts, etc.

3. Public Relations

WILLIAM H. BOATWRIGHT, Director

The Office of Public Relations is directly responsible to the General Secretary-Treasurer in matters of general convention affairs, relations with the secular and denominational press, and promotion of the various departments, divisions, councils and committees of the State Convention. The Office is also responsible for the planning and promotion of the annual State Mission Offering.

This past year the Office of Public Relations worked closely with the Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs in the editing of various booklets assigned to that Council. The Office also had responsibility for preparing and editing a special report of the Convention's Pastors' Salary Survey Committee which appeared in the Biblical Recorder and in booklet form. The Office works closely with the public relations and promotion departments of the several agencies and institutions of the State Convention in an attempt to correlate activities.

Mrs. Wilma Coates serves as secretary of the Office of Public Relations.

4. Statistics and Survey

TED W. WILLIAMS, Director

The basic responsibilities of the office do not change from year to year. These responsibilities include; keeping of current mailing lists; preparing the Baptist Diary and supervising its distribution; supervising the publication and distribution of the Convention Annual; conducting, upon invitation, conferences for associational clerks and church clerks; conducting certain statistical studies, and assisting, upon invitation, churches and/or associations in planning and tabulating various types of surveys.

The office keeps in close touch with the Research and Statistics Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board in Nashville and with the clerks of the various associations. This cooperation results in fast and efficient gathering of data for inclusion in the Convention Annual. The office recognizes its dependence on the clerks in the associations and is especially grateful for their spirit of cooperation.

The office is constantly endeavoring to improve its efficiency and service. Mrs. Lafata Lusk and Mrs. Avenelle King are the office secretaries.

B. DIVISION OF BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

(See Auditor's Report in the back of the annual.)

C. DIVISION OF MISSION MINISTRIES

HOWARD J. FORD, Director

The Division personnel of Mission Ministries works with the concept that we are to share the Gospel with all the world. In order to do this, we must have a strong home base. In cooperation with others, we minister to churches and associations in order to lay a solid foundation for ministry in North Carolina and throughout our world.

We are happy to work with associations in sponsoring specific missions and mission projects. The Division recommends, with the concurrence of the Missions Committee of the General Board, financial supplements to mission churches and associations. During 1972 supplements to the budgets of fifty-four (54) associations have been granted. This figure does not include help to churches in pastoral aid and grants for the purchase of lots.

During the year Frank Ingram resigned in the Mount Zion Association as Superintendent of Missions to resume work of a similar nature in Gaffney, S. C. The Reverend Charles L. McMillan, Jr., is the new Superintendent in Mount Zion. The Reverend E. V. Plemmons retired as Superintendent of Missions in the Buncombe Association and the Reverend John G. Hicks is the new Superintendent for the Buncombe. The Reverend Dan Page resigned as Superintendent of Missions in the Flat River Association to accept associational work in Greenville, S. C. In March the Reverend J. W. Myers became Superintendent of Missions for the Cheoah-Tennessee River Association. Also Mrs. Winfrey Luffman, who was Interim in the Elkin Association, was made full-time Superintendent of Missions for that association in June. Two of our fine Superintendents of Missions are to retire December 31, 1972. These are Lewis E. Ludlum in the Pilot Mountain Association, and C. O. Greene in the King Mountain Association. We regret the Reverend Guy Cain, Director of the Annuity Department, will retire on December 31. We are happy to welcome the Reverend Sam O'Neal who will begin work as Director of the Annuity Department on January 1, 1973. All of these have our prayers and best wishes in this new phase of their life.

The Convention assists in work among Orientals in the Atlantic, New River and New South River Associations. We are joining in the support of Spanish Language work in Charlotte. In addition, a co-operative ministry with the Home Mission Board is carried on at Cherokee and in the Burnt Swamp Associations. The Cherokee Child Care Ministry at Cherokee has had a good year. The average enrollment thus far this year is 48 children.

The Convention has in operation a loan fund designed to assist small churches in building. During the first nine months of the calendar year, five (5) loans have been made. Fourteen (14) have requested applications. The maximum loan is $7,500. The interest rate is 4½ per cent. The loan is designed for mission churches that must have assistance in their building program.

The division is indebted to the office secretaries who serve with ability and Christian commitment.

We are blessed with seven able Department Directors. Their reports follow.

1. Chaplaincy Ministries Department

JOSEPH V. WATTERSON, Director

The Chaplaincy Ministries Department of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention continues to work in cooperation with the Chaplaincy Commission of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. Our work lies in the same four areas as does the work of the Chaplains Commission, i.e. Hospital, Industrial (including business and industry), Institutional and Military Chaplaincies.

In the year just ending the work has grown. Our mailing lists include some new chaplains, and others of longer standing whose names have been brought to our attention by various sources. They number 153, including 81 full-time chaplains and 72 part-time. Comparable figures last year were 125, 69, and 56 respectively. Full-time figures in Hospital and Institutional Chaplaincies include those in full-time advanced training. Part-time figures include retirees, the various Military Reserves, National Guard and Civil Air Patrol Chaplains as well as those who serve on part-time basis, either paid or unpaid, in other chaplaincy functions.

The Department continues to encourage chaplains to view their work with both denominational and interdenominational perspective, to be an arm in support of, and in outreach for, the local church. In so doing the Department logically works within your Division of Mission Ministries and within the framework of our General Board Program.

Liaison between all Baptist Chaplains in military locations in North Carolina and the Baptist State Convention continues to be gratefully received and to bring appropriate response. The Department has had some opportunity, too, to encourage the local baptist church to minister in every possible way to its own members in military service.

We have established good relations with Baptist Chaplains in industry, and we are seeking effective means for encouraging industrialists to consider the establishment of chaplaincy positions on staffs in larger numbers. Since we now are able to offer rather conclusive proof that the Chaplain in industry or big business more than pays his own way, it seems logical that such staff positions should become far more widespread.

As opportunity arises our office serves in advisory capacity to hospital units and correctional institutions, as well as to industry, where interest is expressed in chaplaincy establishment. In this we work closely with the School of Pastoral Care in our Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, and with similar training facilities in Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill and in Duke University.

Our Department works with other departments within the Convention Staff, with Superintendents of Missions and other denominational leaders in promotion of the Convention Program, including the special offerings which are so vital to all that we do. Our office supervises those chaplains, in Correctional Institutions only at this time, to whom our Convention pays a small sum for part-time work. The Convention does not furnish salary for any full-time Chaplain.

Our work for the closing year has included a Chaplain/Pastors Workshop in each of the three major areas of Military concentration in North Carolina, Camp Lejeune, Fort Bragg, Pope Air Force Base, and the Marine Air Base in Cherry Point. Many visits have resulted in closer relationships between chaplains, pastors, associational mission leaders and our Department. Messages concerning the Department specifically have been brought to Associational Ministers Conferences, WMU meetings and similar groups on 29 occasions, in addition to numerous sermons and speeches in support of our total work. Three weeks were spent in World Missions Conferences, plus three weeks in active participation in Cooperative Conferences originating in other departments of the Convention. Plans are complete at this writing for a Chaplains' Renewal Retreat to take place October 3-5 hopefully an annual event in future years. Plans also include two area pilot conferences, one day each in separate ends of the State, to inform Superintendents of Missions and other key leaders about the chaplaincy in detail. These conferences are to be followed in 1974 by a conference in each of the ten regions of our state work to bring this detailed information to pastors and lay leaders.

Messages delivered	178
Visits	468
Counseling	215
Prayer services	3
Conversions	15
Classes taught	75
Tracts & periodicals distributed.....	2,707
Miles traveled	11,817

2. City and Metropolitan Missions Department

ERNEST C. UPCHURCH, Director

City and Metropolitan Missions Department's objective is to work with and to assist associations and churches and their committees in determining missions opportunities. This includes analyzing trends, developing growth studies, discovering new cooperative adventures and coordinating urban missions interests. The Department programs are designed in keeping with the policies of the General Board's Division of Missions ministries of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, in cooperative agreements with the Home Mission Board.

During the year of 1972, several major achievements have been made in three distinct programs of work:

I. ASSOCIATIONAL AND URBAN CHURCH MISSIONS

A. Statewide Metropolitan Missions Conference was held at the Green Street Baptist Church in High Point, North Carolina, February 25-26, 1972. Outstanding speakers for the event included Dr. Walker Knight and Miss Beverly Hammack of the Home Mission Board, SBC, Atlanta, Georgia and Dr. Randall Lolley, pastor of First Baptist Church, Winston-Salem, and many other distinguished pastors and leaders across the state of North Carolina. The attendance at this meeting, in spite of the rain, was very gratifying.

B. The Urban Seminar was held July 10-August 4, 1972 in co-operation with the Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary and the Home Mission Board. Dr. E. Luther Copeland and Dr. Thomas Bland, professors of Missions and Christian Ethics, directed the co-operative event. Thirty-two theological students and pastors were privileged to attend. Each student prepared a written paper on some phase of the urban work in the Research Triangle area. This was considered an outstanding ministry in research and field ministry activities.

C. The Shopping Center Ministry was continued in the North Hills area with Jim Whitaker, a student from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, serving in this capacity. In view of the crisis ministry of the shooting event, Jim Whitaker was on hand and rendered invaluable spiritual assistance to the victims of this tragic event. There are many other cities that need the Shopping Center Ministry. However, unavailable funds limit the expansion of this work at this time.

D. Pastoral Aid — The Department assisted 29 churches with pastoral assistance in an approximate amount of $32,000. The following statistics reveal some accomplishment of the work: sermons preached, 2,345; other addresses, 1,011; visits, 9,373; baptisms, 330; additions by letter, 321; conversions, 390; restorations, 80; church membership, 5,265.

E. Lot Aid—The Department assisted 23 churches with lot aid assistance amounting to $25,000.

II. CHRISTIAN SOCIAL MISSIONS

(directed toward rural and urban areas)

A. Associational Christian Social Missions — There are 6 full-time associational Christian Social Missions programs in our state. They are found in the following associations: Dan Valley, Mecklenburg, New South River, Gaston, Raleigh and Pilot Mountain. There is a need for additional full-time Christian Social Missions programs, and we are adding to this ministry as funds and personnel will permit. At the present time we are working on a new project in the western part of the State. This project is too incomplete to mention at this writing; but it is hoped by another year it will be activated and rendering a ministry for the glory of God.

The associational Christian Social Missions include work in the following areas:

(1) Church-Community Weekday Missions—This ministry involves preschool and school age children and continues ministries even to the aged.

(2) The Baptist Center Program—Neighborhood Centers and modified Centers can adapt to this phase of Christian ministry.

(3) Youth and Family Services Missions—This ministry majors on the youth and his family in trouble. There are many problems with the so-called juvenile delinquent and their families; the problem of drug addiction, the problem of alcohol, and the problem of prison. This ministry has a three-fold approach: prevention, control and rehabilitation.

(4) Literacy Missions—Literacy work is designed to reach the adult nonreader and the slow achiever at school. In a recent census approximately 380,000 such adults (25 and up) in our state qualify for assistance in this ministry. Also, there is a great need to help the underachiever in school with a tutoring ministry. Many schools and communities are responding to this need. Remarkable progress has been made this year in the Statesville area under Mr. R. C. Johnson's leadership.

(5) Migrant Missions—Migrant missions continue to be a challenge in the agricultural area of our state. It is estimated that approximately 12 to 15 thousand people pass through our state annually assisting in harvesting crops and then moving on to other areas of work. The Atlantic Association has cooperated with this Department in the employment of a summer missionary, who has ministered effectively to the migrants during their stay.

The Carolina Association has cooperated this year with an inter-faith group in migrant missions in their area of the state.

(6) Disaster Relief—This phase of Christian Social Missions is designed to assist in emergency needs in the State.

B. Baptist Centers—The Baptist Center programs in Eden, Raleigh, Winston-Salem, and Gastonia have had wonderful ministries this year.

(1) The Dan Valley Center, Eden, North Carolina, had a guest church youth group from First Baptist Church, Kannapolis, North Carolina. The youth group was directed by Dr. Charles C. Coffey, pastor, and the Reverend Norman Brisson, and the Reverend Carl Beard, staff associates. The youth group did a wonderful job in assisting the Reverend Marvin Southard in a weekday camp feature along with teaching the musical aspects of the program.

(2) Patterson Avenue Baptist Center of Winston-Salem, directed by Mrs. Rachel Swearingen, has had a very good year. Mrs. Swearingen, assisted by a student group from Wake Forest University and volunteers from First Baptist Church in Winston, has carried on a very effective program. This year, by mutual agreement, the State and the Home Mission Board are committing their part of the program to First Baptist Church of Winston-Salem, who is planning to staff this work and continue the ministry as long as it is feasible. The plans call for a new road through this community, which may mean the loss of the Center building. Also, it is a changing community with many of the homes going without any replacement. Time will tell the outcome of this work. However, we rejoice that First Baptist Church is willing to continue in this ministry.

(3) The Raleigh Baptist Center—The Raleigh Baptist Center, under the direction of the Reverend Roy L. Hood and Miss Ann Wootton, has had a very fruitful year. Miss Wootton has conducted weekday missions and related community missions as far as her time would permit. Also, she has attended a seminar in Urban Studies at Southeastern Seminary during the summer months to prepare her for better planning and working with inner-city groups.

(4) The Gaston Baptist Center—The Gaston Baptist Center is under the direction of Mrs. Jerry Strickland and Mrs. Kitty Keaton. The Baptist Center has been remodeled. A new bus was placed into operation the latter part of last year and has served well during this year.

C. Youth and Family Service Missions—Directors for Youth and Family Services are located in several areas of the State. Full-time youth and family service directors serving in the Raleigh and the Yates Associations are the Reverend Roy Hood and the Reverend Boyce Kimball. Part-time directors serve in the following associations: the Reverend Joe B. Church, Catawba River; the Reverend Robert G. Canipe, Central; the Reverend Fred McGehee, Kings Mountain; the Reverend Travis Styles, Mount Zion; and the Reverend R. C. Johnson, Sr.; South Yadkin. These men work as church and associational related liaison men with the District Court personnel and assist in the rehabilitation of youth in trouble.

III. INTERFAITH WITNESS MISSIONS

The Interfaith Witness Missions is a ministry of dialogue and information with other faiths and internationals in our state. An endeavor of outstanding significance held in our state this year at Wild Acres Lodge, Little Switzerland, North Carolina was a seminar on Jewish work under the auspices of the Home Mission Board. A select group of pastors, professors, educators, both Baptist and Jewish and some of other faiths, came together in dialogue in relation to Baptist and Jewish work.

Two conferences were held in interfaith witness in our state—one in Asheville, North Carolina and the other in Raleigh, North Carolina during September 1972. Dr. Glenn Igleheart and Dr. M. Thomas Starkes of the Home Mission Board staff and Dr. E. Luther Copeland, Professor of Missions, Southeastern Seminary assisted us in these conferences, both of which proved to be very fruitful to the work.

V. CONCLUSIONS

1972 has been a challenging year for urban missions ministries. Many achievements have been made. Yet, there remains much challenge before us in 1973. For the achievements we say, "Thanks to God, the Convention's administration, the associations and the churches, the field staff—full- and part-time associates, to Department office secretary and all of whom have contributed to these accomplishments. To God be the glory."

3. Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute

E. GARY HARTHCOCK, Administrator

Since the tragic fire of September 1, 1971, the Baptists of North Carolina have responded to such a degree that a new classroom building to replace the old one will be completed in the fall of 1972. This new facility will contain eight classrooms, an auditorium seating 300, a book store and a student area. The staff, faculty and student body of the Institute are deeply grateful for the financial commitments being made year by year by North Carolina Baptists until the new building and the recently built library-administration building are paid for.

2. FRUITLAND BAPTIST CONFERENCE CENTER

The Conference welcomed the return of the Girls' camping program after an absence of a few years. To make weeks of summer camping available to more girls the WMU conducted one week at Fruitland during the summer of 1972 and is planning two weeks for the summer of 1973.

While not as full as anticipated, the overall 1972 attendance at the Conference Center exceeded that of 1971. A total of 814 registrants participated in either the week-long or the week-end conferences this year.

Improved summer facilities for boys and girls were offered this year and were received very well by all who used them. The four remodeled barracks should make future conference weeks much more inviting.

4. Insurance and Annuity Department

GUY S. CAIN, Director

The Annuity Board has a new chief executive officer for the first time in 17 years. Darold H. Morgan became president on March 1 when R. Alton Reed retired.

Assets of the Board have passed the $300 million mark. These are funds held in trust for persons contributing to retirement plans, or to use to pay monthly benefits.

The Annuity Board adopted new guidelines for investment of funds held in trust for retirement plans. Changes in investment policies will produce greater benefits to present and future beneficiaries. As a basic policy, the Board has always refrained from investment in industries such as tobacco or liquor. In recent years, the Board has also given consideration to ecological attitudes, employment policies and other moral questions. The aim still remains to invest for the largest possible returns in keeping with safety of monetary and morality factors.

The Annuity Board provides retirement pension plans for 36,000 pastors, church staff, and denominational agency employees. It pays monthly retirement benefits to about 8,000 people who have retired from full time church-related services to churches and the denomination. Over $10 million in retirement benefits were paid in 1971 to beneficiaries, which included two separate issues of the "13th Check." This with the increase resulting from a change of rate on annuity tables made it possible for annuitants last year to receive 29 per cent more than originally promised.

The Board also provides insurance coverage for church and denominational employees but does not write the insurance itself. Nearly 5,000 individuals are enrolled in the Life Benefit Plan. Another 6,890 are enrolled in Group Life Insurance through the churches. Church Long-Term Disability has 6,782 active members. More than 13,000 participated in the Health Benefit Plan offering medical and hospitalization coverage. Claims exceeded premiums paid into this plan last year.

The Board will again this year provide member statements to active retirement plan participants. This statement will show the personal account, including amount built up, and anticipated income at normal retirement age if present contributions continue until then.

In the Southern Baptist Convention there are 19,039 churches and associations with 21,013 employees currently participating in the Protection Program. In North Carolina 1,983 churches and association and 2,325 employees participate. From January through August of 1972 the North Carolina Annuity Department enrolled 102 new members in Plan A of the Southern Baptist Protection Program.

Guy S. Cain retires as Director of this Department January 1, 1973. Sam H. O'Neal will be the new Director.

5. Interracial Ministries

CORBIN L. COOPER, Director

The best way to describe the relationships between the General Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina is with the term "Cooperative Ministries." The primary objective of our department, since its beginning in 1957, has been to establish, strengthen, and promote cooperative efforts among the members of these two bodies. In addition, an effort is made to provide personnel and resource materials for teaching and training programs in churches upon request.

A very successful Human Relations Retreat was held at Camp Caraway, Asheboro, in May. Pastors and laymen gathered for fellowship and dialogue under the able leadership of Dr. J. Archie Hargraves and Dr. Carlyle Marney. A similar retreat is planned for May 21-22, 1973, at Lake Junaluska, near Waynesville. Everyone is invited to attend.

Some of the exciting variety of ministries co-sponsored by the two state conventions during the summer months are as follows:

- A weekday youth ministry at Mount Zion Baptist Church, Asheville, directed by Mrs. Alcovia McCall and Dr. J. W. White.
- Camp Amigo for underprivileged children with the Baptist Metropolitan Ministries, Charlotte, directed by Mr. Ed Echerd.
- The Inter-Church Enrichment Program at Shiloh Baptist Church, Greensboro, directed by Mrs. Lessie Horne and the Reverend Otis Hairston.
- A variety of community ministries through the Raleigh Baptist Center under the direction of Mr. Roy Hood.
- Youth ministries in two housing projects in Winston-Salem, directed by Mr. George Shore.

Employed to work with these and other summer ministries were 19 college students and 8 adults.

Another important ministry of this department is the Student Aid Fund through which black college students who are interested in church related vocations may receive small grants. During the past year over $3,000 was made available to some 16 students enrolled in the following schools: Shaw University, St. Augustine's College, Campbell College, Mars Hill College, Livingstone College, Southeastern Seminary, Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute, and Western Carolina University.

On June 13, 1972, Robert G. Murray of Boston, Massachusetts was selected as the new Director of the United Campus Christian Ministry in service to the North Carolina Central University community. Mr. Murray succeeds Herbert H. Eaton who resigned to pursue postgraduate studies at Howard University.

A joint committee of the two state conventions has made plans to recommend a statewide convention of these two groups to be held in 1974. Another committee is planning a statewide youth convention for that same year. Activities of a smaller magnitude continue to be planned and co-sponsored by both bodies. It is hoped that the Holy Spirit will open more eyes and hearts to the possibilities of greater ministries as our efforts continue.

Those who serve as agents of these cooperative ministries in addition to summer workers and the department director are Mrs. Mary E. Washington, Office Secretary, C. C. Craig, Raleigh; Leo Williams, Jr., Raleigh; J. Z. Alexander, Raleigh; Benjamin Daniels, Winston-Salem; and Mrs. Alcovia O. McCall, Asheville. The large number of preaching, teaching and training programs conducted throughout the year by these staff members is too great to enumerate. However, they are experienced, dedicated and willing to serve the churches and associations when invited to do so.

6. Town and Country and Seminary Extension

ROY J. SMITH, Director

The objective of the Town and Country and Seminary Extension Department is two-fold: (1) Work with small town and rural churches in a program of overall church development; and (2) Promote the state-wide ministries of Resort Missions, Mountain Missions, Weeks of Christian Study and Fellowship, and Seminary Extension.

The Rural-Urban Department of the Home Mission Board and the Seminary Extension Department of the Southern Baptist Convention participate in the ministry of this department.

Mrs. Nita Robertson is the office secretary.

SEMINARY EXTENSION

The Seminary Extension program continues to be an effective tool for pastoral training, lay leadership development and continuing education for church leaders. The program design for Seminary Extension is built around a Three Level Curriculum.

1. The Basic Curriculum in an "easy reading" program, using nontechnical terminology. Five courses are presently available in the Basic Curriculum: (1) Understanding the Bible; (2) The Life of Christ; (3) The Work of A Pastor; (4) How to Prepare and Deliver A Sermon; and (5) English. Two additional courses, The Pastor as Leader and Great Men of the Bible are scheduled for publication early this year.

2. The College Level Curriculum covers courses in the areas of biblical studies, theological studies, historical studies and practical studies.

3. The Continuing Education Curriculum is developed on a Master's Degree level with flexibility to meet the needs of alumni capable of functioning on an even higher academic level.

This past year forty-four centers were in operation in North Carolina. Financial assistance in the form of student scholarships and teacher's honoraria is provided where needed.

In August of this year Southeastern Seminary cooperated with this department in providing two weeks special studies, with two semester hours credit for Seminary Extension teachers and prospective teachers.

PASTORAL AID—LOT AID

Forty-three churches and missions in twenty-five associations received pastoral aid during 1972. Seven of these mission pastors are students and four are serving fields of two or more churches. Several of these men receive aid for one church, but have other churches.

Fourteen churches in twelve associations received aid on the purchase of church lots. These mission grants ranged from $500.00 to $1,500.00.

In the allocation of the mission funds, priority is given to churches joining together in a field of work, student pastors, and churches with unusual missionary opportunities.

RESORT MISSIONS

1972 was a boom year for tourism in North Carolina. More than 40 million out-of-state tourists added to the increased recreational activities of North Carolina residents, taxed the resort facilities of our state from the mountains to the sea.

Baptist sponsored ministries were conducted at 62 resorts from Cherokee in the mountains to Kitty Hawk on the Outer Banks. The Home Mission Board appointed six summer missionaries who worked in resort ministries at Cherokee, Carolina Beach, Wrightsville Beach, White Lake and Lake Gaston. Eighteen students from within the state were utilized in ministries of other areas.

In addition to special summer missionaries, pastors, associational missionaries, and interested lay people served in various capacities in this growing ministry.

The ministries are varied and flexible, reflecting the imagination and creativity of local leadership and the desire to meet the needs of each given area.

Contact this Department for detailed information concerning location and type of ministry.

WEEK OF CHRISTIAN STUDY

A capacity enrollment of more than 500 people attended the annual week of Christian Study and Fellowship at Mars Hill College, July 3-7, 1972. Worship, Bible study, fellowship, and relaxation are the emphases of the week. Planned activities are provided for each age group.

Program personalities this year included Mr. Hal Shoemaker, music director, Dr. John Lewis, Bible teacher, Dr. Wayne Ward, preacher, and Mr. David Moore, teacher of Senior High, and Rev. George Shore, leader of 9-13 age group.

Special messages were brought by Dr. W. Perry Crouch, Dr. J. B. Humphries, and Rev. Tom Freeman.

Meals are the only cost of those attending. The Town & Country Mission Department, Mars Hill College, and Mars Hill Baptist Church provide facilities and program personnel.

TRUETT CAMP

Truett Camp in Hayesville has just completed a very successful year under the leadership of resident director, Ralph Easterly. Two hundred-eighty two campers were enrolled in camp. There were 21 professions of faith, 73 rededications, and one volunteer for church related vocation.

Physical improvements at the camp include the construction of a new, enlarged swimming pool.

Truett camp is jointly sponsored by the Baptist State Convention and the Churches in Region 10.

6a. Mountain Ministries

LUTHER OSMENT, Area Missionary

We are grateful to our Heavenly Father for the rewards of our mountain ministry work. A highlight of the year's activities was a successful World Missions Week in New Found Association—the first in the history of the association. Another feature was an excellent Preacher's Camp Meeting at Camp Truett, as well as workshops and Bible studies for pastors in a number of the twenty associations throughout the mountain area.

In the month of March, 26 representatives of State Mission work toured the six most western associations, speaking in the churches concerning our program of mission outreach. Ninety-two (92) churches participated.

Luther Osment, our Western N. C. area missionary has maintained a crowded speaking-teaching schedule, typified by "M" Night addresses in five associations. From his office in Sylva, Mr. Osment works with the 1,200 churches of the mountain area in the fields of evangelistic outreach, church development, leadership training and cooperative ministries. Also direction is given to the work of Truett Camp.

7. Deaf Ministries

JERRY POTTER, Director
NEAL PEYTON, Associate

"Jesus said, 'He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit.' (John 15:5.) A young deaf boy accepted Christ as his Saviour in camp this past summer. Two months later he came to Neal Peyton during one of Neal's monthly visits to the school for the deaf at Morganton. This new Christian brought with him another deaf boy and told Neal that he also wanted to receive Christ. The young Christian had been witnessing to him and now his friend wanted to also receive Christ as Saviour.

Both missionaries visit the schools for the deaf at Morganton and Wilson each month. We enjoy complete freedom to minister to the spiritual needs of the boys and girls. A third school will soon be opening at Greensboro and we anticipate a regular ministry there also.

Words cannot express the deep appreciation we feel for the interpreters who work with the deaf throughout North Carolina. This large group of men and women give their time and energy so that the deaf can be a part of God's church. Most of them, at one time or another, are teaching other hearing people sign language. Again, His branches are bearing fruit!

Yet, there are many who can echo the plaintive cry found in Jeremiah 8:20, "The harvest is past, the summer is ended and we are not saved." May we depend on your prayerful support we shout to these in sign language, "Whosoever will, may come!"?

8. Department of Communications

JIMMY MORRISS, Director

The Department of Communications promotes the total Baptist program through the divisions of the General Board, its agencies, institutions and associations. Program promotion is carried out through assistance to the departments of the General Board as well as statewide news releases and radio and television productions.

I. AUDIO VISUAL AIDS

A. Film Library

During the past year, the department booked more than 11,042 free rental films. We estimate that approximately 67 per cent of the churches in the Convention are using audio-visual aids regularly. An ever increasing number of kindergartens and day-care centers are making use of the film library in their teaching programs. The department encourages planning for a basic library of audio-visuals at both associational and church levels, with supplementary titles provided by the department library. At present, this library has over 2,650 titles covering every aspect of denominational endeavor. More than 6,296 orders have had to be refused because films requested were already booked and therefore not available. The department provides a complete catalog to churches containing all film titles and audio tapes.

B. Film Production

Among the films produced this year are THE DARE TO BE, a 45 minute sound color motion picture emphasizing the value of Christian education through the ministry of Chowan College. The film depicts the campus, facilities, program and philosophy of Chowan through a dramatic story of two typical students. The second film production this year is GOD SAID 'GO', a 45 minute sound, color motion picture illustrating the contributions made by the people of Ashe-Alleghany Associations to the Baptist life of the state through the life of Rev. J. F. Fletcher, pioneer mountain missionary in this area.

The department also produced some 300 color slides and several hundred black and white pictures illustrating the various ministries of the Baptist program in the state.

C. Communications Conferences.

Every other year, a statewide Communications Conference is held to educate and motivate church staff and lay leaders in the various methods of Christian communication. Nineteen seventy-two was the year for this conference which was held at the First Baptist Church in Greensboro in May. Conferences and clinics in communications were held at Southeastern Seminary, Ridge Road Church, Raleigh; Clemmons Baptist Church and Gardner-Webb College. Conferences to assist in setting up campus radio networks were held at Campbell and Gardner-Webb colleges.

D. Audio Aids.

More than 3,400 messages were reproduced at the request of pastors and churches this year. Major messages from the Conference on Evangelism, Meredith Week of Christian Studies, the annual Baptist State Convention sessions, and the General Baptist Convention of North Carolina were taped and placed in our master library, bringing the total number of master messages to more than 550.

II. GRAPHIC ARTS.

Over 250 individual lay-outs were designed and prepared for printing this year. These included posters, programs, folders, forms and stationery. Newsletters from the various departments are also the responsibility of the department.

III. NEWS SERVICE.

Our responsibility to provide news coverage of state Baptist work to some 485 newspapers, radio and television stations and all associational missionaries culminated in some 20 articles for state-wide release.

IV. TELEVISION AND RADIO

The department continues to produce the network series, LIGHT UNTO MY PATH, a mission work of the Convention to the deaf, the aging and the unchurched. The program is presented over a statewide network of stations including WRAL-TV, Raleigh; WLOS-TV, Asheville; WFMY-TV, Greensboro; WBTV, Charlotte; and WNCT-TV, Greenville. Also providing coverage for North Carolina is WIS-TV, Columbia, S. C. The series is carried by 12 other stations outside the state, sponsored by a church or convention in that state.

Also produced on a sustaining basis are LISTEN, AMERICA!, a 30 minute color telecast presenting Christian young people with talent and testimony to their faith. This team of young people have also led out, at the invitation of the associations, in crusades in the Burnt Swamp, Tar River, Little River and Yates Associations. Other productions include BIBLE STORY TIME, a weekly color telecast for pre-school children, CHURCH OF OUR FATHERS, a weekly 30 minute religious news program which features over 50 interviews with church leaders each year, LIGHT FOR LIVING, a daily brief meditation which is carried over stations in Raleigh, Charlotte and Greenville. Television specials include THANKSGIVING IN RALEIGH, a unique interfaith program produced in cooperation with the Raleigh Ministerial Association and the American Guild of Organists; as well as seasonal specials supporting the Christian aspects of Easter, July 4th, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years. A special hour-long music drama was produced for statewide distribution during the Easter season. THE NAZARENE was produced in cooperation with the Snyder Memorial Baptist Church of Fayetteville and received excellent response from both audience and station management.

Radio productions include weekly programs such as INTERNATIONAL BIBLE LESSON, carried currently on 7 stations in the state and RELIGIOUS NEWS SCOPE, a weekly 4-6 minute news broadcast featuring inter-faith news of the state. This program is currently being carried on 65 stations in the state.

V. DRAMA

Assistance in church drama is offered in an effort to include the dramatic arts as an effective tool in communicating the Gospel message. Two dramas have been undertaken this year.

VI. OTHER AREAS

The department has two summer workers at the assemblies showing some 300 films and special sound presentations each season. Equipment and supplies for both Fruitland and Caswell are provided through the department as are those used at Caraway and Mundo Vista. We assisted the Department of Town and Country Missions in the presentation of filmed presentations in five resort areas this year. The department also provides audio-visual equipment for each staff member of the General Board for field use.

Mission messages were presented at associational meetings in Tar River, Surry and Sand Hills Associations.

D. DIVISION OF EVANGELISM

WILLIAM C. LAMB, Director

JIMMY D. HINSON, Associate Director

It is significant to mention the 29,713 baptisms during 1971. This was an increase of 8.9 per cent over the previous year. Also, this was the largest total baptisms since 1964, and the largest net increase for any year since 1954. It is our hope that baptisms will continue to increase this year and each succeeding year as more Christians become involved in the ministry of evangelism.

After serving in a most efficient manner for over ten years as Office Secretary, Mrs. Shirley Stanis resigned in August to go to Athens, Greece, where her husband now serves as a Navy Chaplain. The Executive Committee of the General Board elected Mrs. Hope Christian as Office Secretary, effective August 21, 1972.

26TH STATEWIDE EVANGELISM CONFERENCE

On February 7-9, 1972, the 26th Statewide Evangelism Conference was held at Snyder Memorial Baptist Church and Cumberland County Memorial Auditorium, Fayetteville. The theme was "Abundant Life in Christ." During the Monday afternoon session persons attended separate special conferences with the emphasis on practical phases of evangelism. Special recognition was given to Dr. Charles B. Howard as Honorary Chairman, even though he could not be present, due to his health.

The speakers were Wayne Dehoney, Pastor, Walnut Street Church, Louisville, Kentucky; W. Kenneth Goodson, Bishop of Alabama and northwest Florida, United Methodist Church, Birmingham, Alabama; Dale Moody, Professor of Christian Theology, Southern Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky; Nathan Porter, Director of Student Evangelism, Home Mission Board, Atlanta, Georgia; Sandy F. Ray, Pastor, Cornerstone Church, Brooklyn, New York; William L. Self, Pastor, Wieuca Road Church, Atlanta, Georgia; Gene L. Watterson, Pastor, First Church, Shelby; Jay H. Waugh, Jr., Evangelist, Burlington; and Bruce E. Whitaker, President, Chowan College, Murfreesboro. Miss Joe Ann Shelton was Soloist and Miss Loeen Bushman was Pianist of Fort Worth, Texas. A half night of prayer was held at First Church, Fayetteville.

LAY EVANGELISM SCHOOLS

The response of youth and adults to the Lay Evangelism Schools across our state and nation is tremendous. The purpose is to train youth and adults how to witness in a more effective manner to non-Christians. Each evening — Monday through Wednesday — there is a Bible Study period, a Creative Activity period with four persons sharing in each group, and a Witness-Learning Action period. On Thursday evening the trainees make witnessing visits to the homes of unsaved persons.

The concept of the Lay Evangelism School is a continuing effort. Every three months each trainee seeks to enlist one person from the church membership in order to involve more Christians in witnessing.

Since November 1, 1971, almost 7,000 youth and adults in more than 500 churches have participated in Lay Evangelism Schools. 150 persons have been trained to serve as Directors of schools across our state. Many associations are making definite plans for Lay Evangelism Schools in 1973.

YOUTH MINISTRIES WEEK

The first Youth Ministries Week was held at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly during June 12-16, 1972. The program consisted of Worship, Workshops and Sharing sessions, with the emphasis on evangelism, vocational guidance, and recreation. About 600 Junior and Senior High youth and adult leaders attended. Another similar week will be held next June.

2ND STATEWIDE YOUTH EVANGELISM NIGHT

14,500 youth and adults were present on August 18, 1972, at Greensboro Coliseum to hear Arthur Blessitt, Evangelist, Hollywood, California. 245 youth made decisions of various kinds during the service. Specific follow-up work was done with regard to all these decisions. Some others who shared on this program were: Bob Tremaine, Worcester, Massachusetts; Jamall Badry, Soloist, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and the Good News Singers of America, under the direction of Van Ramsey of Shelby.

The 27th Statewide Evangelism Conference will be February 5-7, 1973, at Ovens Auditorium, Charlotte.

E. DIVISION OF CHURCH PROGRAMS

NATHAN C. BROOKS, JR., Director

The reports of the Youth Ministries Service and the ten departments in the division follow. These reflect particularly the excitement, commitment and spiritual contributions of youth in North Carolina. On college campuses, in mission action activities, in summer programs, in music, and in routine church involvement there has been a resurgence of interest on the part of youth. In some places this has reached the stage of genuine revival. The field staff in the Division has sought to strengthen and aid this development.

At the same time, the Division personnel is seeking to assist the churches in a ministry to all ages and types of people. No church can afford to neglect any group while assisting others. Thus a new conference is projected, May 21-25, at Fort Caswell, for Senior Adults.

After years of leadership in Church Training, more recently as Department Director, Mr. Sam O'Neal will become Director of the Annuity and Insurance Department of the Convention on January 1. Mr. Maurice Cooper will succeed him as Director of the enlarged Department of Church Ministries and Training. Mrs. Judy Roberts has become a pool secretary in the Division. She replaces Mrs. Hope Christian who has transferred to the Evangelism Division. Other personnel changes will be noted in the department reports.

The major emphasis in 1973 will be upon "Together We Advance." This will mean that outreach, Bible teaching, leadership training, youth involvement, family life ministries, and the training of deacons will be major thrusts of the Division.

1. Youth Ministries Service

DAVIS BOWEN, Coordinator

The Youth Ministries Service is an intra-departmental effort to coordinate youth involvement in the churches. It attempts to guide youth and youth workers into a better understanding of Christian relationships and responsibilities.

It is hoped that the Baptist churches will realize the need to coordinate the youth organizations and youth involvement in their overall programs. This means that each organization can supplement and add to the programs of the other organizations. Workers in Sunday School, Church Training programs, Acteens, Pioneers and Youth Choirs need to work together in order to meet the needs of youth.

The Youth Advisory Committee, composed of persons responsible for the Youth Division in each department, works to plan, coordinate, and sponsor various youth activities. During the year several state-wide and area meetings are planned to involve youth. Each year there is at the present time a State Youth Council Retreat, High School Seniors' Retreat, the Baptist State Youth Convention, three Youth Conferences at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly, and State Youth Leadership Conferences.

The members of the Youth Advisory Committee are: Davis Bowen, Chairman; Nathan C. Brooks, Jr., Adviser; Jolene Ivey, Woman's Missionary Union; Kay Huggins, Student Department; Roy Smith, Town and Country Department; Corbin Cooper, Interracial Department; Charles Gatwood, Music Department; Rick Traylor, Church Training Department; Jack Clark, Sunday School Department; David Langford, Brotherhood Department; Jimmy Hinson, Evangelism Division.

The Youth Ministries Service is interested in helping churches develop a ministry with youth. At the request of churches Convention workers are available to come and help in the planning and the execution of youth programs and activities. It is suggested that a representative group of youth in the church be chosen to plan, correlate, promote, and evaluate the activities of the members in this age group. Involving youth is the best way to become aware of their needs and interests; to train them to be leaders; and to lead them to accept responsibility.

The Youth Ministries Service is interested in assisting churches in developing Youth Councils; planning retreats, dramas, fellowships, and banquets; and interpreting Bible study and outreach through mission action projects and activities.

2. Sunday School Department

BURREL F. LUCAS, Director

The Bible Teaching Program of the church has four significant tasks to be performed: 1. Teach the Biblical Revelation, 2. Reach persons for Christ and church membership, 3. Perform the functions of the church within its membership, and 4. Provide and interpret information concerning the work of the church and denomination.

The Sunday School Department will seek to achieve these tasks through two emphases for 1973: "Together We Advance" and "Share the Word Now." The annual theme emphasis will be "Living the Spirit of Christ in Faith and Conquest." Outreach will be the primary goal for each of these emphases.

Harry Clarke, Consultant in Adult work and Teacher Training; Mrs. Myra S. Motley, Consultant with Children's work, V. B. 3. Church Training Department

SAM H. O'NEAL, Director

Nineteen seventy-two has been another eventful year in the Church Training Department. The Church Training ministry continues to be one of the most flexible and challenging areas of our Christian commitment. There are new materials and innovative ministries continuing to emerge within the framework of this department's responsibility. Much of this will be reflected in the following report.

One of the great challenges which remains is the need for an efficient and well trained corps of leaders in the local church. This leadership must be creative and be familiar with the latest materials, educational concepts, and opportunities for ministry if the people are to receive a challenge.

Part of this innovative approach and broader base of the educational ministry is reflected in the name change for this department. As of January 1, 1973 this department will be known as the Department of Church Ministries and Training. This will be reflected in field engagements, staff members responsibilities, and special ministries and activities designed to assist the local church and association.

PERSONNEL

There have been personnel changes and adjustments during the previous year. January 1, 1973 K. Maurice Cooper will become director of this department. On that date Sam H. O'Neal, who has been director of this department for the past six years will become director of the Annuity Department. Rick Traylor continues to serve as director of the Youth Division and the Baptist Youth Corps. Doris Morgan continues to serve as director of the Pre-school Division with special responsibilities in the area of Creative Arts, Children's Division, and North Carolina Baptist Assembly. Miss Judith Scarborough joined the department staff January 1, 1972 as assistant office secretary. Mrs. Richard Boggs continues to serve as office secretary and receptionist. Miss Judy Hendrix resigned as director of the Children's Division, August 15, in order to do graduate work at the University of Missouri.

In addition to the department staff members training has been provided for a special corps of consultants strategically located throughout the state. These consultants work with staff members in special assignments as they are needed.

1972 ACTIVITIES

Nineteen seventy-two has been a very rewarding and busy year. We have moved into some new creative activities such as the Festival of the Creative Arts and the Bible Blitz ministry for Youth. These have been exciting and rewarding experiences as well as learning opportunities for each of us.

Of course, it is impossible to recite every activity staff members have been involved in during the past year. However, some of the activities are as follows:

1. Four Statewide Scripture Exploring Drill tournament finals—one at Fruitland; one at Asheboro, First Baptist Church; two at Caswell
2. Two Adult Church Training Seminars—one in Fayetteville; one in Charlotte
3. Two Church Training Assembly weeks
4. Two Youth Conferences at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly.
5. Ten briefing meetings for Associational Officers
6. Three Statewide Festival of the Creative Arts and Creative Leadership Conferences—one at Wilson; one at Greensboro; one at Morganton
7. Special training session for all consultants at CaRAway in April
8. Numerous Associational Leadership Schools, and one night leadership workshops and leadership conferences.

BAPTIST YOUTH CORPS

One of the challenging and rewarding ministries of the Church Training Department is the Baptist Youth Corps ministry. This is the cooperative ministry with our Baptist Colleges, individual churches, and the Baptist State Convention. Rick Traylor, associate in the Church Training Department gives the greatest portion of his time to directing this particular ministry. During the summer of 1972 there were 65 students serving through the Baptist Youth Corps throughout our state. Most of these students had a particular ministry with the youth in the churches where they have the privilege to serve. The Youth Corps workers participated in Orientation Week at Gardner-Webb College, May 29 to June 2. Following the Orientation Week they were assigned to churches across our state and then climaxed the summer program with a youth conference at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly.

FUTURE PLANS

With adjustments in department assignments and specialized ministries assigned to the department the future looks challenging and rewarding.

To give you some idea of the challenge, the following church ministries and activities are assigned to this department:

1. The Baptist Youth Corps
2. Ministry to Senior Adults
3. Ministry to Mentally Retarded
4. Deacon Training
5. Church Committee Training
6. Family Ministry
7. Special Retreats and Seminars

In addition to these special ministries and activities there must be a continuing emphasis upon the ongoing Church Training program, New Church Member Training and other areas of Training Union.

Many activities are already scheduled for 1973. Indications are that this department will be extremely busy with these exciting ministries and opportunities to serve the Baptists of North Carolina. Call upon us. We welcome the opportunity to serve throughout our great state.

4. Department of Student Work

JAMES Y. GREENE, Director

I. MINISTRY ON CAMPUS

Baptist Student Union and the Ministry of the staff of the Department of Student Work are a specialized focus of the denomination as it seeks to work with those in the academic community. In the various settings this campus ministry finds varying organizational expressions but each unit operates within a basic philosophy and guidelines decided upon by the Convention.

The building of Christian community is perhaps the major emphasis of the campus ministry. Worship, study, service, witness and fellowship are other major facets of the work.

II. MINISTRY ON STATE LEVEL

1. Chaplains' Seminar: Held January 9-13, 1972, at In-the-Oaks Conference Center, Black Mountain. 18 chaplains and student department personnel participated in worship, discussion, lectures and program planning.

2. High School Seniors' Retreat: Held (in cooperation with Youth Ministries) January 28-30, 1972, at Camp CaRAway with sixty-two high school seniors from twenty-eight churches participating. Program personnel for this retreat, the first of its kind held on a statewide basis were: Allen Burris, Vice-President and Academic Dean, Meredith College, Raleigh; Joe Capell, Director of Financial Aid, Louisburg College, Louisburg; Bill Simpson, Vice-Chancellor at N.C. State, Raleigh; Lyman Ferrell, Counselor and Psychology Professor at Gardner-Webb, Boiling Springs, and Bob Mullinax, Director of the Council on Christian Higher Education, Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, Raleigh.

3. Western Area Retreat: Held February 18-20, 1972, at Christmont Assembly, Black Mountain, involved several schools from that area and emphasized campus evangelism.

4. All Sports Weekend: Held March 3-4, 1972, at Mars Hill College, Mars Hill, a basketball tournament involving six male teams. The North Carolina Central University team won the tournament.

5. Spring Conference: Held at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly, Southport, April 14-16, 1972, with approximately 280 students and staff in attendance. The theme for the weekend was "To Create is to Relate is to Celebrate . . ." and students had the opportunity to express their faith and feeling about life through various art forms. Mel Williams, Associate Pastor, Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, Raleigh, was primary resource person for the conference.

Groups included: Visual Art, Milton Gilbert, Associate Pastor, Hayes Barton United Methodist Church, Raleigh; Banners and Collage, Susan Withrow, Minister to Youth at Zebulon Baptist Church, Zebulon; Music, David Moore, student, Southeastern Seminary, Wake Forest; Creative Writing, Norman Bowman, Editor of The Student, National Student Ministries, Nashville, Tennessee; Creative Movement, Lemma Mackie, WMU President, Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, Raleigh; Drama, Alton Buzbee, North Carolina School of the Arts, Winston-Salem; Junk Art or "Pop" Art, Bob Clyde, Baptist Chaplain, East Carolina, Greenville; Costume Design, Kay Clyde, wife of Bob Clyde; Environmental Design, Richard McBride, Assistant Chaplain, Wake Forest, Winston-Salem. The nine groups met in workshop on Saturday creating according to their group and shared by means of a Celebration Festival in an area designed by one of the groups. Students were also involved in business transactions such as the election and installation of new State BSU Officers: Jack Greene, President, David Hill, Vice President and Robbie Sharrett, Secretary. Betsy Newton, outgoing President, shared with the students her year as president. The Sunday morning worship service was one of commitment and dedication; a charge was given to those students who subsequently served as summer missionaries.

6. Conference for Church Workers with College Students: Held (in cooperation with National Student Ministries) on May 15-16 at East Carolina University BSU Center, Greenville, and May 18-19 at Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, designed for any church interested in ministering more effectively to and with its students. Program personnel included: Toby Hale, Assistant to the Dean, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem; Aubrey McLellan, Pastor, College Park Baptist Church, Greensboro; John Moore, Associational Missionary, South Roanoke Association; Dr. Doyle Baird, National Student Ministries, Nashville; Harry Clarke, Associate, Sunday School Department, Baptist State Convention of N. C., Raleigh.

7. Summer Service Programs:

Students raised a summer missions budget of $4,800 which included partial support of the Apostoloi, Intern, Dilworth and Resort Ministries teams.

A. Apostoloi: a team of six students spent eight weeks during the summer ministering in churches in the Theron Rankin Association.

Helen Cater, Promotional Secretary for the Association, and Al Andrews, Associate Pastor, First Baptist Church, Hickory, coordinated the efforts of the team. The thrust was toward youth and projects and included work with day camps, missions, coffeehouses, trailer park areas, youth revival services through the use of drama, music, fellowship, worship and Bible study. The team which reached over half of the churches in the Hickory area association and many other churches through associational events also served on the faculty for the Youth Bible Conference Week at Caswell.

B. Dilworth Project: A team of nine students and two chaplains (and their families) lived in a large house on the Queens College campus in the Dilworth area of Charlotte. They worked at regular jobs and struggled with developing a sense of community as well as served as student ministers in the area around them during their off-hours. This summer experiment in work and community was made possible through the cooperation of Ed Echerd, Director of Baptist Metropolitan Ministries and other ministers in the Dilworth Community.

C. Interns: A new form of internship program attempted to move beyond the "four walls of the church" in developing a ministry for the community. Six students served as interns in unusual situations that needed additional help, thus enabling the supervising ministers to expand their programs in ways that would otherwise have been impossible. These interns worked in situations at community centers involving all age groups from preschool to senior citizen; involved community youth in church programs, aided the church youth to develop their own programs and served in resort ministry areas both in the western and eastern parts of the state in addition to working along with regular church youth programs.

D. Resort Ministries Team: "Poems, Prayers and Promises," a team of 6 students who worked for nine weeks traveling more than 8,000 miles as they shared their faith through music at campgrounds, shopping centers, coffeehouses, beaches, piers, churches, schools, restaurants, T.V., radio, Caswell, etc. This group made an impact on youth using contemporary music (guitars, a bass and a tambourine) as the medium of sharing their faith. The team, primarily a resort ministries team, appeared in resort areas from Cherokee and Truett Camp in the west to Morehead City and Wilmington in the east in cooperation with Roy Smith of the Town and Country Department.

8. State Officers' Workshop: Met at Camp CaRAway September 15-17, 1972, with approximately 90 students, chaplains and state department staff making broad plans for the coming year. The weekend's activities offered workshops in the following areas: understanding human motivation, what the ministry of the BSU can mean to your campus, basic elements every functioning BSU should have, how to plan a calendar of activities, available materials and how to set goals. Monroe "Monk" Ashley, Director of Camp Ridgecrest for Boys, Ridgecrest; and Ed Rollins, National Student Ministries, Nashville, were special guests.

Fall Convention: Held November 3-5, 1972, at Ridgecrest Baptist Conference Center, Ridgecrest, students and leaders explored the theme, "Responding to His Love." The purpose of the convention was to help students better understand the meaning of God's love for man, man's love for God and man's love for man. Following presentations by Ed Christman (Chaplain, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem) on this theme, students broke up into small groups to give attention to the personal meaning in each of these areas. Another convention personality, Dr. Charles Boddie, President of the American Baptist Seminary, Nashville) led the entire group of students in singing and building community (in his own style). Ed Christman and Dr. Boddie were available at various times during the weekend for dialogue with the students. A business session was included in the program in addition to morning watch, Bible study and worship. Approximately 300 students attended the conference.

International Student Conference: Sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina and the Department of Student Work, Internationals and Americans met November 23-26, 1972, at the Ridgecrest Baptist Conference Center, Ridgecrest, Dr. Edward B. Lindaman, Space Scientist and President of Whitworth College, Spokane, Washington, was the featured speaker. "Mankind's Heritage of the Future" was the theme for the conference which was attended by approximately 100 students. Along with the small group talk-back sessions there was a time for cultural sharing, recreation, fellowship at meal time, a tour of the Cherokee Indian Reservation, celebration of an American Thanksgiving, and lunch with American families in Hickory.

9. Student Publications: Encouraged local BSU's to prepare local newsletters for better communication in working with students as they form outreach teams for sharing with churches near the campuses.

5. Church Music Department

JOSEPH O. STROUD, Director

"Church Music has come of age." These words were spoken recently by Mrs. Ruth Ninenger, the first State Music Secretary for the Arkansas Baptist State Convention and one of the truly great pioneers in church music in America. After seventeen years of organized work, these words are true for North Carolina Baptists. The year of 1972 has been one of the best years with a substantial increase in total involvement reported by the churches. Not only is there more music activity in the churches, but churches are reporting these activities as they have not done in the past. It is encouraging to know that many churches are seeing music as a means rather than an end within itself. Music is being used in mission outreach and evangelism. Especially is this true among the youth who are finding great excitement and effectiveness as their youth choirs participate in resort missions, sing in shopping centers, and conduct mission tours in the summer months. Music is being used to reach people and music is being used to proclaim the gospel message. Two ministers of music have recently enlisted youth choir singers and conducted a singing tour of Russia. We have made only a beginning. May there be many other choirs, both youth and adult, to engage in similar activities at home and abroad.

Festival Program for 1972—We are happy to report one of our best years with good participation in each of the twenty-one Regional Festivals, two State Children's Choir Festivals, the All-State Youth Choir Festival, and the Statewide Handbell Festival. Plans for the 1973 program are already in the hands of the churches.

Singing Churchmen—This is a choral group made up of seventy full-time ministers of music and directed by Charles Gatwood, Associate in the Department. They sang for the Baptist State Convention, gave a full concert in the St. John's Baptist Church of Charlotte, and performed for the Southern Baptist Convention in Philadelphia. This is a continuing group now with regular rehearsals and several performances during the year.

The North Carolina Baptist Church Music Conference held its annual retreat at the Ridgecrest Baptist Conference Center in April. Dr. John Hirt, renowned choral director of the University of Southern California, and Dr. W. J. Reynolds, Music Secretary for the Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tennessee, and others made an outstanding contribution to the work of approximately 110 music leaders present.

A Youth Celebration was planned and presented jointly by the Department and Mr. Davis Bowen, Youth Coordinator for the Division of Church Programs, in the Reynolds Coliseum of North Carolina State University, Raleigh. Mr. Elwyn Raymer, Youth Music Consultant of the Baptist Sunday School Board, was Master of Ceremonies. Outstanding vocal, choral, and instrumental groups from all over the state were invited to perform along with audience participation. It was one of the highlights of the year.

Summer Opportunities were well-attended: Youth-Adult Choral Workshop and Children's Choir Camp at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly, two Children's Choir Camps at Fruitland Conference Center, and a Youth Music Camp at Camp Truett, with approximately 2,200 persons in attendance.

Special Summer Worker Dr. Phil Perrin, who is on the faculty of Gardner-Webb College, was a busy man for twelve weeks, conducting music schools for smaller churches. One black church was served. A total of twenty-seven churches were reached with a total enrollment in classes of 625.

Other Departments—The Music Department directed the music for the annual session of the Baptist State Convention, the State-wide Conference on Evangelism, the Vacation Bible School Conference, the Chaplains' Renewal Retreat and Vacation Week at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly.

Music Schools—Twenty-four music schools were conducted during the year by the personnel of the Department with the assistance of ministers of music and selected workers. Some of these were central associational schools while others were for groups of churches or individual churches.

Four Music Leadership Conferences were conducted during September in four locations within the state with the assistance of the Music Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board. These conferences were planned to give guidance in music methods and materials to full-time, part-time, and volunteer music leadership, as well as to those who work with children and preschoolers in the churches. A good attendance was reported in each of these conferences.

Associational Officers' Planning Meetings were conducted personally by Mr. Stroud and Mr. Gatwood for approximately seventy associations who have elected music officers. These officers can be of great assistance in providing help to the leadership of smaller churches.

It has been a good year and Mr. Gatwood; Mrs. Peggy Wakefield, Office Secretary; and I are grateful for the opportunity of serving.

6. Church Building-Planning Department

RICHARD D. SMITH, Director

North Carolina Baptist are taking time to plan. This is evident in the busy schedule that has been followed during most of 1972. It seems that more and more churches are becoming aware of the assistance of the Church Architecture Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board in Nashville and the services rendered by the Church Building Department in Raleigh. With each State Building Conference, we have found renewed interest in taking the time necessary to plan adequately. This may show that in years past some of our churches built too hastily. This also gives evidence that churches are taking enough time so that the best use of space can be foreseen before actual construction begins. More and more committees are coming to our office to discuss their needs. We appreciate the committee letting us know in advance when they plan to come.

Flexibility seems to be the theme of most of our churches. This is especially true of the educational buildings. We believe that the church is wise in looking realistically at all existing space, and the best use of that space before new buildings are planned. This is especially true when new classes are being formed, or at the time of promotion. We want to be good stewards of all our physical facilities. Therefore, a realistic look at the present church plant may mean some age groups would need to change space with others. If there is an adult class in a large room, with only four or five attending, and then there is a preschool department in a small room with fourteen or fifteen in attendance, it would be wise to study the space and let the group that needs that space use it. This does not mean promoting the scattering of people all over the building, but it does mean that time should be taken to re-examine the numbers of people meeting in each of the departments or classes and the best use of space should be determined.

More and more of our churches are planning for recreational facilities. The Church Recreation Department of the Sunday School Board and the Youth Co-ordinator of the State Convention are spending a great deal of time in advising churches of the kind of facilities needed. We have found in this department that a church is wise to look first at their staff requirements to see if there is a person capable of conducting a recreational program for all ages. The second step is to have an adequate budget to take care of physical facilities as well as staff. Then a realistic look should be taken at the amount of space necessary to conduct the kind of activities desired in the church. Several churches in North Carolina have built gymnasiums and found them to be helpful in meeting the total needs of the congregation. These can be found in Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Charlotte, and Fayetteville. There are quite a few churches in the Greenville-Spartanburg, South Carolina area that have gymnasiums. Even more of our churches have activity buildings not the size of a gymnasium, but large enough to conduct many activities for each age group within the church.

Financing a church program and its buildings still is a challenge to all of us who are Baptist. Those churches that are looking forward to building programs are very wise to set aside a building fund. Even though there is an existing indebtedness, people will give quicker to a building program than they will to a debt retirement. Churches are being encouraged to look realistically at local financial institutions such as Savings and Loan Companies and Banks to see the most favorable financial programs. Even though most of our financial institutions have a surplus of money, the interest rate still seems to be very high for Baptist church loans. More churches are borrowing money through Bond Programs than through Savings and Loan Companies. We are encouraging churches to keep the total indebtedness within three times the annual receipts so that the debt retirement will not be so heavy as to damage future and existing programs.

During the last three years, churches in the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina have raised approximately $800,000 in Capital Funds Programs. This is an effort on the part of the church to help itself prior to going to outside lending agencies. This is a challenging program that will involve most of the congregation, and will encourage each user of the church as well as each member to contribute either weekly or bi-weekly to a building fund. These churches have found that the money thus raised does not have to be repaid with interest. They have also built greater interest in the building program, and in many instances this has made the difference in whether the church could build or not. If the debt potential was not strong enough, they found they had to raise additional funds in order to build what is needed.

During this year we have found it very helpful to provide several Mini Church Building Conferences. These have been conducted in areas that had quite a few churches requesting assistance in planning for future building. This is sometimes done on an Association level; or in some instances, for several Associations in close proximity to each other.

We are happy to report that we have additional assistance in that we have three pastors who have been trained as Regional Building Consultants. They are: A. J. Eure, Jr., pastor of the Providence Baptist Church, Harrisburg, N. C.; Jesse Head, pastor of Starnes Cove Baptist Church, Asheville, N. C.; and Ray Cumbee, pastor of Homestead Heights Baptist Church, Durham, N. C. These men are well qualified and have already proved to be of great assistance to this department, and to the churches in which they have worked.

Some of our churches have found it much to their advantage to allow two to three years for planning a building program. During this length of time a great deal of interest is created, adequate time is given for committees to study the needs, and time is allowed for the architect to work with the church in providing the type of architectural drawings needed. We have found through proper planning that money can be saved and a more useable building can be constructed. Our basic philosophy is that the church should have the buildings necessary to conduct the program of work that God is leading it to do.

7. Brotherhood Department

J. EDWIN BULLOCK, Director

The road for success for Brotherhood in 1972 was paved by the second year in a row with a marked statistical growth in North Carolina Brotherhood enrollment. The 1971 figure was better than a 12 per cent increase thus reflecting the large number of first, second, and third grade boys shifting from Sunbeams to Royal Ambassadors. Our leadership agrees, however, that an increased interest in the churches missionary organizations for men and boys is also indicated. Although there is no reason to believe that the statistical growth in 1972 has matched that of 1971, there is evidence that the Brotherhood program has had another good year of growth. There has been a significant number of new approaches to communicating methods for strengthening existing mission units in the churches and for beginning new units. Training, inspirational, and service programs have gone well. Perhaps the best way to say it is there is much room for encouragement and still a wide open door to challenge.

NEW STAFF MEMBER

A very significant thing happened for Brotherhood this year when the staff was brought to its capacity strength in the selection of a second Associate. Mr. Robert Watson, who was serving as the Coordinator of Missions for the Florence Baptist Association, Florence, South Carolina, joined the department in May. Mr. Watson's specific assignments with the department has to do with the development and promotion of the Crusader Royal Ambassador program and the development of the associational approach to communicating and promoting the Brotherhood program. There are, of course, numerous other responsibilities relative to the general administration of department programs. Mr. Watson is well prepared for his task having grown up in Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina, pastored several North Carolina churches, served as a Brotherhood Volunteer Specialist with the department and having had the experiences as the Coordinator of an associational missions program. Mr. Watson is already making a significant contribution to the ongoing Brotherhood program across our state. Mrs. Watson is the former Nancy Evans of Bladenboro, North Carolina. They have a son and a daughter.

CAPACITY ROYAL AMBASSADOR CAMP

The year 1972 is a historic year with reference to the Royal Ambassador program because this is the year that we had a full Royal Ambassador encampment at CaRAway. The camp is designed for approximately 150 boys per week and with over 1,600 in attendance during the summer we were obviously full. Of the many things that seem to account for the very fine increase in attendance the two that seem to stand out the most are: (1) the publicity derived from the state-wide fund raising program to build the new swimming pool and (2) the good work being done with the programming during recent year. A thorough work has been done in counselor enlistment, program staff enlistment, and in planning numerous other activities that the boys have appreciated. There has been a substantial increase in the number of boys returning each summer and this speaks well for the program. Another thing that speaks well is the more than two hundred decisions for Christ as well as the numerous other commitments to missions and full time Christian service. The department staff also programmed and supplied staff for four other weeks of Royal Ambassador camps during the summer. One of these was at North Carolina Baptist Assembly while the other three were at Camp Truett. These were also well attended and most rewarding.

STATE MISSIONS AND LAYMEN'S LODGE PROMOTION

The General Board once again in 1972 approved the concept of building a Laymen's Lodge (Conference center) at Camp CaRAway. Although the Brotherhood Department was given the lead in promoting and raising the money for the lodge, the Board also made the lodge a part of the 1972 State Missions offering. The first $50,000 above $250,000 was to be used as the beginning lodge fund. All above $300,000 was to be split 50-50 between the lodge building fund and needs at Fruitland Bible Institute. With this challenge the state Brotherhood officers and the department staff did a thorough job of promoting the State Missions offering through the channels of associational leadership and by training laymen to go to the churches and ask for greater State Missions support.

A new effort was also begun through Brotherhood leadership in seeking direct gifts in behalf of the lodge. It is hoped that funds will be sufficient during the remaining portion of 1972 for getting the lodge under way in the spring of 1973.

TRAINING PROGRAMS

Brotherhood Department training programs have gone well in 1972. These would include eight Regional Royal Ambassador Leadership Courses, a state Royal Ambassador Leadership Retreat, two training sessions for associational Brotherhood leadership, training for Home and Foreign Mission Study teachers, two training sessions for boys' leadership who do day camping, training for men who participate in the inmate ministry program, a state training session for Baptist Men's officers, and training for coordinators of lay-led revivals. The department staff continues to work on a two-fold design for training leadership. The first plan has to do with enlisting and training associational leadership. The second is an effort to train 100 or more approved volunteer type workers across the state who can be used in communicating techniques and approaches for successful men and boys programs in the associations and churches.

MISSIONS INSPIRATION PROGRAMS

The state Brotherhood leadership feels that training programs are complemented by inspirational programs. In all of these we seek to remember that our basic objective is missions. Still, we seek to present missions in an interesting and appealing format. An example was the three March Regional Men and Boys' Conventions held in Raleigh, Charlotte, and Asheville. These were attended well and seem to be appreciated as much as the State Conventions had been. Other examples are the five "See College Days" featuring days on a Baptist college campus for men and boys and generally including a football game, four weekend Royal Ambassador camps for boys, counselors and Dads, the Business and Professional Men's Retreat, World Missions Week at the N. C. Baptist Assembly, three Family Camping Weekends, and the State Royal Ambassador Track Meet. Over thirty associational teams and 500 boys participated in the 1972 track meet at Gardner-Webb College. Columbus Association boys came out with the winning score. The year 1972 was also a special year with mission motivation experiences in that staffer David Langford took more than 100 boys on a one week Home Mission Tour while department Director, Edwin Bullock, took a group of sixteen on a two week foreign mission tour of six South American countries. In Cali, Colombia the adult group attended the second Pan American Congress of Baptist Men. Both the men and the boys who participated in the mission tours came back more informed and more determined to be better supporters of our world-wide missions effort.

SERVICE PROGRAMS

The real mark of success in Brotherhood is involvement. Thus, it's good to report that there were a number of on-going service type programs during 1972. One of the more significant of these was the film ministry at the N. C. State Fair in Raleigh. As well as showing a Christian witness type film several times each day during the fair as many as 20,000 gospel tracts were handed to fairgoers and nine church chorus groups participated in the witness effort with daily music programs. Approximately 200 people were involved in this mission action project during the fair. Another service type action on the part of the state Brotherhood leadership was the cooperative effort with the Laymen's Witnessing Foundation in using laymen to conduct twenty-five weekend lay-led revivals and participating in four full week revival efforts during the year. Over 100 laymen were involved in these efforts and the reports from the churches were most favorable. Other mission action type programs include the use of sixty or more laymen and pastors who worked as approved workers in teaching, training, and speaker type situations in the churches throughout the year. These men along with the state staff conducted thirty-six associational Brotherhood workshops. Other service type programs involving the service of men around the state were related to inmate ministries, mission offering promotion, and promoting funds for Camp CaRAway development. These also went well during the year. These things, of course, do not tell the story of daily office routine, correspondence, material preparation, program promotion, new materials, etc. carried on constantly by the entire Brotherhood staff. These chores are endless and there would be no way to list them all.

A STILL BETTER YEAR ANTICIPATED

The year 1973 will be another year of new approaches to building a stronger Brotherhood program in the churches across the state. This would mean the beginning of a large number of new Royal Ambassador and Baptist Men's units. The task should be a bit easier because of the growing interest in the Royal Ambassador program and the new emphasis on lay involvement throughout our denomination. In 1973 there will be a new effort to communicate the need for church Brotherhood programs to the pastors through what we will call Associational Missionary Education Dialogues. These sessions at noon or night will be strictly for pastors.

In the way of inspirational type features we will return after having used the Regional Men and Boys' Convention to the State Men and Boys' Convention this year. Another new feature will be a planned Home Mission Tour for boys and we will also be taking in the Fifth National Royal Ambassador Congress in St. Louis, Missouri.

The year 1973 will also present men with another opportunity to travel out of the country both for an opportunity of missionary education and inspiration. In November of 1973 we will seek to get 100 of our men to attend the BWA Men's Congress in Jerusalem. This will be a part of a ten day missions tour.

Hopefully, sufficient funds can be secured through the efforts of the men across the state to build the Laymen's Lodge at CaRAway. This will be a great boost to all types of laymen's work. It is our hope that we can say again next year that the department has been instrumental in getting more laymen involved in actual mission type service. With so much to challenge, 1973 ought to be the best year ever for the Brotherhood program.

8. Woman's Missionary Union

Auxiliary to the Baptist State Convention

MRS. GILMER CROSS, President

SARA ANN HOBBS, Executive Secretary

Through the ongoing program Woman's Missionary Union seeks to enlist women, girls and preschoolers to study missions, engage in mission action and support world missions through praying and giving. Constant emphasis is given to these three tasks of Woman's Missionary Union and each church is encouraged to participate regularly in activities related to the accomplishment of these tasks. North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union exists to help the churches know how to more effectively serve the Lord through missions involvement.

There are 9,294 WMU organizations in North Carolina with 135,452 members broken down into age groups as follows:

	Organizations	Membership
Baptist Women	2,652	63,708
Baptist Young Women.....	670	6,184
Acteens	1,892	17,037
Girls in Action	2,430	24,522
Mission Friends	1,650	15,511
	General Officers	8,490

Regular activities related to the accomplishment of the tasks include: (1) month by month study of materials found in the WMU magazines—Royal Service for Baptist Women, Contempo for Baptist Young Women, Accent for Acteens, Discovery and Aware for Girls in Action members and leaders, and Start for Mission Friends leaders; (2) participation in the weeks and seasons of prayer—the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions in December, the Week of Prayer for Home Missions in March, the Season of Prayer for State Missions in September, and the Week of Prayer for Associational Missions in August; and (3) special offerings. The special offerings (with the exception of the Heck-Jones Offering for WMU Promotion) were the highest ever.

FIELD ASSIGNMENTS

Assistance is given to churches and associations through field assignments of employed personnel, approved workers and officers of WMU. Approved workers are elected annually by the Executive Board and include: Mrs. Oren Bradley, Mount Airy, Baptist Women; Mrs. A. E. Andrews, Jr., Hickory, Baptist Young Women; Miss Susan Allred, Gastonia, Acteens; Mrs. Robert Barnes, Candler, Girls in Action; Mrs. Boyce Brooks, Warsaw, Mission Friends.

State WMU leaders went to 23 associations to assist with leadership training.

STATE MEETINGS

Woman's Missionary Union provides state meetings for members of every age-level, except Mission Friends, the preschoolers. Their purpose is two-fold: to keep members up-to-date on missions information and to provide training in WMU work. Twenty-four such meetings were held in 1971-72 with a total attendance of 7,303. Meetings, by age groupings, are reported below.

ACTEENS MISSION ACTION TEAM

Annually for two years 10 Acteens and state Acteens leadership have participated in a summer mission action project. In 1972 this was conducted in the Gaston Association in cooperation with the superintendent of missions, Rev. Hoyle Allred. Mission action activities included conducting a vacation Bible school in the area where the mission center is located, painting the outside of the mission center building and conducting services at the KOA Kampground. As a follow-up regular services are now being conducted weekly at the Kampground and several adults whose children were in the Bible school are now attending the mission each Sunday. Expenses for the Mission Action Team (MAT) are paid by funds from the Heck-Jones Offering.

CAMP MUNDO VISTA

Camp Mundo Vista is operated on a year-round basis with church groups having the privilege of renting the facilities when they are not in use by Woman's Missionary Union. Decisions regarding policy and procedure of camp operation are made by the WMU Camp Committee of which Mrs. Boyce Brooks, Warsaw, is chairman. Serving with her on the committee are Mrs. J. E. Cargill, Cliffside; Mrs. Larry Sides, Welcome; Mrs. A. G. Willcox, Jr., Enfield; and Mrs. John Hagler, Raleigh.

Upon the recommendation of the Camp Committee the State WMU Executive Board approved the employment of Mr. Jason Lee as maintenance superintendent at Mundo Vista. Mr. B. W. Jackson serves as manager of Mundo Vista and is responsible for scheduling the use of the facilities.

Capital improvements include the construction of another unit lodge. These lodges are used for unit meetings in the summer camping program and for conference rooms for leadership training meetings. This makes a total of three unit lodges now on the grounds and two more are needed. This lodge was constructed with money given by campers and staff in their 1971 and 1972 camp offering. For security a fence is being constructed around the camp-site.

Money for construction of Camp Mundo Vista, for current operation, and for capital improvements is secured through the Heck-Jones Offering for WMU Promotion. Fees collected for meetings held at Mundo Vista provide operation costs but additional allocations are necessary for programming. This has placed a serious financial burden on Woman's Missionary Union as the offering, as seen earlier in this report, has been decreasing for the past two years. This is inexplicable. There seems to be only two possibilities: to seriously reduce the number of state meetings (which are paid for entirely out of this offering) or to increase the offering to provide the needed income. Pastors can assist by promoting the offering among WMU members in their churches.

EXECUTIVE BOARD ACTIONS

Twenty-five women from across the state of North Carolina make up the WMU Executive Board. Membership on the Board is determined by office or committee chairmanship held or election to the Board as a member-at-large. There are five officers, five committee chairmen, whose chairmanship gives them a place on the Board, and 15 members-at-large. Employed personnel serve as ex officio members. Approved workers may attend without vote.

Members of the Board are secured by the Nominating Committee and elected by Woman's Missionary Union or secured by the Personnel Committee and elected by the Executive Board. Their job determines the way in which they are secured. All officers and members-at-large are secured by the Nominating Committee and elected by Woman's Missionary Union at the Annual Session. The Executive Board conducts business of Woman's Missionary Union between Annual Sessions. It meets three times each year in January, May and September. To conduct business between meetings of the Executive Board an Executive Committee is elected. On the Executive Committee are the president, vice presidents, recording secretary and Mrs. R. Knolan Benfield, Morganton; Mrs. Boyce Brooks, Warsaw; Mrs. Ingram Hedgepeth, Lumberton; Mrs. Henry Rowe, Mt. Airy; and Mrs. A. L. Stancil, Rocky Mount.

Regular business related to WMU work was transacted by the Board and these special actions taken:

Approved the employment of Jason Lee as maintenance superintendent at Camp Mundo Vista;

Recommended a change in the by-laws of Woman's Missionary Union to shorten the Annual Session from five sessions covering three days to four sessions covering two days. This was approved by the Annual Session;

Accepted with reluctance the resignation of Miss Linda Warren to become minister of music, youth and education at Enon Chapel Baptist Church, Jacksonville;

Accepted with reluctance the resignation of Miss Bernice Popham to become the WMU director of the California Baptist Convention.

THE FUTURE

Giant Step is a plan initiated by Woman's Missionary Union of the SBC to increase the number of organizations, to enlist new WMU members, to increase the number of churches having a WMU organization and to increase the number of subscriptions to WMU magazines. To participate in this emphasis North Carolina WMU has adopted the following goals:

25 percent increase in the number of churches having a WMU organization

25 percent increase in the number of WMU organizations

25 percent increase in WMU membership

25 percent increase in the number of total WMU magazine subscriptions

This is a two-year emphasis ending September 1974. If North Carolina WMU meets its goals, there will be an increase of 2,324 organizations, 588 more churches reporting a WMU organization, 33,863 new members enlisted, and 25,000 more subscriptions to WMU magazines. These goals do indeed represent a "giant step." Your support in reaching these goals is greatly needed.

It is the desire of your state WMU personnel to assist your church in reaching its highest potential of mission involvement.

9. Department of Camps and Retreats

B. W. JACKSON, Director

The work of this department has consisted mainly of managing Camps Caraway and Mundo Vista, providing food services and scheduling all off-season meetings.

Both camps continue to be used extensively by our people. The Royal Ambassador camps at Caraway had record attendance of about 1,600 campers. The off-season attendance has been excellent with about 6,000 additional people using the facilities. All meals are provided for groups during the off-season, with meals served in whichever camp a group may be using. Mundo Vista has a summer capacity of 300 beds and winter capacity of 80 beds. Caraway has a summer and winter capacity of 200 beds. The family camp has thirty-two sites for use and is available for church group family camping.

Improvements during the year consisted of completion of four-cabin lodge, winterized canteen, recreation-conference room, and additional dining room-conference room on to present dining hall.

Future plans call for an adequate adult facility of some forty bedrooms, conference rooms, assembly hall, etc. We are grateful for the support of State Missions by our people, as we think of this new building.

This department continues to give guidance to the Woman's Home and Foreign Mission Convention of the General Baptist in their effort to build the J. J. Johnson Baptist Assembly near Laurinburg, with opening date being June 1, 1973.

10. The North Carolina Baptist Assembly

FRED J. SMITH, Director

The attendance for the ten scheduled weeks at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly was in large numbers each week with a total of 9,724.

The off-season at the Assembly has greatly grown this year. The facilities have been provided for year round retreats and such groups as the Youth, Deacons, Choirs, Sunday Schools, families, Planning groups, etc., have found them very useful with some 4,226 people using them this year. The grand total of attendance was 13,850.

The plans for work at the Assembly during the off-season includes renovating the thirteen Church Group Apartments, making them more serviceable and comfortable for the guests. The Assembly is also enjoying the new pier which was completed during the middle of April.

The 1973 schedule:

May 21-24—Senior Adult Conference

June 11-15—Youth Ministries Week

June 18-23—Children's Choir Camp

June 25-29—Church Training Week

July 2-6—Youth Bible Week
July 9-13—World Missions Week
July 16-20—Church Training Week
July 23-28—Youth and Adult Music Week
July 30—August 3—Youth Conference
August 6-10—Youth Conference
August 13-17—Vacation Week

Anyone who desires information about the facilities or wishes to make reservations should write to Mr. Fred J. Smith, Director, North Carolina Baptist Assembly, Southport, North Carolina 28461 (Telephone 919-278-5495).

11. The Department of Stewardship

HAROLD M. WHITE, Director

The Department of Stewardship develops and promotes programs of total Christian stewardship designed to do three things primarily:

1. To assist churches in their stewardship development.
2. To challenge individuals in the Christian use of all their possessions.
3. To secure response from individual stewards which will provide adequate financial support for churches, institutions and mission causes of the Convention.

This year the theme for stewardship promotion is "Committed to Care," and the following stewardship development programs are available: The Forward Program of Christian Stewardship for larger churches; Growth in Christian Stewardship for medium sized churches and Tithers' Enrollment Week, Week-end Stewardship Revivals and Simplified Church Budget Development and Promotion for the smaller churches. Additional materials such as posters, tracts, films and filmstrips are available without cost to local churches and associations.

The staff of the department has majored on visits to local churches to discuss with leaders a budget promotion emphasis. We have conducted Stewardship Revivals, conferences with pastors and laymen in the associations, given class room instruction in some of our Baptist colleges and the Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary. We have also assisted other churches needing special help in budget matters.

There is a stewardship program available for every size and type of church. We are pleased to report that more and more churches are using a well planned stewardship emphasis.

We continue to urge every church to give greater support to missions through the Cooperative Program. We suggest that in planning its budget each church undertake to set the percentage of its budget to be given through the Cooperative Program before, rather than after, the other items in the budget are considered.

In addition to the Director, this department is staffed by E. Cleve Wilkie, Associate in Field Promotion, Kinston, and Mrs. Dorothy Smith, office secretary.

F. COUNCIL ON CHRISTIAN LIFE AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The Council on Christian Life and Public affairs has completed its fourth year of service to North Carolina Baptists. The Council is ever mindful of its primary objective as set forth in the By-Laws of the Convention, "Helping North Carolina Baptists, to become more aware of the ethical implications of the Christian Gospel . . . Helping them create, with God's leadership and His grace, the kind of moral and social climate in which the North Carolina Baptist witness for Christ will be most effective." As we seek to fulfill this purpose we are also aware that our responsibility "is to speak to our people rather than for them." (Article VII, 5-d, Bylaws.)

In this report the Council shares with you some of the activities of 1972 and areas of continuing concern. The only recommendations contained in the report are in the form of two substitute resolutions.

I. FAMILY LIFE CONFERENCES

Eleven area Family Life Conferences, planned in 1971, were presented in April, 1972. In the opinion of the Council the conferences were characterized by excellent content and leadership but very poor attendance. Questions were raised in our minds regarding the time for and type of conference that the Council should sponsor in the future. Consideration is still being given this matter, particularly with regard to 1974.

In passing, let it be noted that efforts to strengthen the family life of our nations is still a major concern of the Council, as it is of the Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention which will sponsor a National meeting in Charlotte, March 19-21, 1973, under the theme, The Christian Family.

We call attention, again, to suggestions made in the pamphlet "The Church's Ministry to Families," the first publication of the Council.

II. NEW PUBLICATIONS

This year the Council has had prepared and published two new pamphlets which speak to points of need in individual life and the life of the church.

The first of these is "The Church's Ministry To The Aging," prepared by Dr. Nathan Brooks and Mr. Bill Boatwright. This pamphlet was published in June and mass distribution was made to pastors across the State. This publication focuses attention upon the increasing number of "Senior Citizens," noting both their needs and their potential. Practical suggestions are made to assist the church in a meaningful and vital ministry to and through the elderly.

The second publication of the year is entitled, "Pastor-Church Relations." Written by Dr. Theodore F. Adams, it is a brief but definitive study of this unique and sacred relationship. Dr. Adams' own life and ministry serve only to enhance what has been put down in print.

The Council is aware that a strained and disruptive pastor-church relationship has often done "immeasurable harm to both parties and the Kingdom of God at large . . ." (see Resolution, p. 176, North Carolina Baptist Annual, 1971). Often this is the result of misunderstanding the relationship with regard to basic roles and responsibilities. It is our prayer that this pamphlet will make a real contribution to strengthening this relationship which is necessary for a vital witness.

The pamphlet, just off the press, is available at the Council booth in the Exhibit Hall. We commend all the materials you will find there and hope you will have occasion to visit the booth during the Convention. Mass distribution will be made to churches throughout the state and all the pamphlets published by the council will continue to be available upon request.

III. REFERRED RESOLUTIONS

During the 1971 session of the Baptist State Convention in Charlotte, two resolutions were referred to the Council for further study and recommendation. The first of these was a resolution on pornography submitted by Woodrow W. Robbins. The Council offers the following substitute:

RESOLUTION ON PORNOGRAPHY

Whereas, the issue of pornography is of vital concern to many North Carolina Baptists, and

Whereas, the North Carolina General Assembly has taken the initiative by enacting General Statute 14-190 prohibiting the dissemination of obscenity in any public place, and

Whereas, pornography fosters a false and damaging view regarding the status of men and women and sexual perversion, and

Whereas, responsible Christian citizenship demands that each individual acknowledge his role in the issue of obscenity as it relates to his personal life style, the welfare of his family, and the behavior of the community.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina commends to the local churches and to the citizens of North Carolina the following guidelines for personal and corporate action.

1. Persons receiving pornographic materials through the mail should return them to the postmaster, and complete Postal Form 2201 which will assure prompt action against the purveyors of this obscenity.

2. Tactfully express disapproval of salacious literature to neighborhood and wholesale magazine dealers, as well as to the editors of the publications involved, being careful to avoid any type of censorship approach which is unconstitutional. (For further interpretation of the laws and their enforcement, consult the local lawyers and law enforcement agencies of your local community.)

3. Involve families in a meaningful sex education program to eliminate the need of children and youth to seek such information from pornographic materials.

4. Provide, through the church, attractive literature that proclaims effectively the Christian concept of sex.

5. Encourage owners and-or operators of local theaters and program directors of television stations to show movies of positive and meaningful content.

6. Encourage the local advertising media to use discretion in accepting advertisements from any business whose products or service are destructive to the community.

REPORT ON RESOLUTION ON "DECRIMINALIZATION"

A resolution entitled "Decriminalization" was presented to the 1971 session of the Convention by W. W. Finlator of Raleigh. (See 1971 Annual, item 48, pp. 71-72.) Upon the recommendation of the Committee on Resolutions, the Convention referred this resolution to the Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs ". . . for in-depth study, with the findings of this Council to be reported to the 1972 Annual Session . . ." (see 1971 Annual, item 205, p. 93).

A committee of the Council has studied the resolution thoroughly, and the Council as a whole has considered it in two sessions. In bringing this report, brief comments are offered dealing with each item in the Finlator resolution, and the Council's recommendation is offered in each instance.

Item 1: Public Drunkenness. Our study leads us to the conclusion that there are good reasons to remove public drunkenness from the criminal code. Among these are: (1) the repetitive nature of chronic drunkenness offenses, described by one expert as a "revolving door" through which the offender is repeatedly in and out of jail and in and out of court; (2) the recognition by competent specialists in mental and physical health, as well as the judgment of many social workers, jurists, and others that the chronic public drunk is very often a sick person, and should be treated as such; (3) the opinion that keeping public drunkenness as a criminal offense needlessly clogs court dockets and impedes the whole judicial process, while not really solving to any extent the larger problem of rehabilitation—an opinion held and expressed by the Attorney General of the State of North Carolina, who favors the repeal of the law which makes public drunkenness a criminal offense and substituting in its place the authorization for peace officers to transport ". . . any publicly intoxicated person to his residence, to a treatment facility, or to jail for detoxification." In view of such factors, we recommend the following:

We urge the 1973 General Assembly of North Carolina to pass legislation which will provide treatment for chronic drunkenness offenders through creation of a system of regional detoxification centers and other facilities designed for treatment and rehabilitation. With this goal of treatment and rehabilitation in mind, we urge the repeal of laws which make public drunkenness a criminal offense.

Item 2: The Use of Marijuana. After careful study of the North Carolina law entitled "The North Carolina Controlled Substances Act" we are persuaded that this law, patterned on a uniform act which has been adopted in thirty-five states, is basically a good and a just law. Moreover, because medical knowledge on the effects of marijuana is inconclusive at this time, we do not favor the repeal of this legislation. Therefore, the following recommendation is offered:

In view of the personal and social hazards involved in the use of marijuana, and in the light of the inconclusive and sometimes contradictory medical opinions on the subject, we favor the continuation of efforts to control this problem through legislation and law enforcement, recognizing that at best this is a partial solution.

Item 3: Medical and Psychiatric Care for Users of Hard Drugs. The State of North Carolina is making some significant beginnings in this regard, especially through the recently created North Carolina Drug Authority and through the mental health programs. It is a matter of particular concern to us, however, that there is no drug treatment facility in the state of North Carolina, which means that a judge dealing with a user of hard drugs has only three options: (1) to impose a jail sentence and-or a fine; (2) to refer him to the Department of Mental Health for outpatient care, provided he lives in one of the forty-one counties having such units; or (3) in the case of a first offender, a period of probation. Much more needs to be done, therefore, at local, state, and national levels. We recommend the following:

We urge the legislative and executive branches of government, at local, state, and national levels, to provide more funds, to initiate more programs, and to give a higher priority to the treatment and rehabilitation of the users of hard drugs. We commend medical, psychiatric, and all other compassionate and redemptive approaches to these vexing problems.

Items 3, 4, and 5: The Maintenance of Law and Order, Due Process, and Governmental Functions. In a democracy, freedom and order are held in a dynamic but always delicate balance as desirable social goals. Basic guarantees are built into the Constitution of the United States, and especially into the first ten amendments thereto, commonly known as the "Bill of Rights." It is appropriate, nevertheless, to remind ourselves and our fellow-citizens of the need to maintain law and order, with justice, in such ways that individual rights and the general welfare are always protected. There are two recommendations with respect to these issues:

(1) We recommend that this Convention call upon law enforcement authorities vigorously to pursue and prosecute, under the law, manufacturers and distributors of illegal, harmful drugs. We further recommend that the Convention commend the State Bureau of Investigation and other law-enforcement agencies in their efforts and pledge to them our support as they continue to strengthen the effectiveness of these efforts.

(2) We reaffirm our commitment to law and order, with justice, and we urge law-enforcement officials, in particular, to exercise great care in the protection of those precious rights of freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, freedom to petition the government for redress of grievances, and all the guarantees of due process which are built into the basic structure and the functions of law and order in these United States.

Item 6: Amnesty. We recommend that the Convention reaffirm the position adopted upon the recommendation of this Council at the 1970 session. (See 1970 Annual, item 107, section 3, page 86.) This position is as follows: "The question of general amnesty, in our judgment, is premature while the nation is still engaged in military conflict. Our study of the subject of amnesty reveals a most complex problem relative to the motives of those so involved, the question of due process of the law as related to violations of the draft laws, and the problem of involving us in a position that sanctions violation of this due process of law. In no way does this lessen our Christian concern and compassion for those who have chosen prison or exile. We are concerned that any action sanctioned by us should be at the proper time and in circumstances that will allow the most propitious commingling of justice and mercy. Our recommendation is that we do not recommend the granting of general amnesty at this time."

Our final recommendation is that the Finlator resolution on pages 71-72 of the 1971 Annual be amended by substituting in lieu thereof the actions taken by this Convention in response to the above recommendations.

IV. AREAS OF CONTINUING CONCERN

There are many areas of continuing concern to the Council and to you. The problem of Drugs and Alcoholism is not only still with us—it is even "more so." The council spoke to the problem of drugs, particularly as it relates to and threatens youth, in a statement that included four recommendations in the 1970 Session. We reiterate our conviction "that our present situation will not be solved simply by putting these young people in jail or by seeking criminal action against them." (See, Annual of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, 1970, p. 174.)

We ask your continued concern in and your help with regard to the problems in Public Education resulting from rapid social change. Here is one area, in each of our communities, where each of us can act as "agents of reconciliation." The statement in the report of the Council last year (Annual, 1971, p. 175-6) expresses the mind of the Council.

The Council has had a study paper presented on the subject of "Prison Reforms and Rehabilitation." Further study is being done in this area and we hope to present practical suggestions for a local church ministry in the near future.

Recurring racial tensions were noted by the Council during the year. One member of the Council has asked that we seek ways and means of being helpful to local pastors who live amid unusual stress and tension. To this point we have been able to offer little assistance. The Council is, at present, exploring the possibility of a workshop for its members which would give them a more adequate understanding of the role and equip them to be better agents of social change.

Also, some study has been made this year of the influence of the mass media on crime and violence. At the May meeting the Chairman was instructed to work with a sub-committee in preparing a statement to be sent to program directors of television stations serving North Carolina which would express our concern regarding the showing of morally questionable movies on television. A positive statement was sent to twenty-five stations in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia. The statement appears below:

The Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, in session in Raleigh, May 4, 1972, passed the following statement to be sent to the television stations that serve North Carolina people.

1. That we commend the management of TV stations for their efforts to support worthwhile public and moral projects that help strengthen the moral fiber of our people.

2. That we commend the management of TV stations that have recently refused to carry R-rated and X-rated movies as a part of their programming. We sincerely hope that the management of all TV stations will refuse to show morally questionable movies on their future broadcasts.

Furthermore we are urging our people to be more alert to the type of programs presented to the public, and to express their concerns.

With best regards,

Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs

D. Hoke Coon, Jr., Chairman

We are glad to report that we had some favorable response from stations. Perhaps you will be interested in two paragraphs taken from two different responses:

"Thank you so much for your letter of May 19. It came just at a time when we were beginning to wonder if perhaps we are 'stuffy' because there are some movies we flatly refused to run. If such be the case, we will continue to be 'stuffy,' but your letter serves to encourage us to stick to our guns."

Another says: "Thank you so much for your thoughtful letter . . . We recently refused to schedule a movie . . . and we were roundly condemned by scores of viewers who claimed that we were trying to 'censor' their viewing. . . . It cost us over $2,000 in revenue in this instance alone. . . . Your kind letter was a comfort to us. . . ."

The Council urges members of the convention to express their individual concerns in such matters. We commend to you strongly the kind, positive approach that should characterize the Christian's criticism.

We urge an awareness of bills pending in Congress that would alter the Federal income tax structure as it relates to religious and charitable institutions. We must watch carefully the willingness, of either national party, to use public funds for parochial schools.

We must continue to work at the "grass roots level" to influence the state legislators regarding the problems of alcohol and highway safety.

V. REPORT REGARDING DIRECTOR

One of the most significant events in the course of the year was the recommendation of Dr. Crouch that we proceed with the employment of a full-time director for the Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs. The recommendation was adopted by the Executive Committee and the General Board approved it in June. Allocations have been made in the 1973 Budget that would provide funds for this purpose beginning in January. A Committee has been appointed to assist Dr. Crouch in discovering and recommending a Director.

VI. STATE-WIDE CONFERENCES IN 1974

A Committee is now engaged in planning a State-wide Conference on Christian Life and Public Affairs for 1974. A report will be made as soon as possible.

VII. APPRECIATION

Our report would not be complete without a brief but most sincere word of appreciation to members of the Council who are retiring this year. Members whose terms expire in 1972 are: Gordon Conklin, Greenville; Floyd Fletcher, Durham; R. F. Hewitt, Charlotte; Roger Crook, Raleigh; and Leon Smith, Goldsboro.

We would be amiss if we did not acknowledge with deep gratitude the contribution of Dr. W. Perry Crouch to the Council. He has served ably as Acting Director from the inception of the Council. His spirit, wisdom and guidance are appreciated beyond our ability to put in words. We simply acknowledge the fact that we are in his debt.

CONCLUSION

Finally, as your Council strives to meet its assigned responsibility, let us together seek an openness to the Voice and Spirit of God; an understanding of what He is saying and doing in the world today, and the courage to be what He calls us to be in the world now

COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP

The Council on Christian Higher Education continues to be an effective arrangement between the seven Baptist colleges in North Carolina and the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. The Council membership is made up of the presidents, deans, chairmen of boards of trustees of the colleges, and the General Board's Committee on Christian Higher Education. Ex officio members of the Council are Dr. W. Perry Crouch, General Secretary-Treasurer of the Baptist State Convention; the Reverend Thomas M. Freeman, President of the Baptist State Convention; Dr. John M. Lewis, President of the General Board; and Mrs. Gilmer Cross; President of the State Woman's Missionary Union.

The following new members from the General Board were elected to the Council membership last year: Allen Bailey, Garrett D. Bailey, Ray W. Benfield, G. Milton Bettini, John A. Johnson, Oliver C. Price, James C. Stamey, and Gene L. Watterson.

The Council meets in January, June, and October of each year.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM PROMOTION

During this year the North Carolina Baptist colleges entered into new and meaningful participation as partners in promoting the Cooperative Program. Each college accepted a minimum of two Associations in which they would, in cooperation with the superintendent of missions, encourage the churches of these Associations to increase their gifts through the Cooperative Program. This method of promotion has been successful and will be continued, with the assignment of Associations changing from year to year. This kind of effort is indicative of the spirit of cooperation which the Council encourages between the Convention and the colleges. The colleges recognize the Cooperative Program as the one essential source of annual income which enables them to continue their Baptist witness through higher education.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE PAST YEAR

Dr. John E. Weems became the sixth president of Meredith College in January, 1972. He was formerly Vice President for Finance and Administration of Middle Tennessee State University. On September 22, 1972, Dr. Weems was officially inaugurated as President of Meredith College in a meaningful ceremony.

Gardner-Webb College received accreditation as a four-year college by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in December of 1971. This was the climax of a ten-year program of advance toward senior college status under the leadership of President E. Eugene Poston.

Youth Corps continues to grow numerically and in its impact upon North Carolina Baptist churches. During the summer of 1972, sixty-five students from our Baptist colleges were trained and assigned as summer workers in Baptist churches across the state. This is a joint effort made possible by the colleges, the local churches and the Baptist State Convention. Mr. Richard Traylor of the Church Training Department continues to serve effectively as the coordinator of the Youth Corps program.

BAPTIST COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP OFFERING DAY

The annual offering on Father's Day is a scholarship offering for North Carolina Baptist students attending one of the seven North Carolina Baptist colleges. These funds are made available according to the degree of financial need as determined by the individual school. The Baptist College Scholarship Offering is a meaningful part of an essential student aid program which enables students from Baptist churches to enter and to remain in college. Last year almost 25 per cent of the students attending a North Carolina Baptist college received some kind of student aid. Each school is careful to administer student aid funds only where a genuine need is evident. It is hoped that Baptist churches across the state will help to build even greater support for the Scholarship Offering in the future.

DEPARTMENTAL FACULTY MEETINGS

Once every two years all of the teachers in the same discipline in the North Carolina Baptist colleges are brought together for two days of personal and professional sharing on one of the campuses. These meetings create understanding, encourage communication among the faculties, and are characterized by professional excellence. There are fourteen disciplines currently involved in the meetings of North Carolina Baptist faculty, sponsored by the Council on Christian Higher Education. They are: Business Education; Education and Psychology; English; Foreign Languages; Mathematics and Natural Sciences; Music, Art, and Dramatics; Physical Education and Health; Religion, BSU Directors, and Chaplains; and Social Science.

A SHARED COMMITMENT

The Council on Christian Higher Education, by its very existence, underscores the commitment of the seven North Carolina Baptist colleges to applying the Gospel of Jesus Christ through evangelism, missions, education and social concern. The Council pledges its continuing concern for the accomplishment of these goals, and offers the resources of the colleges in assisting churches throughout our state.

1. Campbell College

EDGAR A. THOMAS, Chairman, Board of Trustees

NORMAN A. WIGGINS, President of the College

With the opening of the fall term on August 21, 1972, Campbell College began her eighty-sixth year.

Our enrollment for the fall term of the 1972-1973 school year showed a slight gain over the previous year in the enrollment of total full-time students. There was a slight decrease in the number of part-time students enrolled, the latter being due probably to the difficulties that were encountered in the various student aid programs. Students from Campbell come from 80 North Carolina counties, from 30 to 35 states, and more than 15 foreign countries.

The auditors' report for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1972, showed a total gross operating income of $5,536,801, with a net operating income of $4,100,491. With serious efforts to keep operating costs to a minimum and with the complete cooperation of both faculty and staff, we are pleased and grateful to report that we came through the year with a balanced budget. Our ability to continue to maintain a close but balanced operation, and still provide quality education in the face of the difficulties facing private colleges, was due largely to the realization of our anticipated enrollment and anticipated incomes, the increased benevolence of our many friends, the all important and life-giving financial support of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, and our ability to keep operational costs at a minimum. During the year ending May 31, 1972, not including the support of the Convention and National Defense Student Loan Funds, Campbell College received in gifts from alumni, industry, foundations, individual friends and other gift sources the sum of $948,944. The college has at present 451 full-time employees and 354 student assistants. The present payroll and fringe benefits program budget exceeds $3,000,000 annually. The total book value of the assets of our college on May 31, 1972, was $17,979,000.

In view of rising student costs, Campbell College has in recent years made a concerted effort to increase her ability to help the students in the financial management of their school expenses.

During the year we extended financial aid in some way to 1,291 students through our scholarships and college work-study programs. Also, we administered or assisted in administering $436,266 in loans to 681 students. In reviewing our total financial student aid program we found that 1,304 different students, in some way, received financial aid from the college, which was 63 per cent of our average full-time equivalent enrollment, involving the sum of $835,702.

Perhaps the most outstanding promotional achievement during the year was the successful conclusion of our efforts to secure from gifts the sum of $1,210,000 for the construction of a new Religion Building to replace the classroom building that was destroyed by fire in 1968. This needed and beautifully designed thirty-classroom building is now under construction on our campus; completion is anticipated in time for the opening of the fall term in August, 1973. We are thankful and grateful to God and to our many friends who, with their gifts, made possible this meaningful facility. We will continue our efforts to raise funds for the physical education field house-swimming pool complex now being planned, and for a fine arts building, two facilities which are listed among our immediate needs.

Recently, Campbell College, along with eight other colleges, was judged by the Inner City Fund Committee of Washington, D. C., at the request of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation of HEW. Nine colleges and universities, both public and private, were chosen to provide a partial cross-section of higher education in the United States. Humbly and gratefully, we state that Campbell College has been advised by Dr. Edward W. Erickson of the Inner City Fund Committee as follows:

"Of all the schools we studied, none was better prepared in a management sense to cope with the educational challenges of the 1970's than Campbell College, and because Campbell College is so well managed, the quality of our program budget for Campbell exceeds that for any of the other schools that participated in the study."

Naturally, for all North Carolina Baptists, we took understandable pleasure in this report.

Of recent significance and of interest to many North Carolina Baptists has been the establishment by our Board of Trustees of the Charles B. and Alma Dark Howard Chair of Bible Fund. The initial gift to this fund by the Howard Christian Education Fund, Incorporated, a Foundation founded by Charles B. and Alma Dark Howard, was $250,000. Dr. Charles B. Howard, Director of Denominational Affairs, Professor emeritus of Religion at Campbell College, and widely acclaimed and beloved evangelistic pastor, resides with his wife at their home in Buies Creek.

Campbell College feels that the key to her continued success and the fulfillment of her hopes rests with the abiding love and understanding of all North Carolina Baptists, the continuing financial support of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, the future support of her many friends, and the ability of Campbell

College to provide high quality education in a Christian atmosphere.

2. Chowan College

M. E. VALENTINE, SR., Chairman, Board of Trustees
BRUCE E. WHITAKER, President

Chowan College began her 125th academic year with an enrollment of 1,239—thus experiencing (for the first time in recent years) the kind of decline in enrollment which had already begun to affect many of her sister colleges and universities in earlier years. These 1,239 students enrolled in the college's various curricula include 480 sophomores and other returning students; 686 freshmen and transfer students; 27 nursing students, now completing the final phase of the 33-month program at Duke University Hospital; 1 medical secretarial intern; and 45 "special" students (those enrolled for less than 12 credit hours). The "full-time equivalency" enrollment figure is 1,209.

As indicated at the Seventh Annual Planning Conference on September 16, 1972, the college continues to maintain one of the best qualified teaching faculties to be found among the nation's private, church-related, junior colleges. This faculty far exceeds minimum requirements for accreditation in terms of required academic preparation. Nonetheless, the summer months find many members of the faculty pursuing additional graduate studies in various universities throughout the nation as a means of "keeping ahead" in their respective disciplines, and as a means of attaining even greater excellence in teaching. The teaching faculty of 65 full-time and 15 part-time members is ably guided and/or assisted in the teaching-learning process by a competent corps of administrative staff members, residence adviser-counselors, secretarial assistants, and maintenance personnel.

The "Chowan College: Mission Possible" development campaign—inaugurated in the fall of 1971—has currently reached better than 80 per cent of the projected goal, with December 15, 1972, set as the target date for reaching $1,000,000 in pledges and/or cash gifts. Mr. Don G. Matthews, Jr. of Hamilton serves as General Chairman. Anticipating the success of this five-year development campaign, the college's Board of Trustees—meeting in January 1972—awarded the contract for construction of a science-engineering facility to Dawson Construction Company, Kinston, North Carolina, with the actual work of construction beginning in mid-March. It is anticipated that this much-needed facility will be ready for occupancy and use by late summer of 1973.

The indebtedness of Chowan College as of May 31, 1972 stood as follows:

1.	12/1/59	$235,000.00	3 1/8 %	East Hall (Men's Dorm, 118 beds) ..	$ 194,000.00
2.	12/1/62	550,000.00	3 1/2 %	West Hall (Men's Dorm, 216 beds) ..	462,000.00
3.	12/1/63	760,000.00	3 5/8 %	Belk Hall & Cafeteria (Women's Dorm, 212 beds)	686,000.00
4.	4/18/66	600,000.00	3 %	Library-Fine Arts	585,000.00
5.	1/3/69	175,000.00	6 %	Additional Land	142,000.00

6. 5/28/69	975,000.00	3%	Parker Hall (Men's Dorm, 280 beds) ..$	965,000.00
			Total Indebtedness	$3,034,000.00
			Less Sinking Fund
			Reserves	565,001.87
			Net Indebtedness on
			Plant Facilities	$2,469,098.13

In the first three instances, loans were made from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, covering a 40-year period and carrying interest charges indicated. Each is self-liquidating. In the fourth instance, the loan was from the U. S. Office of Education. In the sixth instance, the loan was from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, for purposes of constructing a new 280-bed dormitory for men. The loan for additional land is by arrangement with the original owner who, for tax purposes, would not agree to be paid other than over a period of approximately 12 years; approximately 115 acres immediately adjacent to the main campus is involved. Moreover, by actions of the 1968 and 1969 Conventions, Chowan has been granted permission to borrow up to $950,000.00 for purposes of constructing a new science-engineering facility which is expected to cost approximately $1,350,000.00 equipped.

In March 1972 Chairman M. E. Valentine of Chowan's Board of Trustees appointed a "125th Anniversary Committee," which was authorized to "co-ordinate plans relative to the observance of this important milestone in the life of the college." With Dean B. Franklin Lowe, Jr., and Chaplain R. Hargus Taylor serving as co-chairmen, this committee has projected plans for a series of significant events to be scheduled throughout the course of this 125th academic year in the life of Chowan College. The Anniversary Committee includes members of the Board of Trustees, the Board of Advisors, faculty-staff, students, alumni, and other friends of the college.

The campus community has been saddened during the year just past by the deaths of several individuals who maintained a special interest in the life and work of the institution. These included the Reverend Ross A. Cadle, a former Director of Admissions; Mr. Edwin Pierce Brown, Sr., benefactor, member of the college's Board of Advisors, and member of the Endowment Committee; and Dr. Gilbert T. Stephenson, sage counselor and former chairman of the college's Endowment Committee. For the services rendered by these—and others like them who have passed on—we are especially thankful to God.

Finally, Chowan College would remind the Baptists of North Carolina of her continuing desire to offer the best in Christian higher educational opportunities to our Baptist youth. Individual Baptists and churches, in turn, are invited to call upon the college for any service we may render, including provision of youth revival teams through the campus Baptist Student Union, pulpit supply by various members of the faculty-staff, and the use of campus facilities (at minimal costs) for summer assemblies or camps.

3. Gardner-Webb College

R. PATRICK SPANGLER, Chairman, Board of Trustees

E. EUGENE POSTON, President of the College

Gardner-Webb College received accreditation as a Senior College by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools December 1, 1972. This means that the graduates who received the Bachelor Degree in 1972 will not be penalized. This was the climax of ten years of diligent work on the part of thousands of people. This could not have been done without the continuing help of the Baptists of North Carolina. The Cooperative Program is the life blood of Gardner-Webb College. The Father's Day Offering gives the transfusion needed to boost the program each year.

The 66th year is in progress. The largest enrollment in the history of the college has been reached—1,560 students. These students are being taught by 90 faculty members. There are 176 people on the payroll at Gardner-Webb College, including faculty, staff, administration, and maintenance.

Many innovations are taking place in the academic program—internships in several disciplines, advance placement and credit, individualized instruction, and a limited number in independent study programs. One faculty member is at Florida State University developing computerized instruction for upper bracket courses.

Community Service is a growing part of Gardner-Webb College. This has been a long-time concern at the college. Students and faculty provide a variety of services for churches, faculty members conduct workshops for public school teachers, and students do tutoring for the economically deprived. The administration serves in the civic, political, and religious phases of community life. The college is becoming a vital part of community life. These three areas of service are being pursued: (1) teaching, (2) research, and (3) public service.

The college continues her capital gifts campaign in Lincoln and Catawba counties in North Carolina, and Spartanburg and Greenville counties in South Carolina. A total of $2,471,405 has been pledged. The J. R. Dover, Jr. Memorial Chapel has been completed. The addition to the Webb Administration Building is underway. The building of the new Dover Library will be started in the near future. The Hubert M. Craig Residence Hall will be under construction during 1973. An auditorium-arena is a part of long range capital needs planning.

There are 247 students majoring in religion or religious education. Gardner-Webb ranks first among Southern Baptist Colleges in this area. Financial aid for these students is a continuing need.

As of June 30, 1972, Gardner-Webb College owed $789,106 to the First Union National Bank of Charlotte. At the date of this report the indebtedness had been reduced to $766,092, and is being amortized at the rate of $11,195 per month, plus interest.

The College is proud to be a part of the family of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, and pledges her support of the State and Southern Baptist Conventions and the Baptist World Alliance.

The purpose of Gardner-Webb College is clear and concise—"To develop quality Christian students who think for themselves, and who will dedicate themselves to the Christian way of life in the vocation of their own choice."

4. Mars Hill College

CECIL LEE PORTER, Chairman, Board of Trustees

FRED B. BENTLEY, President

The 1971-72 academic year at Mars Hill College was filled with tremendous enthusiasm and success within the new academic programs in spite of the slight decline in student enrollment. The college had anticipated an enrollment of some 1,500 students for the first semester but after registration found that only 1,467 students had actually matriculated. This, of course, meant that the college began its year with a deficit in terms of income realized from the students. The cumulative enrollment for the year was 1,550 students or 37 fewer than the period of 1970-71. Within our student body we also experienced a shift in which we enrolled a greater percentage of women than the year before. Our enrollment indicated 797 men or 51 per cent of the student body and 753 women representing 49 per cent of the student body. In prior years we have had approximately 61 per cent of our enrollment from the male sector. Proportionately the college experienced a slight decline in the total number of North Carolina students enrolled even though the percentage of the total student body remained approximately 62 per cent. Most of the decline in our enrollment can be justified from the point of view that we tried to recruit more heavily within the North Carolina area; and, therefore did not accept as many out-of-state students. In fact, the college turned away approximately 156 students last year. The total enrollment for the fall semester 1972-73 shows an increase over the prior year. There are 1,504 students who have matriculated this fall, plus 24 special students, for a total of 1,528. It is also encouraging to note that the total profile of these students in terms of their academic performance is much higher than in prior years.

The college family was thrilled when the bids for our two new buildings, a college union building and a new classroom-office building, came in within the budget. It is anticipated that these two buildings will be completed during the 1972-73 school year.

In November, 1971, the college was informed by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools that its accreditation had been reaffirmed. This means that Mars Hill College will remain fully accredited for a ten-year period, at which time another visit will be made. It was in the face of the accreditation visit that Mars Hill entered into its new 4-1-4 curriculum under the leadership of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. After one year of involvement in the 4-1-4, our faculty report extreme satisfaction with the flexibility which is realized through the 4-1-4; and, in particular, they are pleased over the progress which was made in our inquiry courses, the interdisciplinary courses, the short terms (January and June), the extensive involvement in independent study, service learning, and the internships.

Probably the most innovative program which the college initiated during this academic year was within the Department of Education. For the first time Mars Hill College initiated a one-year internship or residence for prospective elementary school teachers. Twelve young ladies within this program were placed in the Eden school system for the entire school year to serve as teaching assistants. In addition to the group in Eden there were 15 additional students in the Asheville-Buncombe County School System. At the conclusion of the junior year internship, all these students returned to Mars Hill College to buttress their areas of deficiency, and have reported to us a tremendous learning experience through their service as teacher aides.

During the summer months the college was host to approximately 3,100 conferees who were involved in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Week of Christian Study and Fellowship, the Superintendents of Maintenance of the public school systems, the North Carolina Association of Student Councils, the North Carolina Association of Educators, Music in the Mountains and numerous other smaller groups. Hopefully, these conferees learned a great deal more about Mars Hill College and will return to their communities with a better appreciation of that which can be realized in a Christian college setting.

In May the college graduated 235 seniors; in August, 50 were graduated, for a total of 285 graduates for the year.

The replacement value of the total campus plant is approximately $12,000,000. As of May 31 the total indebtedness of these facilities was $88,462. This indebtedness will be totally amortized by November, 1972. Additional buildings valued at $1,750,000 are to be completed during 1972-73.

Although the college operated its 1971-72 school year with a deficit, the cumulative financial status of the college is still very favorable. With the increase in enrollment for 1972-73 it is anticipated that Mars Hill will again operate in the black. The Board of Trustees, in order to more nearly assure the future stability of Mars Hill College, turned over the endowment portfolio to professional management services on May 31, 1972. It is our hope and anticipation that these professional managers will be able to enhance the investments of the college, and that significant growth should occur in this portfolio during the next few years.

Again, we must emphasize that Mars Hill College can look to the future with enthusiasm and optimism because of the outstanding support which is given to it by the Baptists of North Carolina through the Cooperative Program and the Baptist College Day offering. We continue to be deeply appreciative of the efforts made by all North Carolina Baptists in the support of the Program of Excellence at Mars Hill College.

5. Meredith College

C. C. CAMERON, Chairman, Board of Trustees

JOHN E. WEEMS, President

For several reasons, the 1972-73 academic year is an historic one for Meredith College. First, the year marks the inauguration of the college's sixth president, Dr. John Edgar Weems. Dr. Weems came to Meredith from Middle Tennessee State University with extensive background in leadership and the management of educational resources. The inauguration of President Weems, held on September 22, 1972, was witnessed by several thousand special guests, students, faculty and trustees. Dedication of the Massey House, the new president's residence, followed the inaugural ceremony.

Second, the first phase of the advancement program will be concluded in 1973. The goal of the program—to make the college financially secure through increasing enrollment—was realized by fall 1972, and Meredith began the year at optimum enrollment (1,108 resident students, 135 non-resident students and 119 special students for a total of 1,362).

Third, all of the buildings scheduled for construction during the advancement program — the Weatherspoon Gymnasium, Heilman and Barefoot residence halls, the Carlyle Campbell Library, and the College and Continuing Education Center—were in operation by the beginning of the fall semester.

Finally, with all but one of the major capital improvements completed, the college began an era of fund raising emphasis devoted to increasing faculty compensation, establishing endowed chairs, and investigating curricular programs.

Funds are sometimes hard to secure for the projects described above; therefore, the new direction of the development program—away from physical improvements and towards faculty and curricular enrichment — will call for renewed dedication on the part of Meredith supporters.

Meredith strengthened its relationship to Cooperating Raleigh Colleges this year through continued participation in CRC-sponsored concerts and lectures, dance companies in residence programs, visits from members of the United States Department of State, and other worthwhile activities. In addition, library resources of the six institutions were put at the disposal of each member college of CRC. This arrangement means that the extensive library materials of North Carolina State University are available for unrestricted use by Meredith students and faculty.

An addition to the 1972 Meredith College Bulletin described a new curricular activity called Special Studies. The programs include independent study, directed individual study, community internships and group study. Students have found wide application possibilities for the Special Studies program, and the community has been pleased with these projects which bring Meredith students into working relationship with many of the service organizations in Wake County.

At the commencement of May, 1972, two hundred and thirteen students received Bachelor of Arts degrees; thirteen received degrees in Bachelor of Music. Proposals for awarding another degree at Meredith are being prepared for review.

Total assets for the 1971-72 fiscal year were $9,757,042.00 with indebtedness for two federal loans totaling $1,942,000.00. Payments on the loans are made annually from current fund receipts at a 3 per cent interest rate. Total gift income as of June, 1972, was $877,061.48, including $260,122 from the Cooperative Program of the Baptist State Convention.

The significant contributions from the North Carolina Baptists have enabled the college to keep tuition lower than most other private undergraduate colleges for women. This factor, plus the scholarship fund which Baptist contributions have helped to establish, enable the college to say that no North Carolina Baptist woman who qualifies for admission will be denied the opportunity of a Meredith education because she is unable to meet expenses. It is a boast which Meredith, with the help of its advocates, will continue to make.

The scholarship fund mentioned above is part of the Regional Baptist Scholarship program, started during the 1971-72 academic year, which offers one award of $100 to $1,000 yearly (depending on need) to an entering freshman in each of the ten regions formed by the Baptist Associations. Applications are completed by the student who gives the form to her pastor for endorsement. The credentials then go to the Superintendent of Missions who turns the form over to the Chairman of the Association Selection Committee who schedules dates for applicant interviews. The Admissions Office at Meredith must approve the application form before the Regional Selection Committee conducts interviews for Association finalists within that region. Meredith Admissions Office confirms the name of the winner and notifies her of her selection. Eight of the ten regions had scholarship winners last year. The program has been expanded for 1972-73 with the addition of a scholarship for the graduate of a two-year-college in each of the ten regions.

Another successful program begun in the 1971-72 academic year was an "Acteens Day at Meredith." Approximately 1,250 girls from across the state, ages twelve through seventeen, came to the college for educational and entertaining events. On September 30, 1972, Acteens had their second annual "Acteens Day at Meredith." The program planned by the state Acteens director emphasized mission action programs and included a variety of activities planned by Meredith students, such as excerpts from an operetta, choreographic presentations, swimming shows, and horse shows.

Meredith faculty and administrators have continued to participate in Associational activities and have worked with Mr. R. T. Greene in Cooperative Program Promotions and with Mr. T. Robert Mullinax and the Council on Christian Higher Education of The Baptist State Convention.

The Meredith community was saddened by the death of its good and faithful friend, Mr. W. Herbert Weatherspoon who died on August 8, 1972. Mr. Weatherspoon served the college on the Board of Trustees for forty years and in 1967 was named the board's first honorary life member. The Weatherspoon Gymnasium stands as a memorial to Mr. Weatherspoon and his brother, the late James R. Weatherspoon.

6. Wake Forest University

GEORGE W. PASCHAL, JR., President, Board of Trustees

JAMES RALPH SCALES, President

Wake Forest University had more than 4,000 students as it began the 1972 academic year. The record enrollment represents increases in each of the schools and is made possible by new facilities.

A $500,000 addition to the law building was completed this fall. A new women's residence hall was occupied in the fall of 1971. The Medical Center's expansion program has permitted a gradual increase in the number of students at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine. The new Babcock Graduate School of Management shows steady growth.

The addition to the law building was constructed after $650,000 was raised in a short successful campaign among law alumni. The addition provides additional classroom and office space and a student lounge. The law building has been named Guy T. Carswell Hall in honor of the late Mr. Carswell, prominent Charlotte attorney, Baptist layman and benefactor of Wake Forest.

The 1972 fall enrollment was 3,968 which is 230 more than last year. This includes 2,895 in Wake Forest College, 291 in the Graduate School, 348 in the School of Law, 316 in Bowman Gray School of Medicine and 118 in the Babcock Graduate School of Management. There also were 89 students enrolled in allied health programs at the School of Medicine. The 84 new medical students this fall were chosen from 3,607 applicants and the 130 first-year law students were chosen from 1,300 applicants.

During the 1971-72 school year far-reaching changes were effected in the curriculum and calendar. These include a 4-1-4 academic calendar which gives a one-month winter term for special courses and independent research, a reduction in the number of basic courses required for the degree, a shift from the semester hour to the course as a curriculum unit, and the inclusion of more seminars and independent study in the student's major.

The most recent development in the Graduate School is an interdisciplinary master of arts program being offered by the Department of Religion and the School of Pastoral Care of North Carolina Baptist Hospital.

The University is making plans to build long-needed facilities for music, theater and art. Early last year the Board of Visitors recommended that a Fine Arts Complex be given priority among building needs, and the recommendation was adopted by the Board of Trustees. In March a Fine Arts Commission composed of almost 50 trustees, faculty, students, administrators and other interested people held extensive hearings with nine nationally known consultants selected by the Education Facilities Laboratories. Afterwards five task forces were appointed to make specific recommendations.

The University is grateful for the generous support it has received from alumni, friends, and the Baptist State Convention. During the past year the Baptist State Convention gave $489,950 through the Cooperative Program. About 38 per cent of the University's alumni contributed almost $150,000 through the Annual Giving Program.

Following is an analysis of the University's outstanding loans as of June 30, 1972:

Date	Original Amount	Interest Payable	Purpose	Dates of Maturity	Security Pledged	Principle Balance
3-1-55	$3,000,000	3¾ %	Dorm Construction	10-1-75	Dormitories	$ 675,000

7. Wingate College

ROBERT W. CRUTCHFIELD, President, Board of Trustees
BUDD E. SMITH, President

For the year 1972-73 the enrollment of Wingate College is 1,582. The enrollment is composed of 910 freshmen, 626 sophomores, and 46 special and evening class students. Fifty-five per cent of the students are members of Baptist churches, and eighty per cent of them come from North Carolina.

The budget for the 1972-73 year is $4,399,942. Listed below is shown the total indebtedness of Wingate College:

Principal Balance	Date	Interest Rate	Purpose	Maturity	Security
$75,000	7-1-64	6 %	Housing	7-1-74	Dormitory

The average compensation for teachers at Wingate is approximately $9,500 for nine months. There are more than 85 faculty members and over 200 employees on the college pay roll. This is considered a very important part of the economy of Union County. Fringe benefits for teachers and staff members include hospitalization, insurance, retirement, Social Security, tuition payments for graduate study, fellowship, moving expenses, free tuition for children of employees, travel expense to professional meetings, and extended disability coverage.

The recently completed addition to the Ethel K. Smith Library more than doubles the space and brings the capacity to 125,000 volumes now as compared to 50,000. This makes the library at Wingate one of the largest junior college libraries in the country. The money for this addition was given by the late Mr. C. A. Cannon. The 800-seat building was ready for the beginning of the school year in August of 1972, and is in constant use by the college community. There are four professional librarians and twenty-four student assistants in the library to provide needed services for the students and faculty. A gift of $15,000 was received from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation for assistance in the new addition.

The dormitories were reworked during the summer. All of the dormitories now have excellent accommodations for students. They are supplied with running water for all rooms, wall-to-wall carpet, and other facilities that make living quarters attractive to the student.

During the summer the college lost by death a good friend, Mr. W. C. Sanders, for whom the gymnasium at the college is named. Mr. Sanders was a close friend of the college and was constantly helping in numerous ways. He gave $25,000 in his will to the college. In addition to this bequest, Wingate received $20,000 from the will of Mrs. Wilma McCurdy of Albemarle, and Mrs. Kathryne Huntley of Monroe left a bequest to the library.

The Wingate College Story by Dr. H. I. Hester has been completed and is now available. This historical book is recommended to those who are interested in the school.

The well-trained and dedicated teaching faculty of Wingate College represent study in 129 graduate schools of the United States and Europe. At present, the college is involved in a Self-Study program for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The academic program and the teaching that is being done is a source of pride. The fact that the students are able to transfer into various senior colleges without difficulty is very gratifying. One of the outstanding new programs is a two-year course of study in textile technology, training young men for middle management. In addition, there is a new two-year program in recreation which prepares young people for vocations in the recreation management field. Wingate is constantly trying to upgrade the curriculum in order to meet the needs of today.

At the present time Mrs. Carolyn C. Gaddy is the senior member of the classroom teachers on campus in years of continuing service. She has taught at Wingate since 1932. During recent years she has served as chairman of the Social Science Department.

Mrs. Ruth D. Horton has just returned from an exchange teaching program with a junior college in Osaka, Japan. She spent two years there and was an excellent representative of the school. Mrs. Horton came to Wingate in 1931, and was away for only one year; she has served as chairman of the Business Department during most of this period.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith have led Wingate College for twenty years toward increased excellence in the academic program, developing the library, and providing adequate buildings. Today the 275-acre campus is valued at approximately seventeen million dollars.

Wingate College continues to render great service to the young people who come her way. Wingate's philosophy is centered in the belief that each person is of importance and deserves the attention and guidance which will enable him to become a mature and useful individual.

H. DIVISION OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL SERVICES

1. Baptist Children's Homes of North Carolina, Incorporated

RAYMOND A. STONE, Chairman, Board of Trustees

W. R. WAGONER, President

Conditions under which increasing numbers of the children of the world of our day are born and live fall far short of the ideal. All children are not fortunate to have good homes in which to live. Many find themselves victims of circumstance over which they have no control. Homes are broken as a result of death, mental and physical breakdown, desertion, separation, divorce and many other causes. Children are defenseless to alter these situations; consequently, they are dependent upon others for their care and for the opportunities and privileges which life should afford. For these and other reasons North Carolina Baptists provide a child care ministry.

During the past year the lives of more than 3,400 people were affected in a significant way by the services of the Children's Homes. Daily care and related services were provided 1,412 children. Of this number, 1,039 received continuing services, while 373 received casework counseling and referral services. Applications for 99 children were in process of evaluation at the end of the year. Through members of the staff, a close working relationship was maintained with 1,988 adults while working with the children. These, in the main, were parents and legal custodians of the children involved. This figure includes foster parents and parents of the children in day care in the Child Development Center.

The Children's Homes continues to expand and improve its services to children and their families. Two new cottages on the Broyhill Home campus are to be completed in December 1972 and will be occupied in early 1973, bringing that campus to a capacity of 50 children. The Ten Star Builders' Program is enlisting the support of Eastern North Carolina for Christian child care in that section of the state. Mills Home is engaged in a year-long study to determine how we can better serve the children in the Piedmont Area. Across the state, renewed effort is being given to the enlistment of foster families. Expanded services to families are being initiated.

We believe this ministry of child care deserves the confidence and support of North Carolina Baptists. Our Baptist friends have demonstrated through their interest and support that they believe in what we are doing. The Cooperative Program continues to be the life-blood of our financial support. The 1971 Thanksgiving Offering channeled $400,000 into our ministry of child care. Special gifts and bequests from individuals continue to provide for capital improvements. We deeply appreciate this generous support, and we pledge ourselves to continue the ministry of child care in the name of Christ and on behalf of North Carolina Baptists.

2. North Carolina Baptist Homes for the Aging

WILLIAM A. POOLE, Superintendent

In our Baptist Homes for the Aging, we feel that this has been the best year that we have ever had in our twenty-one years. The Special Offering for the Homes and support through the Cooperative Program reflect an encouraging increase. Through these two vital sources, the Homes during the past year derived almost 30 per cent of the total operating budget in the care of the residents and patients, with 20 per cent coming from the offering, and 10 per cent through the Cooperative Program. The most significant fact about this support from our Baptist people is the majority of the residents in the Homes are persons with real financial needs, and these love gifts are used for their care. In fact, these gifts are a lifeline to the residents, and they could not be maintained without them. The greatest challenge to our Baptist people is to continue to increase the Cooperative Program and the Special Offering from year to year, and thus keep pace with the needs of the residents who depend so greatly on these vital sources of support.

Our Baptist Homes now operate five resident Homes, with two located in Winston-Salem, and one each in Albemarle, Hamilton, and Yanceyville. These Homes have a capacity for 162 residents. In addition, there is a Nursing Care Unit, located in Winston-Salem, with a capacity for 63 patients. In these Homes we specialize in tender loving care and do not know of any place this side of Heaven, and outside of one's home, where a person can receive more compassionate Christian care.

Of great significance during the past year, in May, was the dedication of the York Wing of the Nursing Care Unit. This wing, accommodating 18 additional patients was completed in November of 1971 and named in honor of Judge and Mrs. William York, of Greensboro. He and Mrs. York gave $80,000.00 for the construction of this new wing, and the additional money needed was raised by the Trustees of the Homes. With this new addition, the Baptist Homes have been able to receive some few persons, on a limited basis only, directly as patients. The majority of the beds in the Nursing Care Unit are used for the residents of the five Homes, when nursing care becomes necessary. We are glad that the base of our operation has been broadened to include a ministry to the aging sick person, and we can only hope that we will move forward and be able to receive more patients in the years ahead.

Ministry to an older person is a direct ministry to Christ and is one of the finest things that North Carolina Baptists are doing. Be glad that you are a Baptist, and be grateful for the part that you are having in making the life of an aging person more abundant and more secure.

3. North Carolina Baptist Hospitals, Inc.

THOMAS D. LONG, Chairman, Board of Trustees

REID T. HOLMES, President

JOHN E. LYNCH, Chief Executive Officer

May 26, 1973 will be a significant day at Baptist Hospital. It will mark the completion of fifty years of service. The hospital opened its doors to patients in May, 1923, proud to be identified as "a missionary enterprise of the Baptist State Convention."

During this half-century there have been many changes, both internal and external, which have affected the hospital's ministry. First of all, the hospital has greatly expanded in size and in service. In 1923 there were 80 beds; when the new patient tower is occupied in January there will be 672 beds. In 1923 it was a general hospital; today in conjunction with the Bowman Gray School of Medicine it is an academic medical center. Most of its patients now are referral patients, sent by their local physicians to Baptist Hospital because their medical problems are rare or complicated and require specialized medical care. For example, about 25 per cent of all patients at Baptist Hospital have some type of cancer.

The medical specialists and the sophisticated equipment used for diagnosis and treatment make it possible for Baptist Hospital to minister effectively to them. In addition to direct patient care, the hospital is also engaged in medical research and in medical and paramedical education.

During these fifty years the cost of hospital care has greatly increased. This is due partly to the inflationary trend in our whole economy. But it is also due to the fact that we get much more in hospital care for our money than we used to. Improvements made possible through medical research provide greater benefits to the patients. For example, just a few years ago when a child had a congenital heart ailment it required only one physician to say to the parents, "I'm sorry, there is nothing I can do." This did not cost much money. Now, it takes a whole team of physicians and other medical personnel to perform surgery and give that child hope of a normal healthy life. This costs much more, but it is surely worth much more.

The method of financing hospital care has changed during these fifty years. Formerly those who could pay out of pocket did so; those who could not, received aid from the Mother's Day Offering. While the Mother's Day Offering has continued to grow, the increase has not been in proportion to the increasing cost of hospital care or the increasing number of people needing financial assistance. But now, more people carry hospital insurance. Also, there are numerous agencies—such as Medicare, Medicaid, Vocational Rehabilitation, Crippled Children's Fund—which also assist qualified patients with their hospital bills. Financial counselors at Baptist Hospital help patients in obtaining aid from these various sources. The Mother's Day Offering is used to assist those for whom no other help is available and when the need is genuine.

With all these changes at Baptist Hospital, the spirit of compassionate service remains. Patients are seen as people, and there is concern for their total well-being. The Christian spirit of staff members adds to the comfort of patients and hastens their recovery.

The Department of Pastoral Care renders a significant ministry to patients, their families, the staff and students of the medical center. Through personal counseling, formal instruction, and periods of worship a distinctively Christian witness is given through the ministry of healing and teaching.

These fifty years of service will be celebrated with appropriate ceremonies on May 26, 1973. On the same date, a new era of even greater service will be formally inaugurated with the dedication of the new Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation Patient Tower.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

The Biblical Recorder circulation is 101,009—thanks to churches and individuals all over the state who have helped to bring this about. Now that the 100,000 mark has been exceeded, new goals will be set as part of a continuing effort to put the Recorder in every Baptist home in North Carolina.

Not only in circulation progress, but in other ways this has been a good year for the Recorder. During the year, Woodrow W. Hill, well-known pastor and writer, came with the Recorder as field representative. He speaks in associations, churches, pastors' conferences and in other meetings all over the state. Thus, he joins the editor and associate editor as a team to carry the Recorder message to every corner of North Carolina. Other Recorder staff members help in countless ways.

This was also the year that the Recorder went to computer. Because of the growing circulation, this had to be done. It also made our financial picture bleaker, but that will improve with the 50c increase in the Church Budget Plan—the first in 13 years. The increase was delayed by the government price freeze and this caused the financial deficit in the past year.

As it has in the past, the Recorder seeks to keep North Carolina Baptists informed on important issues. This is a heavy responsibility and the editor and his staff feel keenly the need of your prayers as they seek to be good stewards to North Carolina Baptists. If your church does not have the Recorder in the budget, or if it does not have a club at all, please take the leadership in seeing that this situation is corrected in the coming year. The Recorder will be 140 years old next January 18. Those responsible for its publication each week recommit themselves to this important ministry of the printed word.

V. REPORT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA BAPTIST FOUNDATION, INC.

C. GORDON MADDREY, Executive Secretary

During the past year from July 1, 1971, to June 30, 1972, the Baptist Foundation has shown a good healthy growth in its liquid assets. The report for 1970-1971, ending June 30, showed that the Foundation had liquid assets of $631,783.95. The liquid assets for the calendar year ending June 30, 1972, are $713,561.95. You see from the above figures that the liquid assets of the Foundation denote a gain of $81,778.00. During the past calendar year, this came about from additions to the principal; trust funds; capital gains in some of our investments; as well as part of the earnings from assets were returned to the principal according to the contract we had with the donor.

The total amount of income collected on our assets amounted to $37,134.59. This is an average yield of 5.2 per cent on our investments. The average gross annual yield for the past five years is 5.3 per cent. This is a reasonable yield on our assets in that the Foundation's policy of investment is to find those stocks and bonds and other investment opportunities that seem to be the most secure; or, in other words, what we call "blue chips" investment. It is not the desire of the Baptist Foundation to speculate unnecessarily with the trust funds invested to its care, but on the other hand, to use good business judgment and foresight in making investments that have a fair yield but show a potential for growth.

The Foundation has expanded its services during the past year through additional pamphlets and brochures that have been prepared and distributed to the various churches and individuals. One pamphlet in particular has proved to be a popular one, entitled, "Questions You Ask About Wills," or stating it in a different language, "What to Know Before You See Your Lawyer." This worksheet has proved to be helpful to individuals in preparing their wills. It is free from the Foundation upon request by an individual or a church. Other literature dealing with the Foundation and wills, estate planning, and related matters are available through your Foundation office by simply requesting them without any cost whatever to you.

The Foundation Executive Secretary has traveled 10,056 miles during the past fiscal year for the aims and purposes of the Foundation. He has spoken in many churches and to large groups of individuals, advising them on how the Foundation can assist them in planning their estates and preparing to have their wills written by a competent lawyer.

Now, permit me to make a personal statement. On December 31, 1972, I retire from the office as Executive Secretary after ten and one-half years in this position. As most of you know, the work of the Foundation in North Carolina had not been promoted on an active basis until I was elected as the first full-time Executive Secretary. These past few years have been a most rewarding experience for me and one that has given me a golden opportunity to meet so many of the Baptist brethren in North Carolina. It has also afforded me the privilege of making a small investment of whatever talent I might have in promoting the ideals and purposes of the Foundation. Let me thank each one of you for the very kind and courteous manner in which you have received me, and I can sincerely say that not one single person in North Carolina has been unkind or discourteous, but on the other hand, has been most appreciative of the work of the Foundation and has received me in a most gracious manner.

The Board of Directors in its meeting on Monday, October 16, 1972, elected Mr. Edwin S. Coates, of Raleigh, as my successor. He is a man of sterling quality with a good business background, thoroughly dedicated to the work of the Kingdom, and a person who can move the Foundation forward in a marvelous way if you will give him the same support that you have given me. It is my wish and prayer that the Foundation will prosper in rendering service to our various agencies and institutions. This is the way we can extend our Christian stewardship through the ages in a material way.

VI. REPORT ON CONVENTION COMMITTEES

A. HISTORICAL COMMITTEE

If one does not know where he has been, how can he know where he is going? The past gives meaning to the present and perspective for the future.

Our Baptist people have had a great past. Although there have been few mighty ones among us, our forebears have stood for ideals and principles which were right in their day and which continue to be right in ours. Some things in their times we have outgrown, and there are some things we wish could have been different. But an understanding of the past—with its failures and achievements, its dreams and labors, its victories and defeats, its virtues and its sins — will help understand the present and our condition.

As we approach the 200th anniversary of our American Independence in 1976 and the 150th anniversary of the founding of our Baptist State Convention in 1980, we expect to see an awakened interest in history and hope for significant contributions and celebrations.

Last year the convention approved the appointment of a steering committee to plan and direct the 150th anniversary of our Baptist State Convention; we shall refer to this later in this report and make recommendation for participating in the 200th anniversary of our American Independence. At this time may we call attention to other matters.

May we note the work done by the director of the Baptist Historical Collection, Mr. John R. Woodward, and by his staff. Manuals of Index for 1969 and 1971 of the Biblical Recorder were prepared this year and a quarterly newsletter, "Tar Heel Baptist Footprints," has been initiated. One hundred and seventy-one printed items have been added to the collection, and the biography file has been enlarged. In cooperation with the State Department of Archives and History the records of one hundred and two Baptist churches have been microfilmed and copies filed in the Baptist Collection at Wake Forest University. Over six thousand clippings have been added and collections of personal papers were established for Charles James Fox Anderson, William Wright Barnes, Eugene Gardner, Charles Chilton Pearson, John Mason Peck. Fifty-seven registered researchers have used the collection this year, and nearly a thousand enquiries have been answered by mail. The Historical Committee commends Mr. Woodward and his staff and join them in urging our people to use the collection and to contribute significant materials to it.

We regret that we do not know all the significant work done among the churches with regard to our Baptist heritage. However, we call attention to the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the Eaton Baptist Church near Mocksville and to the Sandy Run Baptist Church in Mooresboro, N. C. We apologize that we do not know others to mention.

We urge the pastors of our churches and the heads of our institutions to appoint responsible persons or committees to gather and to write their histories and to cooperate with the director of the Baptist Collection at Wake Forest University in seeing that valuable records are microfilmed and preserved.

The Historical Committee is working with the Bicentennial Committee of North Carolina in preparing guidelines for the observance of a Religious Heritage Sunday in 1976. We hope to have this ready for distribution soon. Also the Historical Committee is preparing a list of Baptist churches which date from before 1776 and is hoping that these churches can be marked by our state department of Archives and History.

In anticipation of the 200th anniversary of American Independence in 1976, your committee makes the following recommendations to the convention:

1. That we praise God for the winning of our freedom and for maintaining it these two hundred years.
2. That we begin making plans for appropriate celebration of it by asking the General Board to appoint or elect a committee to plan, coordinate and direct the celebration in keeping with our purpose as a Christian denomination.
3. That a drama, presenting the role of North Carolina Baptists in the American Revolution, be presented at the annual meeting of the Baptist State Convention in 1976.
4. That a Religious Heritage Sunday be designated in 1976 in connection with the Bicentennial Celebration of our American Independence and that guidelines for this observance be worked out in cooperation with the Bicentennial Committee of North Carolina.
5. That encouragement be given to the writing of research papers in our colleges and higher institutions which will depict Baptist life in the early years of our country.
6. That local churches be urged to seek out their own history in relation to the winning of the American Independence and to set it forth in an acceptable manner.

The Historical Committee appreciates the convention's approval of its recommendation last year that the North Carolina Baptist history be brought up to date. We have worked on securing a historian and hope to have one by convention time. Whoever it will be, will need help and cooperation of many people, and we urge all of our people to assist him in gathering and in presenting a good account of what God has done among us.

As we anticipate the celebration of our Baptist convention and of our American independence, may we direct both to the glory of God and to the advancement of our Lord's Kingdom. Many ancient wrongs remain in our land, and much new creative work calls to be done. Let us be men and women worthy of such a time and such a challenge.

C. COMMITTEON TRUSTEE ORIENTATION

In keeping with the responsibility assigned by the Baptist State Convention to this Committee, the Committee on Trustee Orientation planned and conducted a two-day program for all of the trustees of our institutions and agencies.

The aforementioned meeting was held at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh, January 7-8, 1972. A number of institutions had meetings of their Boards of Trustees some time during the day of January 7. The program began with a dinner meeting at 6:00 p.m. Dr. Bruce E. Whitaker, Chairman of the Committee, presided.

Program personalities and subjects were as follows:

Dr. J. W. Zwingle, President, Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges, Washington, D. C., spoke on the subject, "Trustees: Past or Future?"

Dr. W. Perry Crouch, General Secretary-Treasurer, Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, spoke on the subject, "Missions and Institutions: A Cooperative Effort."

Dr. John M. Lewis, Pastor, First Baptist Church, Raleigh, addressed those assembled, "The Principle of Services Rendered and our Institutions." Dr. Lewis spoke in his capacity as Chairman of the Committee on Services Rendered of the Baptist State Convention.

Dr. Wayne E. Oates, Professor of Psychology of Religion, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, spoke on the subject, "Some Meanings of New Life Styles."

A special feature of this particular Trustee Orientation Conference was a "Talkback, questions, and comments" following each major presentation.

The conference was well attended and the general consensus was that it was helpful and meaningful to all the participants. It is generally recognized that this Trustee Orientation Conference encourages understanding, cooperation and fellowship in the Baptist Family, and especially on the part of trustees of the various institutions of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

D. COMMITTEE OF 15

Introduction:

Our committee was approved by the Baptist State Convention of N. C., in its annual session meeting in Charlotte, November 22-24, 1971, upon recommendation of the General Board. The assignment of the committee, as set forth in the recommendation, is stated as follows:

"The General Board recommends that the Convention authorize the appointment of a Committee of 15 to study thoroughly the feasibility of a new plan of relationship between the Baptist Hospital and the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and report back to the General Board and Convention by November, 1972, with recommendations."

The many complex problems of Baptist Hospital came to the attention of the Executive Committee of the General Board in August, 1970, when officials of the Hospital asked permission to borrow one million dollars to underwrite an operating deficit at the Hospital. Upon questioning, many reasons were given for the current deficit: the delay in payment for the various insurance companies; the large amount of indigent care; the inefficient use of the bed capacity of the hospital; and the necessity to place all employees under the minimum wage law. The Executive Committee expressed grave concern for the financial picture presented by the hospital officials, and approved the recommendation for the loan with some reluctance.

In October of 1970, the Executive Committee was approached again by the Hospital officials requesting permission for an over-all loan of $8,500,000. This loan was to include the previous loan approval to cover operating deficits; the balance would go for a construction loan to complete the hospital expansion program. It would also include a loan of $1,500,000 previously granted in 1965, but not borrowed at that time. The Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University requested permission to borrow $2,000,000, including $750,000 granted in 1965, but not borrowed.

Thus, the over-all request for the Hospital and the Medical School was for $10,500,000 to finish construction originally estimated at $17,000,000, but which had since skyrocketed to $42,000,000.

At this time the Hospital officials introduced a new vice-president, Mr. John Lynch, who was to make every effort to reduce the operating deficit of the Hospital. The officials also explained some new admission policies designed to assure payment of hospital costs by patients and policies utilizing more efficiently the bed capacity of the Hospital, reduction of over-time pay and reduction of employees by attrition. The problem of "free care," or indigent patients, was also discussed with the disclosure that such care had been drastically reduced in recent months. Again, with understandable reluctance, the Executive Committee recommended to the General Board and the Convention that the loan be granted, which the Convention approved in annual session in Greensboro, November 15-17, 1970.

In January, 1971, the General Secretary was contacted by officials of the Hospital relative to the Hospital trustees' desire to transfer all the paramedical schools (including the School of Nursing) to Forsyth Technical Institute, eliminating a cost figure of about one million dollars annually as further relief of the financial situation at the hospital. It was further explained that the national trend was toward phasing out diploma schools of nursing, placing them in an academic context, enabling students to gain "upward mobility" toward a B.S. degree. Further, the bank was requiring an answer before granting the loans approved by the Convention in 1970.

The Executive Committee of the General Board met with the Hospital officials in February, 1971, at which time it was agreed that a committee be appointed to explore the full implications of the request. This preliminary study committee was composed of five members of the Wake Forest University Trustees, five of the Hospital Trustees, and five members from the Executive Committee. This committee met at the Hospital on February 19, 1971, along with staff members from the Hospital and the Medical School. At this meeting, three major matters were reviewed: John Lynch reported on new financial policies aimed at reducing the operating deficit, the expressed desire of both Hospital and Medical School officials to remain a vital part of the Convention, and discussion regarding the phasing out of the paramedical schools. It was the consensus of the committee that General Board and Convention approval would be necessary, and so it was agreed to call a special meeting of the General Board to consider the recommendation to phase out these schools. The Services Rendered Committee was asked to review the church-state issue relative to leasing the paramedical building to Forsyth Technical Institute. This committee reported such leasing arrangements to be in harmony with the Baptist State Convention Constitution requirement of "services rendered."

However, subsequent developments wisely dictated the cancellation of the called meeting of the General Board set for April 6, 1971: the emotional reaction of the faculty of the School of Nursing and some pastors across the state, the shaky financial condition of Forsyth Tech, and the nearness of the Mother's Day Offering, being the most influential factors, along with the suggestion that Wake Forest University be approached about the possibility of taking over the School of Nursing. Subsequent contact with Wake Forest University officials revealed their financial inability to assume responsibility of the School of Nursing.

On April 30, the General Secretary received a letter from the Hospital officials informing him that the Hospital Trustees, on April 27, had voted to phase out the paramedical schools, including the School of Nursing. The letter did not mention any requests for further action by the Convention.

On June 22, 1971, the Executive Committee and the General Board met in regular session at Chowan College. The recommendations of the Executive Committee, approved by the General Board, expressed grave concern over the action of the Hospital Trustees and in light of the complexity of the Hospital's many problems, asked that a convention Committee of Fifteen be appointed "to study thoroughly the feasibility of a new plan of relationship between the Hospital and the Baptist State Convention." The General Board also voted to ask the Trustees to reconsider their action to phase out the School of Nursing, delaying its implementation until the Committee could report back to the Convention in 1972.

In the weeks immediately following at least four unofficial meetings were held between the General Secretary, members of the Executive Committee, and Hospital officials and some Hospital Trustees. In these meetings indications were given of improved conditions taking place at the Hospital regarding new policies designed to get the Hospital in a more stable condition. The Hospital officials and Trustees indicated also they may still seek the permission at the General Board meeting in October "to ratify" the action of the Trustees. It was also pointed out by the Convention representatives the need for the Hospital to "create a new image" relative to its total operation, but especially its appeal through the Mother's Day Offering regarding contributions for "free care," much of which had been revealed to be "unpaid bills." The Hospital officials agreed to this need and committed themselves to improve the image of the Hospital as suggested.

On request of Hospital officials another "unofficial meeting" was held to discuss the relationship of the Hospital and the Medical School. On July 26, 1971, Hospital officials approached the General Secretary with the request that the loan of $10,500,000 be raised to $14,000,000. The $2,000,000 approved by the Medical School would be dropped and the new loan would be only for the Hospital. It was reported also that the Hospital had begun operating in the black.

On July 29, 1971, the Hospital Trustees considered the action and recommendations of the June meeting of the General Board. The Trustees voted to stand by their earlier decision to phase out the paramedical schools. Accordingly, they requested the Executive Committee to approve the action and also approve the request for a new loan figure of $14,000,000. The Trustees also concurred in the recommendation of the General Board to ask the Convention to appoint a Committee of Fifteen.

By this time, several serious questions had emerged needing the attention of such a committee: Has the original purpose for establishing the Baptist Hospital changed? What is the present status of "free care" at the Hospital? What is the present relationship between the Hospital and the Medical School and what about their future relationships? What is the nature and effectiveness of the "new financial policies" of the Hospital? What is the nature of the present relationship of these two institutions to the Convention; and what about the future of that relationship? With the government moving rapidly into the area of national health insurance, what does this portend for continued support of the Hospital by Baptists? While the Hospital is a humanitarian institution, in what sense is it also a Christian institution with Christian ministries and goals? Is the Pastoral Care School being utilized to its fullest potential? What about the future of the Mother's Day Offering in the light of decreasing need (?) for "free care?" Is there need to "spell out" more specifically the structural relationship between the Hospital and the Medical School? What is the meaning of the concept "Academic Medical Center," used to describe the present complexity of the interrelationships of the two institutions, in usage since 1963?

The Committee of Fifteen has met seven times at the Baptist Hospital, and once in Raleigh, with an excellent attendance record on the part of its members, with extended sessions each time. The Committee has interviewed officials from the Hospital and the Medical School, and Trustees. The President of the Convention and the President of the General Board are regular members of the committee. The General Secretary has also attended most of our meetings. Open, frank and extensive discussions have been held with all parties. Each member of the Committee was asked to put in writing his understanding of the situation and to suggest recommendations for the consideration of the entire committee. A subcommittee of three was then assigned to draw up a first draft of our report, after which the entire committee met to refine and finalize the report to the Convention.

Before presenting our recommendations it will be helpful to take into account certain other factors which have brought us to our present situation.

Four momentous developments have occurred at Baptist Hospital in recent years, justifying the extensive review of this committee relative to the future of the Hospital and its relationship to the Baptist State Convention.

The first is the inevitable close working relationship with the Bowman Gray School of Medicine. From its charter in 1923, as an 80-bed hospital and nurse training school, the hospital operated as a general facility, until 1941 when, in affiliation with the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, it became a teaching hospital, expanding the following year to 300 beds.* More and more, the Hospital became a referral and research center. While patient care remains the basic concern of the Hospital, the emphasis has shifted to more specialized health care. Baptist Hospital, therefore, today ranks as one of the most important Academic Medical Centers in the country, of which there are only 113.

Another important development has been the involvement of the Federal Government in the whole field of health care. Through the provisions of the Hill-Burton Act, funds for capital improvements were made available. Since then the pace of Federal involvement has greatly accelerated: Research grants, aid to medical students, and now medicare and medicaid programs, along with others for those facing specialized health care needs. Looming on the horizon is the inevitable next step—a public funded health care program for all citizens, predicted within two to five years. Baptist Hospital has been involved in all these programs since their inception. In no way has such involvement lessened the control or supervision of the Hospital by its parent body, the Baptist State Convention. Contributions by Baptists, Foundations and others have also increased. Private health insurance programs have contributed their share to the growing complexity of operations at the Hospital, as well.

A third development has been the greatly enlarged expansion program. Starting out as a $17 million dollar building program, the project will require some $42 million dollars when completed. Increased costs due to inflation, advancements in hospital equipment during the period of construction, and the necessity to make the hospital second-to-none as a “teaching hospital” are some of the major reasons for the increased figure. Through special campaigns, the promise of the Hospital to operate in the black (already clearly evidenced in its present operations) and through contributions from foundations and individuals it is apparent that the loans approved for completion of the Hospital are at last on a sound financial footing. Baptists can be justly proud of the special service which the new complex as an Academic Medical Center will be able to provide in the future.

In light of the above developments, the Hospital rapidly found its former managerial policies woefully outdated and inefficient. Developments in the whole philosophy and range of health care programs, private and public, soon brought the Hospital into a crisis situation: financially, administratively, and philosophically in terms of its future nature and ministry. The Chinese definition of “crisis” as a “dangerous opportunity” aptly fitted the situation! The danger lay in several areas: a change in nature from a general to a referral-teaching hospital; the inevitable involvement with Federal programs; the growing sophistication of health care equipment and programs; the increased financial responsibility to keep pace with modernization and expansion; and the necessity for the parent body to understand these irrevocable developments.

But the opportunities are equally momentous: the challenge for the Hospital to meet the growing need for well equipped, well staffed, modernized Academic Medical Centers; the challenge to become a more efficient service agency for those now qualified as citizens to receive better health care; and the unique opportunity to find new ways of Christian ministry in the health care field.

Since January, 1971, the Hospital has made significant progress in the solution of its many problems, notably in the financial and administrative areas. It can be confidently reported that in these two areas the Hospital sees the "light at the end of the tunnel." The expansion program is moving well on its way to completion. Since 1963 the Hospital and Bowman Gray School of Medicine have become more and more inter-related as an Academic Medical Center, functioning so in fact. However, upon the completion of the expansion program, the relationship of the two calls for clarification and definition sufficient to insure the unique independence of each institution while acknowledging their need for working together as members of the same healing team in the family of state Baptist institutions. Details of this structure will follow in the next section of this report.

Explanation of Recommendation Number One

In light of the foregoing brief resume, our first recommendation is to restate our commitment to remain involved in the healing ministry, while recognizing the changed emphasis as to the type of ministry that it has now become. Our commitment is to the whole range of health care: academic training, and patient service. As well, are we committed to the concept of the wholeness of the person. We continue to see this ministry as a vital part of Christian service. We recognize among the many opportunities this ministry affords for Christian witness, two major concerns unique to our commitment: to provide charity care for situations wherein no third party funds are available for such, and the distinctive contribution possible through the School of Pastoral Care. No less are we concerned that the spirit and principles of Christ should continue to be felt in all areas of the life of these two sister institutions.

We further recognize the necessity to interpret to our people the new opportunities which our shift in emphasis in the health care field now opens to us. To commit ourselves to an academic medical center is no less an opportunity for distinctive Christian service than to maintain a merely general hospital. Both are needed as channels of Christian witness; ours now lies in the area of specialized research, teaching and the treatment of referral cases requiring unique care which we are in a position to supply.

Recommendation Number One

"We firmly recommend, therefore, that Baptist Hospital remain a vital part of the Baptist State Convention; that the working inter-relationships with Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University, be clearly defined so as to protect the integrity of each institution, while at the same time undergirding their mutual responsibility to insure that the medical center function as a distinctive Christian entity while enhancing its scholarly and practical character."

Explanation of Recommendation Number Two

Ever since the affiliation of the North Carolina Baptist Hospital and the Bowman-Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University in 1941, there has been an orderly evolvement of these two institutions of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina into an "academic medical center."

To comprehend the meaning of this title, it should be pointed out that wherein there are over seven thousand "medical centers" throughout the United States, there are only 113 "academic medical centers," i.e., a large hospital in conjunction with a medical school.

Although each component represents a separate organization with its own governmental structure, numerous changes have taken place and others are impending, with respect to the overall health delivery process, which have caused and even dictated a closer relationship and identity between the hospital and its associated school of medicine. The response to these changes has called for the exercise of considerable equanimity and, at times, of restraint by the heads of these related institutions who often must address themselves separately to questions and problems which involve the two collectively. In certain instances the gravity or pressing nature of a given situation and/or problem has made it imperative that one institution act immediately and independently of the other particularly if the advantage of the moment is to be grasped.

Through their years of affiliation The North Carolina Baptist Hospital and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine have become more and more closely allied in their association progressing toward a dependency upon one another resulting in a very dynamic symbiotic coexistence. With the advancement of their overall health delivery objectives, there has developed a vital interdependency between the two such that neither can any longer accomplish its goals without the other. As a consequence of their dependency upon one another, there are mutual and complementary objectives. Through their joint relationship The North Carolina Baptist Hospital is able to provide exemplary patient care as a direct service to the local community and to the State of North Carolina as a general referral center. In addition, the two in combination provide education of the highest quality to students seeking the Doctor of Medicine degree, for specialty training of physicians and for certain allied health workers. Further, the two institutions share the goal and responsibility for the advancement of medical knowledge through basic and allied research.

Because of the interdependency and the administrative complexity of The North Carolina Baptist Hospital and the Bowman-Gray School of Medicine with respect to:

1. Equitable and prompt decision making.
2. Public relations: single voice in matters related to the public at large, the Baptists of North Carolina in specific, to governmental agencies, foundations, individuals, etc.
3. Programming of shared facilities: computer policies, research laboratories, etc.
4. Long Range Objectives: planning in conjunction with the community, regional medical programs, construction goals, overall growth and expansion with respect to staffing, equipment, etc.
5. Fund Development: unified drives for the total center concept.
6. Cost Controls: central funding, central supply and purchasing. Budget review and presentation.

The "Committee of Fifteen" has diligently studied the relationship of these two institutions. As a consequence of its evaluation the "Committee" has come to the realization that some type of unified organizational structure should be worked out and set in operation which would either advise and-or govern the two as a unit and that this entity should be called the "Baptist Medical Center."

How then can a unified organizational structure be worked out between the North Carolina Baptist Hospital and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine?

In essence, how may the "Baptist Medical Center" be brought into existence?

These questions, in a manner of speaking, are post-facto in character. Whether nominally or not, the Baptist Medical Center as a functioning entity is already in existence. This came about as a natural consequence of the numerous areas of interdependency and of overlapping areas of involvement of the two sister institutions. It was necessary that they both move in this direction in order to insure the survival of each organization.

Since the Baptist Medical Center as a concept is already in existence, it is necessary to formalize and expand upon this unit concept working out a definite relationship between the Baptist Hospital and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine within the framework of the Constitutions of each institution and that of the Baptist State Convention in accordance with amendment policies.

Recommendation Number Two

2a. Therefore, the Committee of Fifteen recommends a Baptist Medical Center Board, to be composed of eight trustees to be named from the Wake Forest University Board of Trustees and eight trustees to be named from the Baptist Hospital Trustees. This Baptist Medical Center Board would meet at least four times per year to consider matters involving the Medical Center and its future operation.

Recommendations from this Board should be considered by each parent body with final authority resting with each parent body.

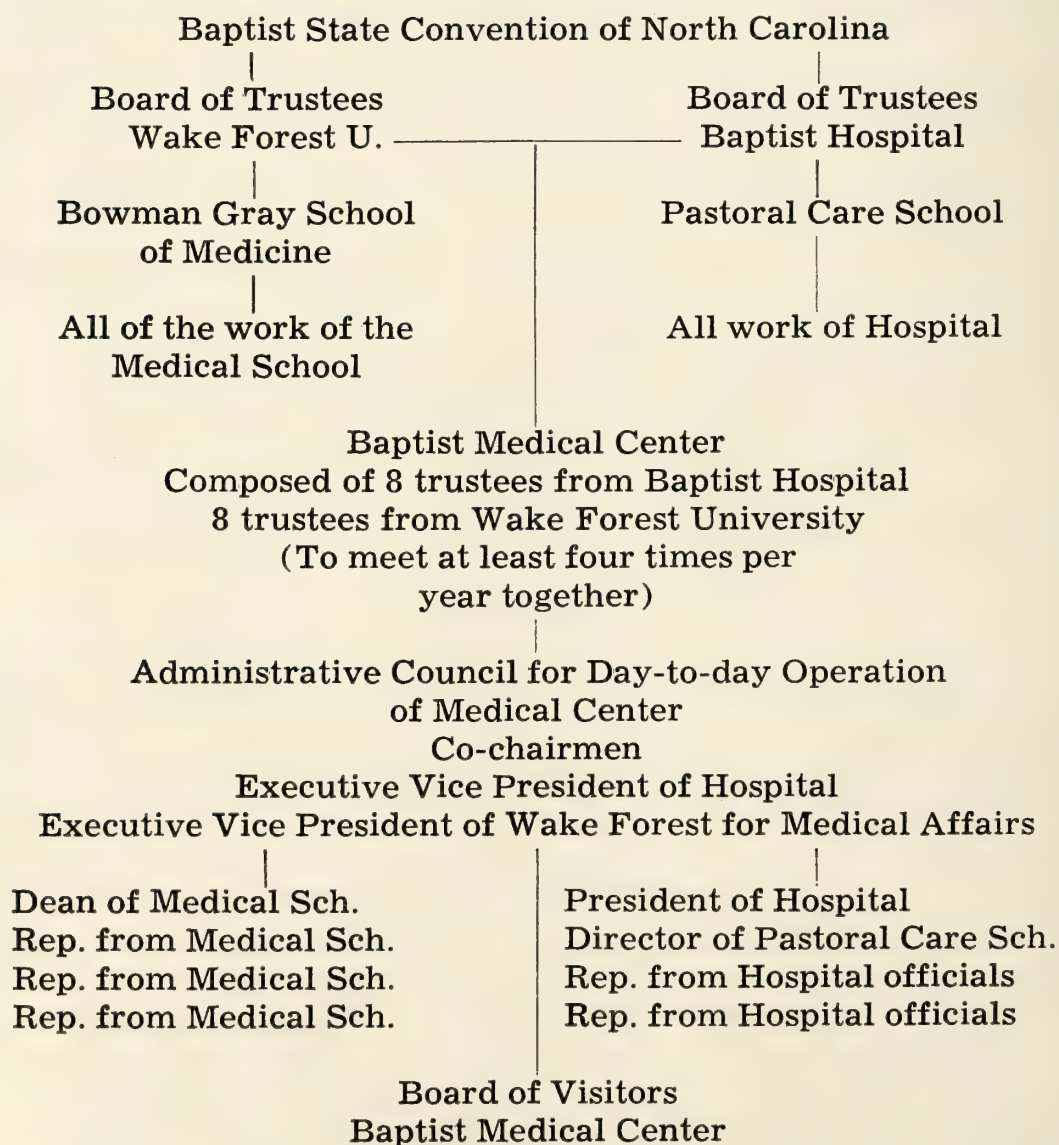

2b. We also recommend an Administrative Council composed of administrative officers of both institutions to handle day-by-day problems of operation of the center. The Council would be composed as follows:

Executive Vice President of the Medical School	} Co-chairmen
Executive Vice President of the Hospital
The dean and 3 representatives of the Medical School
The president, director of Pastoral Care School and 2 representatives of the Hospital administration.

2c. The co-chairmen would alternate on an annual basis as chairman of the Administrative Council.

The Medical Center Board of Visitors would be approved by the governing board of the Baptist Medical Center, and recommendations from the Board of Visitors would be approved by the Baptist Medical Center trustees.

The following chart would indicate the relationship of these groups.

In conclusion the "Committee of Fifteen" believes that through this process of re-structuring of the North Carolina Baptist Hospital and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine as the Baptist Medical Center, the basic goals and objectives of patient care, teaching and research will be better fulfilled than in the past. It further believes that through its Department of Pastoral Care, the Baptist Medical Center should reach out as a missionary healing enterprise which exhibits concern and offers alleviation from distress and suffering to the whole patient—physically, mentally and spiritually.

Explanation of Recommendation Number Three

For several years the Mother's Day Offering has been placed in the general funds of the Hospital. And while the Hospital gave much to people who could not pay, the people who gave the Mother's Day Offering had no way of knowing how many patients they had helped.

In October of 1971, the Hospital began to keep Mother's Day Offering money separate from the other money of the Hospital. Specific cases were given money from the Mother's Day Fund. All of the Mother's Day money was put to charity.

The Committee of Fifteen commends this procedure of using Mother's Day money for specific emergency charity cases, and requests that the Hospital trustees continue this practice. Further, we feel that a committee should be formed from Baptists who live in the Winston-Salem area. This committee would be named by the Hospital trustees. Three or five would be a suitable number. This committee would be available to determine which people should receive this money. The committee could report to Hospital trustees on their stewardship each quarter. The committee could report to the North Carolina Baptist Convention each year.

Recommendation Number Three

That the North Carolina Baptist Hospital use the Mother's Day offering only for charity care.

Explanation of Recommendation Number Four

The sum of money that can be given by North Carolina Baptists to the Mother's Day Offering will never be excessive. One of the reasons Baptists are in the hospital business at all is so that the Hospital we sponsor can do some charity care.

North Carolina Baptist Hospital has always done a sizable amount of charity care. In recent years the amount has lessened due to rising costs of hospital care and the increased availability of public funded programs for the indigent. Uncollected bills for patient care, instead of being written off as "bad debts" have, on occasion, been listed under "charitable care." Strenuous effort is now being made to separate these "bad debts" from genuine charity care.

Nearly 45 per cent of the people in the hospital are receiving help from some source outside themselves. Thus, Baptist Hospital "sells" its medical services for those qualifying under one of the public funded programs. While these programs, plus the probable inception of a national health care program for all citizens in the near future, will greatly reduce the category of "charity care" as known in the past, there will always be emergency cases for which no funds will be available apart from those provided by the hospital and its sponsoring owners, the Baptists of North Carolina. It is these "charity cases" we seek to provide for in this recommendation.

It is the recommendation of the Committee of 15 that the Mother's Day Offering each year be matched in charity services. The sum that is asked of the Hospital is about one tenth of the Hospital's net income on the year. When Hospital Towers is staffed and functioning, the sum that is asked will be even less a burden to the treasurer than a tithe of the Hospital's net income.

The Committee of Fifteen feels that this recommendation is within the capacity of the Hospital's financial resources and within the expectations of North Carolina Baptists as they sponsor the Hospital. Thus, the trustees are requested to implement matching service from the resources of the Hospital in the amount of the Mother's Day Offering each year. This will have a happy effect in all quarters. North Carolina Baptists will be encouraged to give more to the Mother's Day Offering, and the Hospital will justify her Christian purpose, and the poor will have medical care.

The same committee that was suggested for overseeing the Mother's Day Offering money would have the responsibility for reviewing the accounting of the Hospital's matching services.

Recommendation Number Four

That the North Carolina Baptist Hospital match from Hospital services the money that is given by North Carolina Baptists to the Mother's Day Offerings. These matching services would be placed alongside the Mother's Day money for the benefit of those who cannot pay for Hospital care.

Explanation of Recommendation Number Five

Basic to this recommendation is the assumption that North Carolina Baptists are going to stay in the hospital business. The Committee of Fifteen feels that North Carolina Baptists ought to keep the Hospital.

Too many plans have been made at the Hospital without taking into account the basic relationship of Baptist Hospital to North Carolina Baptists. A part of the impact of this Committee's work will be in the restoration of communication. The employees of the Hospital need to be reminded that they are at work for North Carolina Baptist Hospital. North Carolina Baptists need to be reminded that they have an interest in and an obligation to the North Carolina Baptist Hospital.

The Committee of Fifteen asks the trustees of the Hospital to communicate regularly with the North Carolina Baptist Convention. After each trustee meeting a full report should be sent to the president of the North Carolina Baptist Convention, the president of the General Board, and the General Secretary-Treasurer of the Convention. Each advisory board meeting of the trustees should also send reports to the officers of the Convention. This request is made in the hope that the misunderstandings that called the Committee of Fifteen into being will not happen in the future.

Recommendation Number Five

That a serious effort at communication be made by the leadership of the North Carolina Baptist Hospital with North Carolina Baptists.

Explanation of Recommendation Number Six

The Christian religion has much to say to those who suffer. Jesus Christ was a healer and a comforter of people who suffer. The Gospels are filled with instances of his sensitivity for sick people.

North Carolina Baptists are seeking to demonstrate the sensitivity of Jesus in the halls of North Carolina Baptist Hospital. From all over North Carolina and neighboring states the sick come. These sick people are seeking the medical expertise that is a part of the fame of North Carolina Baptist Hospital. But, all of these people are entitled to more than just excellent medical care. Some of these people are so sick until they are not going to get well. They are facing an imminent death. Death is one of life's great crises. The Christian view of death and the Christian hope of immortality, an immortality based on the resurrection of Christ, ought not be left to the chance that the patient will happen to have a doctor or a nurse who holds these views. Built into the total healing ministry of North Carolina Baptist Hospital there should be the availability of this hope to those unfortunates who cannot be healed. The School of Pastoral Care is on the premises. The staff of the School of Pastoral Care is willing to make a Christian ministry available to those who must die.

Most of the people who come to the Hospital will not die. Happily, these people will return to their homes improved in health for their time at North Carolina Baptist Hospital. Yet, the very nature of this Hospital tends to draw to the Hospital very sick people. Serious illness always forces a time of introspection. Illness is a threat. The withdrawal of good health places us in a posture to do a certain kind of thinking that we often neglect. Once again, the School of Pastoral Care has something to say to sick people. The time of introspection that serious illness affords is also a time for openness to the counsel the Christian religion offers. The friends and family of the people who are sick are also open to the help a wise Christian counselor can give. Most of these people are open to the help the Christian gospel provides for the sick.

We believe the School of Pastoral Care has fulfilled an important function in the past and deserves the full support of the Hospital Administration Trustees and the Baptist State Convention in the future.

Recommendation Number Six

We recommend to the Trustees of the Hospital that the Pastoral Care School be given full status as a vital part of the service and care of the Baptist Hospital, and that sufficient funds be provided from the Cooperative Program of North Carolina Baptist State Convention to care for the needs and expansion of this school year-by-year where necessary and possible.

Statistical Reports

TED W. WILLIAMS, Director

MRS. LAFATA LUSK, Office Secretary

MRS. AVENELLE KING, Office Secretary

The following information was supplied by the clerks of the eighty (80) Baptist Associations in North Carolina. We greatly appreciate the faithful service they have rendered in compiling the statistical data. These reports are based on the associational year, and the financial figures are not the same as those based on the calendar year reported by our Convention business office.

Items marked (*) give latest data available.

Items marked () give total expenditures.

Churches not reporting: Indicated by (1), (2), or (3)

(1) First year not reporting—previous year's report will be carried, except for baptisms, additions by letter, number of missions operated by church, and Vacation Bible School enrollment.

(2) Second consecutive year not reporting—latest total membership only will be carried.

(3) Third consecutive (and subsequent) year not reporting—no figures carried, but will be counted as a church. (A church will be counted until verification is received from the association that a subject church has been disaffiliated from said association.)

AUDITOR'S REPORT

Auditor's Statement

GENERAL BOARD OF THE

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheet of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina as of December 31, 1972 and the related statements of income and changes in fund balances for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. The statements, which are a part of this report show the condition of the General, Education and Social Service Institutions Funds at December 31, 1972, and the results of the income and expenses for the year then ended. The statements of the North Carolina Baptist Assembly and the Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute cover the operations for the period of twelve months ended December 31, 1972, and, in addition, give a reconciliation of cash. The funds shown as sent direct are taken from reports received by the Convention and were not otherwise verified by us.

All recorded cash receipts were found to be promptly deposited in the bank and disbursements were supported by cancelled checks, invoices or other evidence, with expenses properly classified. Our examination did not disclose any evidence of irregularities and we believe the funds have been carefully and honestly handled and accounted for.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and statements of income and expenses and funds balances present fairly the financial position of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina at December 31, 1972, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to such organizations, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted
